WEDNESDAY
SALESIdeal Coat Dresses at $8.50
That Usually Sell for $12.00

—These attractive novelty dresses are quite the rage in the East and echo the latest Paris fad. At the races, at polo games, on the street, and, in fact, every place where the tailored suit is worn, these new coat dresses are being seen. They have the advantage of the "trim" appearance of the suit without the additional warmth and inconvenience of the coat and extra blouse. In fact, they combine the advantages of the one-piece dress with those of the two-piece suit.

—They are made of fine imported cotton eponge, in pretty shades of blue, pink and tan. The skirt is white, while the jacket is of solid color, with Byron collar, piped with white and trimmed with fancy buttons. The waist is finished with a nobby white leather belt.

Colonial Glass Vases

—These attractive vases are made of clear, highly polished crystal, and especially useful at the present rose season. Nasturtiums and sweet peas will look pretty in the smaller ones, while the taller vases were designed for long stemmed roses. Much of the charm of a rose is lost if the stem is not visible, and this Colonial crystal magnifies the size of stem and leaves, making them appear like small trees. Some of the sizes and prices are listed.
