EDWARD A. BEAL.

District Forecaster.

Indian Murder Suspect.

Columbia George, the old Umatilla Indian who is held by the government charged with having murdered a squaw last July, was brought back to Portland last night by Deputy United States Marshal Leonard Becker of Pendleton. He was taken to Umatilla county jail in the Pendleton term of the federal court last Monday, but because one of the government's material witnesses could not be found, Judge Bean, who was presiding over the court, ordered the case continued until November 4. Another Pendleton term was being ordered for the time. Assistant United States Attorney E. A. Johnson, Marshal Leslie M. Scott and Judge Bean all returned last night, the term having been concluded with the hearing only of a personal damage suit.

Boys Kid Under Bed.

Two young boys were arrested in a room of the Valley hotel by the police last night where they had hidden themselves under the bed to await the coming of the owner of the room that they might rifle his clothes when he fell asleep. Both were turned over to the juvenile court and they will be investigated. One has never been in trouble before while the other recently had been arrested for stealing money order at the Lumbermen's National Bank. This boy said his home was in Columbus, Ohio, and that he had run away. After cashing the order he claimed he beat his way back home and that he had returned when arrested. His story was found to be a myth, for his parents reside in Portland. The boys will come before the court Saturday.

Thinks He Is Being Followed.

Charles Hannevald, a laborer, appeared in the district attorney's office this morning and began to tell a rambling story of men and women following him to hurt him. Finally he broke down and began to cry. Then Deputy District Attorney Hammerley filed an insanity complaint and Hannevald was taken to the county jail. Hannevald declared he had been in Alaska and that his partner had gone insane. He said that a woman had accused him of hypnotizing his partner and District Attorney Evans suggested that he take a rest, as the matter had worried him too much. Hannevald consented and seemed relieved at the prospect of a trip to the asylum.

These prices prevail at Smith's main market, 228 Alder, and at Smith's St. Francis market, 228 Washington St.

Arrested by U. S. Marshal.

W. Winth, an employee of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, was arrested this morning by Deputy United States Marshal Talley, charged with violating the government motor boat statute. He is said to have failed to provide his motor boat with proper means of extinguishing a gasoline fire. A whole set of instructions of this nature against Portland motor boat owners have been turned over to the United States attorney's office, and it is expected that at least six or seven arrests will follow Monday morning.

Dentists Elect Officers.

The annual convention of the Oregon State dental association ended with its final session yesterday in which officers were elected. They are: Dr. E. C. McFarland, president; Dr. F. E. Adams, vice president; Dr. C. M. Harrison secretary; Dr. Hereta, treasurer, and Dr. W. C. Shearer, of the board of directors. Following the election of officers, A. H. Gilbert of San Diego spoke on "Business Suggestions on Fees and Investments" and William C. Spencer of Portland spoke on "Dental Surgery and Preventive Medicine."

Masmas to See Falls.

For their Sunday trip the Mazamas will leave in a special car on the O.-W. R. & N. local at 7:50 a. m., and will get off the train at Horsetail Falls. From here they will tramp down the Columbia, taking in Onoclea georgei, Multnomah falls and Gordon falls on the way down to Bridal Veil, where they take the return train. As this is an easy walk, those wanting more leg work will hike on the Latouche and see the falls there before taking the return train, which arrives in Portland at 5:30 p. m.

Dr. Equi Gets $200.

Upon the payment of $200 to Dr. Marie Equi yesterday her suit against the Pacific Trust company, owners of the Medical building, for damages because George B. Freyman, superintendent of the building, assaulted her, according to her complaint, was dismissed. Freyman was acquitted of assault in connection with the same trouble in a criminal prosecution. Dr. Equi also was allowed claims for unpaid rent and each party paid its own costs.

His Own Fault, Jury Says.

Failure of George C. Quine to demand safeguards about the engine room of the Crystal laundry, sought verdict for the laundry yesterday in his personal injury suit against the company. Quine was in charge of the engine room and the records of the company showed no request or demand for better protection made by Quine. Quine was injured by being caught in the machinery.

Holdup Men Get Good Haul.

C. B. Mitchell, 578 East Fifteenth street, North, reported to the police last night that he was held up and robbed by two men at East Fifteenth and Knott streets. The affair happened shortly after midnight, and within two blocks of his home. He lost $288 and a gold watch.

Sewer Bids Rejected.

The sewer committee of the city executive board yesterday rejected the bids for the construction of the Lambert avenue sewer. The lowest was that of William Lind, but this was $400 higher than a bid submitted for the same work nearly a year ago. The bids will be readvertised a second time.

Judge Suspends Sentence.

"Flowers that bloom in the spring, true, have nothing to do with this case," such was the opinion of Mrs. C. S. Sutherland, 413 Dover street, who caused the arrest of Mrs. Gus Fisher, wife of the Portland base ball player. The matter was tried this morning in the municipal court. Mrs. Sutherland accused Mrs. Fisher of washing water on her newly washed clothes. Mrs. Fisher claimed she was watering her flowers and did not soil the clothes. Mrs. Fisher occupies the flat over Mrs. Sutherland. Judge Taxwell concluded no damage had been done and suspended sentence.

