Twenty-one girls in domestic science and art, 18 in commerce, and three in pharmacy, complete the roll which will assemble on the platform Tuesday morning.

Impressive ceremonies will mark the transition of the class of 1913 from the class room to their various walks of life. The baccalaureate exercises will be held on Sunday morning, in the gymnasium. For this occasion, Rev. Father Edwin V. O'Hara, of Portland, will deliver the sermon. The church choir of Corvallis have combined to furnish fitting music for the services. Each year the diplomas are given at the time of graduation. Tuesday morning, a graduation recital during the week previous to commencement. The recitals during the past week were of a very high order, and were very largely attended.

The list of graduates has been published in The Journal.

BIG COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON FOR SENATORS

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, June 7.—Hiram W. Wise, newly appointed postmaster at Astoria, wires that he has sent a 42 pound Royal Chinook salmon to Senators Lane and Chamberlain.

The senate Indian committee has named Senator Lane a member of the sub-committee to prepare an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill providing funds to enable Indian commissioners to submit estimates for appropriations in accordance with Lane's suggestion.

Senator Chamberlain has made an unsuccessful effort to secure an appointment to West Point for William McIndoe of Portland, son of Major McIndoe, U. S. A. The young man passed the mental examination with high rating in general competition of candidates selected at large by the president, but failed physically on account of minor defects in hearing.

PACIFIC TELEPHONE CO. RESTS ON CONSTITUTION

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, June 7.—Erecting as their shield the constitution of the United States, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph filed a petition in the United States district court here today asking that the board of supervisors be restrained from putting into effect either an ordinance the board had adopted lowering rates or one adopted by the people at a recent initiative election.

The telephone company claims that the supervisors' ordinance would reduce its income to less than 3 per cent on the value of the property and that the initiative ordinance would bring it to less than 2 per cent. For this reason, the company charges, both of the ordinances are unconstitutional and confiscatory.

PIONEER CANBY FIRM SHOWS EXPANSION

New Carleton & Rosenkrans store, which is of reinforced concrete.

(Special to The Journal.)
Canby, Or., June 7.—Twenty-four years ago two young men, E. H. Carleton and F. A. Rosenkrans, started with a party of five for Oregon from Flint, Mich. They concluded to link their fortunes together and deal in timber lands. After two years of this they concluded that a general merchandise store in a growing community would be more to their liking, and after considerable inspection decided on Canby as a promising field. By utilizing the last of their meager capital they were able to start in a small way under the firm name of Carleton & Rosenkrans.

Last fall work was started on a new building to house their business. The building is fireproof, of reinforced concrete construction, and was built by F. E. Dodge, a local contractor. It occupies a plot 100x100, with two floors above ground and a full basement 106x106, giving 31,596 square feet of floor space. One feature of great importance to the country trade is the monster shed in the rear of the store, built on land owned by the firm around three sides of a plot 100x100, providing stalls for 30 teams.

The present firm is composed of E. H. Carleton, F. A. Rosenkrans, George Fletcher and E. E. Bradt, the latter two of whom have grown up with the business and have been taken into partnership. Beside their controlling interest in this establishment, Messrs. Carleton and Rosenkrans are also among the largest property owners and stockholders and are directors in the Canby Bank & Trust company, the Molalla State Bank of Molalla, and the Rober Machinery company of Portland.

STEEL PLANT MAY USE WATER POWER

C. E. Potter, Formerly of Chicago, Enthusiastic Over Oregon's Opportunity.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 7.—C. E. Potter, formerly superintendent of the Illinois Steel company's plant in South Chicago and generally considered an authority on iron and steel questions, expresses confidence in State Engineer Lewis' idea of the possibilities for a great steel manufacturing plant to utilize the great amount of power now going to waste in the Columbia river. Mr. Lewis believes this power can be harnessed and sold at a price so low that manufacturers would flock to obtain it.

