PRESBYTERIANS ARE URGED TO TAKE UP WHITE SLAVE ISSUE

Enormous Violations of 7th Commandment Also Suggested to Investigators.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—Investigation of the whole question of white slavery was strongly urged here today on the northern assembly of the Presbyterian church by its committee on bills and overtures. Spurred to action by the efforts of Chicago delegates the committee prepared a resolution ordering the appointment of a special committee of nine to consider the "enormous violations of the seventh commandment and the church's duty toward the youth and the family life of the nation and toward those whose foul interests are corrupting and threatening the very life of the nation."

The report of the northern assembly's foreign missions committee showed expenditures last year of nearly $2,000,000.

The southern assembly resented the action of a former assembly in depriving the church executive committee of the right to elect field and other secretaries. It restored the power to the assembly itself.

No feature of the strawberry carnival has proved more popular than the parade of babies that moved promptly on time from the courthouse this morning.

Baby buggies decorated with ripe strawberries and strawberry blossoms, perambulators covered with roses, baby cars decorated with snowballs and laces, daintily dressed darlings driving their older sisters tandem, evoked the cheers of a large crowd that had come from all over southern Oregon. The judges were Mrs. L. N. Roney of Eugene, P. H. Harth of Portland and C. A. Cogshell, Berkeley, Cal.

First prize in the perambulator division went to Thomas Allen Bigger, 7 months old; first prize in the push cart division to Le Roy Swank, 7 1/2 years old; first in the car division to Lucy May Munson, 7 months old, and Stanley Ferrine, 2 years old.

At 4 p. m. there will be an automobile and cowboy parade, and in the evening there will be a concert by the Chemawa band and a dance at the Armyory.

SURGEON AMPUTATES RIVAL'S LEG, THEREBY WINNING SWEETHEART

Spanish Diplomat Sues Famous Physician Alleging Needless Sacrifice of Limb.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madrid, May 22.—A remarkable love story has been revealed by the filing of a damage suit in which Don Gomez Lopez de Navarrete, prominent Barcelona diplomat, sues Dr. Dolores Del Pozo, famous Spanish surgeon, for the loss of a leg and, incidentally, the loss of a sweetheart.

Navarrete and Pozo were rivals for the hand of Dolores Del Pozo, a Romanesque, a relative of the premier, who had shocked her blue-blooded family by going on the stage. For some time she could not make up her mind and the rival fought a duel, in which Navarrete was wounded in the leg.

Immediately Dolores rushed to the wounded man's bedside and told him that he was the man of her choice and that she would help nurse him back to health and strength. The leg, however, got worse, and Dolores suggested calling in Pozo.

The famous surgeon looked at the leg and declared that gangrene had set in and that amputation was the only thing to save Navarrete's life. The operation was performed, but Dolores concluded she could not marry a one-legged man. She married the surgeon and Navarrete, who had become suspicious, consulted his original doctors. They ridiculed the idea of gangrene and declared there was no necessity for the operation at all. The diplomat is now demanding reparation for the loss of his limb and for the alienation of his sweetheart's affections.
