SOCIALLY the first annual Rex Ball given by the Royal Rosarians last evening at the Multnomah hotel was a charming affair. A...

The ball room was beautifully decorated with an artistic combination of colors in harmony with the draping of the room. Fox gloves were used with vine maple leaves, their red golden brown and yellow tones giving splendid effect.

The patrons and patronesses were: Governor and Mrs. Oswald West, Mayor and Mrs. A. G. Rushlight, Grand Duke of Rosaria and Mrs. H. L. Pittcock, Prince of Rosaria and Mrs. R. W. Hoyt,...

Much of the success of the affair is due to the untiring work of the ladies' reception committee, which was as follows: Mesdames Frederick Hyskell, chairman; F. A. Freeman, vice chairman,...

The floor committee was Robert Krohn, chairman; Frank E. Smith, vice chairman, Frederick T. Haskell, Frank McCrillis, O. T. Bortzmeier, C. F. Berg,...

Many beautiful gowns were worn, of which the following are but a few which were noticed: Mrs. Pittcock was attired in yellow charmeuse with an overdraped black chantilly.

Mrs. William J. Hofmann wore an apricot satin with elaborations of gold and crystal beaded chiffon. Mrs. Franklin Freeman was gowned in a charming white Italian lace robe made over white satin.

Mrs. Hyskell wore a copper toned charmeuse with cream lace trimming. Mrs. Guy E. Anderson was gowned in pink silk and shadow lace and applique trimming.

Mrs. George Hutchins was attired in a Bulgarian blue charmeuse with a black spangled overdraped. Mrs. Pearson of New York, wife of Commander H. A. Pearson, was beautifully gowned in shell pink brocaded charmeuse with a shoulder drape of chiffon of the same shade edged with iridescent beads.

Mrs. Edgar E. Piper was gowned in steel gray satin with black chiffon drapes. Miss Constance Piper wore an attractive gown of white charmeuse with overdress of royal blue marquisette and girle of cerise.

Mrs. N. T. Ledger of Los Angeles was attired in steel charmeuse with touches of black chiffon and white lace. Mrs. Roy O. Yates was attractively gowned in white brocade with bodice of chantilly and chiffon.

Mrs. James Douglas was gowned in rose red cut velvet with white charmeuse and crystal beaded trimming. Mrs. Hestia Leahy was gowned in orchid lavender flowered chiffon with a combination of white lace.

Mrs. Frank Cummings of Pasadena wore a white lingerie with touches of light blue trimming. Miss Thora Main was copper hued satin with white chiffon drape with crystal beaded border.

Mrs. G. W. Colby of Oakland, Cal., was beautifully gowned in violet crepe meoteur with elaborations of gold applique and cream lace. Mrs. H. L. Dunagan of Oakland was gowned in white net fashioned over white silk with a drape with pink beaded border.

Mrs. A. K. Bennett of Pasadena wore a white charmeuse gown with an overdress of black chantilly. Miss Ida Marshall was gowned in pink satin with overdress of white lace. Mrs. George Primrose wore American Beauty chiffon made over white charmeuse.

Mrs. J. P. Marshall was attired in white chiffon with trimmings of rhinestones. Miss Florence Jacobson of Oakland wore a white brocaded charmeuse with lace bodice. Mrs. Frank Riggs wore a royal blue satin with over drape of black net. Miss Mabel Riggs was gowned in light blue chiffon.

Miss Crystal Hyland wore turquoise blue crepe de chine with white lace trimmings. Miss Constance Hyland wore a white lingerie frock with blue trimmings. Mrs. A. L. Fish was beautifully gowned in Nile green crepe meoteur trimmed with princess lace.

Mrs. Frank McCrillis was gowned in light blue crepe de chine with white lace bodice and trimming of Rhine stones. Mrs. William I. Morgan was gowned in apricot flowered chiffon trimmed with gold embroidery.

Mrs. William D. Card of Pasadena wore a beautiful imported gown of white Chinese crepe with an elaborate embroidered pattern. Mrs. Frank E. Smith wore black charmeuse with gold embroidery trimming.

Mrs. Herman J. Blaessing was gowned in white charmeuse with trimming of white lace and Rhine stones. Mrs. Edward Young of Oakland was gowned in electric blue crepe de chine with elaborations of white lace.

Miss Maude Singer was gowned in pink chiffon with rose bud trimming. Mrs. Lilly McCauley wore a black brocaded and white lace bodice. Mrs. H. A. Elliot was attired in king's blue charmeuse which shaded to a copper tone, made with an over dress of black lace.