In a letter to the state engineer, Mr. Potter says:
"I have had occasion since you were here to go considerably more into the detail of electric steel manufacture, especially with respect to rails, tires and other railway material, and I am convinced that electric steel will displace open hearth and Bessemer steel as rapidly as it can be supplied. The few electric rails that are now in service, some 8000 tons, are giving truly remarkable results, and the same is true of locomotive tires.

"The roads are eager for electric steel even at the present high premium, as they realize that its use will pretty nearly solve the serious difficulties under which they are now laboring with other kinds of steel. It is entirely possible for you to establish an immense industrial center adjacent to your proposed power development, and I sincerely hope you can make the people of Oregon realize and appreciate this. It would make Oregon a great manufacturing state, a consummation well worth whatever preliminary preliminary outlay that may be necessary to its accomplishment."

JAMES ARTHUR BAKER IN PRISON AT LAST

Riverside, Cal., June 7.—After leading pursuing officers a chase over half the continent, during which time he escaped twice and was recaptured, James Arthur Baker was sentenced today for 10 years' imprisonment at San Quentin for obtaining money under false pretenses. He obtained $1400 from the National bank of Riverside by means of fictitious postoffice money orders.

After fleeing to Kansas City, Baker was captured and was started toward California. He escaped at Albuquerque, N. M., and Flagstaff, Ariz., but was recaptured after a week's chase in each instance.

took an emetic, throwing off some of the poison. Doctors say he is liable to suffer a relapse at any hour now, as the mercury is slowly dissolving the tissues of his kidneys.

"Half an hour after I took the stuff I realized my mistake," said Wilson. "I read in the papers about the death of B. Sanders Walker, of Macon, Ga., but never supposed I would suffer the same fate. He was game and so am I. I'll take what is coming to me without a whimper."

INDIAN ACTORS AT TACOMA STAMPEDE

Annual Summer Festival in the City of Destiny Promises Exciting Entertainment.

Tacoma, Wash., June 7.—Indians, like a return of the real frontier days, in all their war paint and feathers, with topes and prized race ponies, will be a part of the Stadium Stampede to be shown in Tacoma on the afternoons of July 2 and 3, and the evening of July 4, a part of the Montanara Feste.

There will be a regular camp of the Redskins from the Umatilla, Or. reservation established in Tacoma which the public will be allowed to visit, and which will be open June 24. The Indians will take part in the horse race of the stampede, and will give such novelties as war and tribal dances. Some of their costumes are valued at more than $1000, and one with 500 elk teeth on it, at $5000.

Twelve cars will be required to bring Tacoma's big equipment here for the stampede, including 200 head of livestock and the big bunch of cowboys and cowgirls that will be assembled. The list of star trick riders, broncho busters, ropers, etc., has now grown to nearly 30, and includes men and women who have won world's titles in their various lines. They, too, will be established in an open camp which, with its corral, may be visited by the public.

Festo spectators this year will be treated to a week of the best amusement money can buy, without the usual fatiguing effects of such a holiday. July 2 and 3 will be the stampede days, one of which Tacoma merchants will receive their out of town tradespeople. July 4 will be the parade of all nations, one of the most elaborate affairs of its kind ever attempted in the northwest, and in the evening the stampede. It concludes with a costly display of aerial fireworks. July 5 will be the auto race and in the downtown section, in charge of the Ad club. Sunday afternoon will be the Montanara auto event, and Sunday evening will be a grand sacred concert in the stadium.

