Wells of the Pacific Power & Light company. speaker of the day the club expects to hear a very interesting report from Professor E. H. McCallister of avenue. All cars transfer to Dekum the University of Oregon, who is on avenue cars. through California, where he went to inspect the public road work now being done by the state under recent ap-propriations totalling about $30,000,000. Since the state of Oregon has made appropriations for similar purposes it is very essential that as much information on this subject be secured as possible before this state dissipates any of the funds unwisely. At this meeting of the Technical club there will be inaugurated a new form of commission government for the future management of the club and all members wishing to cast first, second or third choice votes are urged to be

Jury Dodgers Fined.—Becoming tired of the repeated efforts of M. Barde and L. B. Barde, members of the firm of M. Barde & Sons, to escape jury duty, Circuit Ludge, McCircuit Circuit Judge McGinn yesterday issued brought into court and assessed each $25 in fines. Both failed to respond to the calling of their names for jury member of a jury several days ago, failed to put in his appearance an hour after court was called and has been excused from jury duty frequently because he answered questions in a manner which disqualified

Business Girls' Club.—Business Girls' club, at its meeting tomorrow night, will be favored with a talk by A. E. Gebhardt on how to vote under the new charter. The musical part of the and every meeting adds more members. One feature which makes the club popular is that the tedious details of $1310.02 and with but $683.78 assets, the management of the club are eliminated as far as possible from the regube cultivated among the members.

whree Are Given Divorces.—Too much small printing shop. mother-in-law was the ground of the divorce granted to Amanda M from Thomas F. McCabe yesterday by Circuit Judge Kavanaugh. Mrs. Mc-Cabe testified that her husband insisted on keeping his mother with them and upheld her when she became domineering. Divorce decrees were also granted by Judge Kavanaugh to Francis J. Baldwin from Henry T. Baldwin and to Ethel Carrothers from James H. Carrothers, both on grounds of cruelty.