For Miss Crichton. Miss Josephine Cronan has sent out cards for a tea Tuesday afternoon of next week to compliment Miss Ruby Crichton, whose engagement was recently announced to James M. Ambrose. About 50 of the younger set are bidden to enjoy the afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Lecture Friday, June 20. Dr. Clement B. Shaw's translation of the Prithiof's Saga, the masterpiece of the northland's literature, and called "The Hero of Scandinavia," will be of great interest to students of Norse mythology and the customs of the old Viking life therein portrayed will be given June 20 at Christensen's hall. Dr. Shaw's translation is in the original meter and elaborately illustrated by 200 artistic stereoscopic views in color.

Mrs. Carl O. Young, of the Columbia School of Oratory, Chicago, who will assist Dr. Shaw, is a reader of wide reputation. The Handel Vocal society will render one number from the Oratorio of Samson, by Handel.

Other assisting singers will contribute to the unique program. Prior to the program Artist Knowles will exhibit his celebrated painting of Priscilla and other art works.

Derr-McCully Wedding. Philadelphia, June 11.—Her many friends in far off Oregon will be interested to know of the marriage of Miss Cecil McCulloch, formerly of Salem, to Claude A. Derr, in this city, yesterday. The ceremony, performed in the presence of a few relatives, was conducted by Rev. C. P. Wiles of the Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Derr will spend a few days in New York city and then proceed to Schenectady, N. Y., where they will make their home. The bride is quite widely known in Oregon, having been a former student at Monmouth normal and resided in Salem for a number of years. The groom is manager of a shoe house in Schenectady.

Royal Neighbors at Home. Officers and members of Oregon Rose Camp Royal Neighbors of America will be at home to all visiting Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen in the city this evening in the Royal Academy hall, 55 1/2 Fifth street. Mrs. June L. Vailant, Mrs. Jessie Barnum, Mrs. Jennie Hollist, Mrs. Fannie Smoeh and Mrs. Katie Clintenaar are on the reception committee.

Miss Nancy Shannon Monroe, author of "Making a Business Woman," will spend this summer at her home in Woodstock. She expects to do some mountain climbing while in the northwest. Also some special articles for eastern publications.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson and daughter, Ethel, of Seattle, are in the city for a few days, guests of her mother, Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, of 750 Corbett street.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Catlan during the month of June are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Branch and daughter, Catherine, of Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. W. S. Pullen, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Portland and the Willamette valley the past two months, left Wednesday evening for her home in Juneau, Alaska. Mrs. Pullen was accompanied by her little daughter, Elisabeth.

Mrs. W. M. Foley, of Ashland, has been the guest of Mrs. Alfred H. Brown, of University Park, during Rose Carnival week.

Reorganization of the Portland Fair and Livestock association, now in receivership, for the purpose of closing up the affairs of the concern, has been undertaken by Joseph J. Henry, who owns about one fifth of the first mortgage bond of the company. The plan is to put the assets in such shape that a distribution may be made to security holders, and that they may fare to better advantage than they would under the receivership system. It is not planned to attempt to continue the activities of the association, which has never been given necessary financial support. The association has valuable holdings at the Country club.

E. F. ROCKFELLOW DIES IN CALIFORNIA CITY Eugene F. Rockfellow, a pioneer of Oregon, died in Sissone, Cal., on June 8, 1913 and was buried in the family plot at Ashland, Or., on Wednesday, June 18, 1913.

Mr. Rockfellow was born in Ashland, Or., on November 18, 1859, of pioneer parents. In his youth he married the married Rosemond Eubanks and removed to San Diego, Cal., where he lived for a number of years.

Of late years his home has been in Seattle, but he had business interests in Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Sissone, Cal., where he had a large body of land. He was visiting this place and superintending work on his ranch when he died. He is survived by his wife and three children—Don E. Rockfellow, locating engineer for the Southern Pacific company at Coos Bay; Albert Rockfellow, dentist at Sissone, Cal.; and Ruth Rockfellow of Seattle. He has a host of friends and relatives in Oregon.

Philadelphia trade organizations are discussing plans to merge into one large body.

VISITING OAKLAND WOMEN ENTHUSIASTIC

Left to right—Miss Rose McCauley, Mrs. F. A. Freeman and Mrs. Frederick Hyskell of Portland, Mrs. Fred Suelberger, Mrs. T. A. Wood, Mrs. H. P. Roach, Mrs. Abrahamson and Mrs. E. C. Kayser of Oakland.

There are no more delightful or interesting women in attendance at the Rose Festival than those accompanying the Oakland delegation, the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the Royal Oaks. For some of them this is the first glimpse of Portland, but they are so enthusiastic that they declare it will not be their last.