Perjury Is Charged.

Charged with having committed perjury in a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner A. M. Cannon, Maria Ferry was arrested this morning by Deputy United States Marshal John Talley at a disreputable house at Fourth and Burnside streets. The woman was the government's principal witness against John Shea, charged with violation of the white slavery statute. She was before Cannon in the hearing Tuesday, and at that time the suspicion of government officers was aroused by her own unwillingness to tell about the case. Investigations made since then show that the witness had been tampered with, say the government officers.

Will Be Sentenced Monday.

Loe Hunt, who was convicted Wednesday of Umatilla county on a $15 check on the Commercial Trust & Savings bank, in which he had but $2 cents to his credit, will be sentenced next Monday morning. Circuit Judge Kavanaugh, who will pass sentence, desires to investigate the case further, owing to the youth of Hunt. Hunt was acquitted of the charge of possession and a charge of the larceny of two automobile tires from Chansior & Lyons still hangs over his head. His record for passing bad checks is long and he has a bad reputation in other places than Portland.

Attracts Government's Notice.

Newton C. Gaunt, local architect, has been requested by the Federal bureau of education, to send to the bureau plans, data and photographs of some of his work. The material will be used in a pamphlet to be issued by the bureau.

Hold Four as Pickpockets.

Five men supposed to be pickpockets were arrested last night in the crowd at Fourth and Yamhill streets. Patrolmen Prosser, Tackabery and Martin made the arrests. The men gave the names of Frank Reed, C. H. Marshall, 55 Laurance, Jack Smart and C. E. Clayton. Detectives this morning recognized some of the men being in the crowd of pickpockets arrested last year at the Pendleton Roundup. They are held for investigation.

IN EARLIER DAYS

By Fred Lockley.

"No poor man can afford not to have a sense of humor," said G. B. Lent, as he shifted his banner from one shoulder to the other.

If you have ever been down Washington street you have seen Mr. Lent. He wears a bathrobe and carries a banner for a bath house.

"I suppose my job might not appeal to some," he said. "Nevertheless there are a lot of fellows who are after it. There are a lot of married men who have families who are very anxious to get work. A big, husky Swede came up to me the other day and said: 'Since I can't get your boss to fire you, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll wrestle you for your job. If I throw you I get the job. But that struck me as too much of a heads I win, tails you lose proposition,' so I didn't take it up. There are 11 men carrying banners here in Portland. Most of the men are temporary men. I have been carrying this banner up and down Washington street for over three months. A good many of the banner carriers are boppers or fellows up against it who take the job to get a few dollars until they can pick up something else. This job suits me, however, fine. It pays 25 cents an hour and I parade up and down Washington street for five hours.

"I came down to Portland last January from Seattle, where I lived for 28 years. I don't think I show my age, do you? I am 68 years old. I was born on the banks of the Hudson in 1846. When I was 17 I entered the army, becoming a musician. I played the kettle-drum. Later I learned the cornet. After a few years, though, army life became pretty monotonous.

"When I came out of the army after 18 years' service, I learned the trade of decorator. I worked in Chicago, Omaha, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, at this trade. My daughter, who lives in Cincinnati, is said to be one of the best musicians in that city.

"A man can live pretty comfortably on a dollar or a dollar and a quarter a day if he is single and if he is a good cook. I pay $8 a month for my room and my living averages 40 cents a day. Once a week I get a soup bone and once a week I get some good meat for stew. I get a dollar's worth of bread tickets each month and occasionally I get eggs for a change. Potatoes cost me about 50 cents a sack and by watching them I can get them for 40 cents.

"Mr. and Mrs. D. Kaplan, 1046 Corbett street, were knocked out of their express wagon last evening at 190 Bancroft street, when the auto of Dr. Max Cardwell struck the wagon from the rear. The couple was taken to the St. Vincent hospital, but their injuries are not serious.

Miss Elizabeth Bend, 61 Park street, was struck by an auto at Broadway and Washington street. C. A. James was driving the car, which belonged to the Dulmage auto company. She stepped from the sidewalk to the street, directly in front of the auto. The driver of the auto took her home.

Guests at the Peoples

The Blackfoot Indians from Glacier National Park, attending the Rose Carnival, were guests last night at the Peoples and Arcade theatres, where they enjoyed the movies immensely, seeing themselves in the pictures at the Peoples. The Indians were each presented to the audience by their manager, Mr. Schumker, and were greeted by hearty applause as each name was given. Prominent among them was Fred Big Top, who made a speech. They are a happy lot and seem to be thoroughly enjoying every minute of their visit. Their dancing contains a primitive grace and their singing is musical and stirring. After viewing the pictures at the Peoples, they were escorted to the Arcade theatre, where affairs were concluded with thunderous applause.
