

SCHOOL YEAR ENDS AT McMINVILLE

Degrees Are Granted Large Class at Old Baptist College.

(Special to The Journal.)
McMinville, Or., June 13.—Commencement festivities at old McMinville college closed Wednesday with the regular exercises of the college graduates and the presentation of diplomas, which took place at the Baptist church. Degrees of bachelors of arts were conferred upon Margaret Larue Campbell of McMinville, Wendell I. Miller of Salem, Anna Elizabeth Foster of Burton, Wash.
Bachelor of philosophy upon John F. Mason of Willard, Wash.; Francis Gordon Pettit of Tacoma, Wash.
Bachelor of arts on Willard L. Hayes of Rickreall, Or.; Burehard A. Hylton of Lyle, Wash., and Everett S. Burkhett of Washington, D. C.
Bachelor of science upon Veda R. Rhodes of McMinville and Margaret L. Campbell of McMinville.
Bachelor of music upon Paul Blackstone, Eleanor L. Stockton of Adams, Or., for the course in voice; E. Mabel Boydston of Independence and Olga C. Norgren of Vancouver, Wash.
Preparatory course diplomas were granted George Jay Colvin and Evelyn Gladys Ballard.
Amateurs certificates to Beth Myrtle Ellwell, Libbie E. Marley, Ethel Ranney, Florence Ruby Smith and Wilda I. Weeks.
The trustees also made the following faculty appointments: Miss Ida May Pope, a graduate of Stevens college, Columbia, Mo., will succeed Miss Eileen M. Hessinger as teacher in stenography. Professor Olof Larsell was granted a leave of absence and will spend one year at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., where he was awarded a scholarship. Professor F. G. Bough-ton will again be summer secretary and will visit various places in behalf of an increased student body. Raymond E. Culver will be an instructor in voice in the conservatory of Professor E. Van Osdel will be director of athletics. Miss Edna M. Scott and Luther Taylor will again be assistants in the chemistry department.
One of the pleasant features of this commencement was the celebration of the quarter-centennial of Dean Emanuel Northup, who for 25 years has been an instructor in McMinville college, and plans are on foot to endow a chair of mathematics in his honor. In the raising of $25,000 for this purpose the alumni will take an active part.

DR. MARIE EQUI RUNS COUNTER TO BEN OLCOTT

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 13.—Dr. Marie D. Equi of Portland, president of the league advocating an eight hour law for women workers in this state, has declared war on the authority given the secretary of state to promulgate regulations for initiative petitions. She notified the secretary of state yesterday that she had been advised to disregard a form of initiative petition he had prepared and that she would proceed to circulate a petition of the league's own design.
It is also understood that the Eight Hour League is preparing to bring a mandamus suit to compel the secretary of state, if possible, to submit the initiative petition at the special referendum election next November, if such an election is held.
In the last session of the legislature an eight hour measure for women workers was passed by the house and killed in the senate by a substantial vote. A strong lobby appeared against the measure, there being protests from manufacturers, hotel men and many of the women workers themselves. The woolen manufacturers particularly, said the measure would work more of a hardship on the women than any other law as it would result in throwing them out of employment in this industry.
The measure provided that women should not work more than 48 hours a week, so the hotel men said they would have to substitute Japanese for women in order to run their hotels seven days in the week.
On the other hand advocates of the measure declared that the measure if it became a law would create more jobs than the number of women who would be forced out of employment in their present positions.

FOUR NEW STRIKES IN NORTHERN MALHEUR ORE

(Special to The Journal.)
Malheur, Or., June 13.—Four strikes were made this week in the Eastern Oregon mining district.
R. E. Oliver, mining engineer, in the employ of C. H. Morritt of Malheur, and L. O. Paine of Canyon City, joint owners of the Lone Pine Extension claim at Malheur, struck a well defined vein of ore assaying $7.75 at a depth in the shaft of 80 feet. Two shifts are now sinking as rapidly as possible.
Charles Estner of Baker, at a depth of only six feet below the surface took out ore in his new Good Luck claim in the White Swan district which shows assay values of from $25 to $30 per ton.
John Peterson, on his claim in the Mormon Basin district, one half mile north of the Humboldt mine, discovered a three foot vein of ore averaging $30.
John Jones, R. N. Jones and J. W. Clark, all of Rye Valley, Or., uncovered a two foot vein of $25 ore in their tunnel on the Chicago claim, also in the Mormon Basin district.
The Canyon Mountain Mining company, whose property is near Canyon City, Or., is installing a 10-stamp mill. The famous Virtue mine, 10 miles east of Baker, has doubled the capacity of its cyanide plant, and is now at work on the tailings.
The Cooperative Copper & Gold Mining company of Rockford, Ill., which has holdings near Baker, Or., will open an office at Baker in July.
The Eastern Oregon Mining Journal, the new mining paper printed at Malheur, will open an office in Baker at once.

AMERICANS FAVORITES FOR NEXT POLO GAME

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madison, N. J., June 13.—More than $4,000 persons are expected to attend the second game of the international polo series here tomorrow between Americans and English players. The Americans won the first game, and are now heavy favorites in the betting for the second clash.
A coroner's jury at Hackney, England, returned a verdict of "death from senile decay" in the case of an 8-year-old boy.