MAXIMUM OF CREDITS AT P.-U. ESTABLISHED

(Special to The Journal.)
Pacific University, Forest Grove, Or., June 7.—According to a recent amendment to the student body constitution a certain valuation will be placed upon the different school activities, and each student limited in the number of credits that may be taken in the various courses. Seventeen points for the men and 14 for the young women have been chosen as the maximum number each may carry. Up to the present time several of the students have borne the brunt of the work to the detriment of their college standing, and it is thought that the new ruling will eliminate the one sided condition of affairs. The points are judged in accordance with the amount of time spent in each of the various activities. The valuation follows:

Student body—President, 5; treasurer, 3; secretary, 1; glee club, 4; orchestra, 4; manager, 6; Tennis, 4; manager, 6; Football, 6; manager, 8; captain, 8; Basketball, 6; manager, 7; captain, 7; Track, 6; manager, 6; captain, 6; Literary society—President, 5; secretary, 4; treasurer, 4. ## GOVERNMENT PAYS DEBTS TO INDIANS

Claims Against U. S. for Tillamook Land Settled After 65 Years.

(Special to The Journal.)
Newport, Or., June 7.—A notable and unique document was signed in Newport this week. One of the signers was "Billy Dick" chief of what is said to be the last remnant of the Tillamook tribe of Indians; the other signer was a special commissioner representing the United States government.

"Billy Dick" accompanied by a dozen Indians, all that is left of a tribe of over 500, made the 60 mile trip from north of Salmon river to meet the commissioner from Washington. After the signatures were attached the government turned over to the Indians $10,500. This money is in settlement of a claim which in 1835 was made by the government of land obtained by the government from the Indians in Tillamook county. The tribe was at that time about 500 strong and the land sold embraced thousands of acres of what now comprises the fertile dairy ranches and hay farms.

FIRE LOSS $3 FOR EACH CITIZEN; MOSSY ROOFS CONTRIBUTING FACTOR

The fire loss in Portland for the year of 1912 was $3 per capita, or a total of $807,000, according to a statement made by deputy City Fire Marshal W. R. Roberts in a letter he has issued to the residents of this city. Mr. Roberts warns home owners that the danger from fire is greatly increased by allowing roofs to be overgrown with moss.

"The time has come," reads the letter, "for a general cleaning up of roofs. The warm weather is here and the danger from sparks lighting on mossy roofs cannot be overestimated. In the event of a large fire sparks and cinders dropping on moss covered roofs in the immediate neighborhood make a very hard situation for the fire department to face. While the fire loss for Portland in 1912 was $3 per capita, that of Seattle was only $1.33, and that of Los Angeles only $1.52.

"In 1912 I sent out warning notices and upward of 1500 roofs were cleaned. Notices are now being sent out again and it is earnestly hoped that property owners of the city, or persons owning a very hard situation for the fire department to face. While the fire loss for Portland in 1912 was $3 per capita, that of Seattle was only $1.33, and that of Los Angeles only $1.52.

RUPTURE IS CURABLE

Results Not Influenced by Age or Time Standing, Says Expert.

Rupture is not a tear or break in the abdominal wall, as commonly supposed, but is the stretching or dilating of a natural opening, therefore subject to closure, said F. H. Seeley, on a late visit to Portland.

The Spermatic Shield Truss closes the opening in 10 days on the average case, producing results without surgery or harmful injections. Mr. Seeley has documents from the government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. Anyone interested will be shown the truss or fitted if desired. Sold and fitted only by Laue-Davis Drug Co., sole and exclusive agents for Oregon.

Other firms advertising and selling imitation "Seeley" Spermatic Shield Trusses are impostors. Look for the word "patented" on each Spermatic corrugated shield.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE REALIZES MISTAKE

Bruce Wilson Willing to Die If Necessary, But Prefers to Live.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Columbus, Ohio, June 7.—"What's the use of kicking? If you have to die you can't help yourself. I always said I was ready for death when my time came."

With this declaration, Bruce Wilson, 48, who three days ago swallowed two bichloride of mercury tablets by mistake, yawned and turned over on his hospital cot, dozed off to sleep. Physicians said tonight his chances of recovery are very slim, but Wilson laughs at their prediction of death and declares he is going to live.

"I'm not going to die," he said today. "I'm going to get well and hunt for work next week. I'll be broke by the time I get out of here."

Wilson's hope for recovery lies in the fact that 30 minutes after he took the tablets he realized his mistake and