"Since Oregon women have the ballot we feel more than ever that we have much in common," commented one of the women. "We hear of nothing but good things of equal suffrage in your state. With us it is no longer an experiment, the advantage of women wielding their influence at the polls is being felt throughout the state."

hospitals, have something to learn from you Portland people for you have extended the most gracious hospitality to us with a truly lavish hand. Not only have we been shown the beauties of your city and enjoyed your beautiful pageants but you have kept us supplied with the most gorgeous roses, the equal of which we have never seen before, verily yours is the Rose City, whose beauty, fragrance and hospitality the Oakland delegation will never forget. "Come to Oakland, the latch-string is always out."

Apparently suffering from the delusion that he was being watched, an idea brought on by a nervous breakdown which had kept him confined to his rooms for a week, George W. Bancroft, son of former Postmaster Fred A. Bancroft, disappeared from the home of his brother, A. C. Bancroft, at Garden Home Tuesday afternoon.

Since then the family, aided by Deputy Sheriff Curtis and Lumsden have kept up an unremitting search and have failed to find any trace of the missing man.

When Bancroft disappeared he wore a green colored mohair shirt, black overalls and leather slippers. He carried no money, papers or valuables of any sort. He left the house about 5 o'clock in the evening, and although he had been gone only a few minutes before a search was started, no clues were found to even indicate the direction he had taken.

Mr. Bancroft had been in the employ of the government as a clerk to the weigher and gauger in the United States custom office. He took out a sick leave recently when his nervous system gave way following a long battle against stomach trouble. He was visiting his brother in the hope that rest and outdoor life would give him the needed opportunity to recuperate.

The missing man is described as weighing about 170 pounds, 5 feet 10 inches in height, dark complexioned, dark brown eyes and hair and when last seen, smooth shaven. He walks with a slight limp. He is 32 years old and single.

Eleven automobile owners were before the municipal traffic law during the automobile parade Wednesday. These were H. E. Alger, lumberman, president of Luedeman, Ruley company; W. A. Cadwell, auto dealer; J. K. Turck, contractor; E. J. Hall, merchant; C. E. Greele, manufacturer; E. A. McGrath, real estate dealer; Miss Gretchen Klosterman, W. W. Boelen, J. H. French and George F. Brice.

In each case the owner had left his auto on the parade route and the automobile parade was scheduled to move. Captain of Police Moore several days ago had printed several hundred cards, warning all auto owners of this matter. Patrolmen were also instructed to keep the streets clear of autos, but more than 60 have been reported on this violation. Fines of $2.50 are being given by Judge Taxwell in each case.

Mayor-elect Albee and the members of the new commission which will take office July 1 held an informal meeting yesterday, but contrary to expectations the matter of appointing various municipal officers whose terms expire this month was not discussed.

The commission learned that it will not be able to have an administrative code drawn by the New York Bureau of Municipal Research at the expense of the Taxpayers' League. However, City Attorney Frank S. Grant and Chief Deputy City Auditor S. Grute are preparing a code which, it is believed, will be satisfactory with minor changes that may be suggested by the commissioners.

MARY HINMAN, AGE 62, NATIVE DAUGHTER, DIES (Special to The Journal.) Forest Grove, Or., June 12.—Miss Mary Hinman, aged 62 years, died at the family home in this city yesterday after a short illness. Miss Hinman was born in Patton valley, and spent her entire life in this county. She was the daughter of the late Alanson and Mrs. Hinman.

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN OF PORTLAND ADDS HER NAME TO LONG LIST

MRS. SADIE ELLIS, WELL KNOWN HERE, REPORTS ON PLANT JUICE BENEFITS.

MRS. SADIE ELLIS. Modern women are quick to grasp anything that is new and of real value or merit and the women of Portland have been very generous in their praise of Plant Juice because they have found from personal tests that it is just what it is claimed to be.

My health has not been good for twenty years. For that length of time I have suffered from rheumatism and stomach trouble, lately my stomach has been in very bad condition—in fact I do not see how it could be worse. Everything I ate caused me great distress. I would blot up, have pains around my heart and shortness of breath. I had most distressing dizzy spells and my whole system seemed affected from my stomach. I tried everything I heard of, it seemed to me, but nothing helped me much and I felt discouraged, but so many told me about Plant Juice and I read so much about it in the papers I thought I would try and see if it would help me too. I have taken three bottles and my condition is much improved in every way. I feel more like myself than I have for many years. My stomach is in good condition. I eat anything now without any trouble afterwards. The pains around my heart have disappeared and my rheumatism is much better and improving every day. Plant Juice has done so much for me that I feel like telling others about it. Plant Juice tones up the stomach and digestive organs, clears the blood of all poisons and impurities, dissolves and removes the uric acid which causes rheumatism, stimulates the torpid liver into healthy action, corrects constipation and eradicates malaria from the system. The man is at the Owl Drug Co., store, Seventh and Washington streets. He will refund your money if Plant Juice does not help you.