CONDON WILL HAVE LARGE WOOL SALE

Thirty-five Clips Amounting to 750,000 Pounds to Be Offered June 19.

(Special to The Journal.)
Condon, Or., June 13.—That 35 clips of wool, amounting to over 750,000 pounds, will be offered at the wool sales here on June 19 is now assured. There are 20 clips in the warehouse now and others to come. The wool already here amounts to 1845 sacks, or approximately 587,200 pounds. It is said this wool is of a good quality and packed much better than usual. Some of the woolgrowers who have large clips here are John Day Development company, Butte Creek company, James Murtha, Charles Buckler, Mrs. W. J. Russell, Monahan & Martha, S. B. Barker, James Cameron, A. Patterson, Jackson & Kirby and R. N. Donnelly.

Gilliam Eagle Will Be Nobby

(Special to The Journal.)
Condon, Or., June 13.—The people in Gilliam county seem unusually patriotic this year and will have plenty of chances to demonstrate it at Fourth of July celebrations without going far from home. The eagle will scream in three places in the county this year—at Condon, at Arlington and at Lone Rock—and in addition several large picnics have been planned. Just across the Gilliam county line to the south Fossil will hold a big celebration. The main attraction in each event seems to be the ball games and races, although some of the celebrations will not follow the safe and sane rule but will allow fireworks of all kinds.

Rock Creek Badly Washed Out

(Special to The Journal.)
Condon, Or., June 13.—Latest reports from Rock creek in regard to the cloudburst last Saturday place the damages at $20,000. The heaviest losers on the creek are C. H. Edick, Farr Bros., C. W. Martin, William Reis, Bell Wade, H. D. Randall, T. C. Mobley and W. W. Weatherford. All of the hay for 15 or 20 small stacks, which were moved from the lowlands before the flood struck them. The water was in every house along the creek with the exception of three—Wade's, Randall's and Weatherford's. The oldest settlers say that during all their years here they have never seen so bad a cloudburst on Rock creek. Singers are like loan sharks—always taking notes.

NOVEL SHEEP BRIDGES OVER COLUMBIA FOREST TRAILS WASHED OUT

(Special to The Journal.)
Goldendale, Wash., June 13.—Packers coming in from the Big Lost Peak country for supplies report that sheep bridges on the trails leading to the summer pastures for Klhokit sheep in the Columbia national forest reserve have been washed away by the extreme high water. The Big Klhokit is still running at flood stage and it is feared floods will be delayed in getting on to their permanent summer range. Sheep bridges are improvised by falling large trees across narrow points in the streams and making the service of a skilled woodsman. The pounding top side of the fallen tree is smoothed off with an adze and railings are nailed to the sides. Crossing large flocks of sheep on the primitive structures is an extremely difficult task and "pile-ups" sometimes occur that result in heavy losses. Pack horses are also led across the bridges on some of the most dangerous streams.

SEWELL FURNISHES COIN FOR OWN TRIP

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, June 13.—Anxious to be at the bedside of his wife when their expected baby is born within a few weeks, Henry B. Sewell, alleged to have lured a score of wealthy eastern youths out of nearly $100,000, today waived extradition and furnished money for his return to New York. Sewell declares that he has committed no criminal offense and will be exonerated immediately upon reaching New York. The prisoner is alleged to have secured large sums from wealthy eastern boys by gaining their confidence and persuading them to entrust him with their money.

TO MAKE ADDRESS AT COMMENCEMENT

Rev. John Lamond, B. D.

The commencement address at Willamette university June 18 will be given by Rev. John Lamond, B. D., of Edinburgh, Scotland, who is one of the foreign speakers on the program of the World's Christian Citizenship conference, to be held at Portland June 29-July 6. Dr. Lamond, who is one of the most distinguished of the foreign representatives coming to Portland, will speak at the conference on "Lessons and Warnings from Scotland." He has been sought for a number of engagements while in this country. He will deliver the commencement address at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo., the baccalaureate sermon and commencement address at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, S. D., and will preach in prominent churches at Denver, Philadelphia and Bryn Mawr. At Boise, Idaho, he will speak at the Chautauque assembly, en route to Portland.

WELSH WOMEN MAY GET VOTE

Principality Wants Autonomous Home Rule and Promises Women Ballot.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, June 13.—The women of Wales will get the vote, if the bill prepared by Welsh radical members of the house of commons providing for home rule in that principality should become a law.
The measure represents a further extension of the policy of the autonomous government initiated in the Irish bill, and follows closely the lines of the beautiful home rule bill recently discussed in the commons. According to the terms of the bill there is to be a single chamber parliament in Wales, subordinate to the imperial parliament, for whose 80 members women may vote on the same conditions as men. The apportionment is approximately one member to every 30,000 inhabitants. Twenty-three Welsh members will be sent to the imperial parliament on a basis of one member to every 100,000 inhabitants, instead of 80,000 as at present.

"OYSTER KING" KILLS A FRENZIED FINANCIER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New Orleans, La., June 13.—Miles Zibitch, a local oyster king, and a director of the United Gold Mine and the Golden State Mining companies, today shot and killed George Margarette, president of the two concerns. The men quarreled over the payment of some stock.
"Margarette was a frenzied financier," said the slayer. "I am glad I killed him."
