

WINE MAKERS FEAR TAX

Claim They Cannot Compete With Easterners if Brandy Is Taxed; Sweet Wines Made Prohibitive Is Charge.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 21.—Declaring that they cannot manufacture wine in competition with eastern vinticulturists and that their industry will be crippled immeasurably, a strong fight has been launched by the California Grape Growers' association against the proposal of Senator Pomeroy of Ohio to tax brandies used in fortifying wines $1.10 instead of 3 cents. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the tax, and a telegram sent to Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, asking that action be postponed until representatives from California can be heard.

Protest Will Be Unheeded. (United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, June 21.—Telegraphed protests by the sweet wine growers' association of California against the proposed tariff of $1.10 on fortifying brandy fell on deaf ears here today when they reached Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Simmons declared there was little chance that the protests would be considered. He said: "California wine growers for years have enjoyed great privileges in this matter as against wine makers elsewhere. Their protest was unexpected, but I do not believe that, coming now, it will have any effect."

Members of congress from the Pacific coast promised to arrange for them to be taken to receive the delegation at the White House. The delegation is confident that with the support of Mayor Blankenburg of Philadelphia there is a good chance that the Liberty Bell will be loaned to the Panama Pacific 1915 exposition in San Francisco.

The federation is composed of 39 members, ten from the charitable organizations, ten to represent the givers, and ten appointed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Organizes the Work.

Mr. Williams began operations November 1, 1912, and on January 7, 1913, the organization was perfected and during the first week of June, a general canvass of the city was made for the purpose of educating the public in charity work. Eighty of the 83 organizations were asked to furnish ten workers, men and women, thus making a company of 830.

After resting a few minutes he hunched up his horse, drove four miles to a Centralia hospital, climbed two flights of stairs and then dropped dead. The hospital authorities marveled at the man's vitality.

MUST FILE SHERIFF'S RECEIPT FOR TAXES

To protect the state, county and city from loss by failure of administrators and executors to pay personal taxes on estates before the estates were closed Probate Judge Cleaton has issued an order that in future no estate will be closed until the sheriff's receipt for the payment of these taxes is filed. When estates are closed it is impossible to collect personal taxes, as that property can be placed beyond legal collection. With real property, however, the tax can always be collected, as it becomes a lien against the property. The new order applies to estates of decedents or wards.

SUSPECT NEPHEW OF KILLING ANGLE

Idaho County Officers Have James Dearing in Jail at Grangeville. (Special to The Journal.) Lewiston, Idaho, June 21.—That evidence is being secured against James Dearing, suspected of killing his uncle, George Dearing, near Grangeville, Thursday evening, is indicated by the activity of Sheriff Elmer. The coroner's inquest, conducted by Judge Elmer, is pending to show that the aged rancher and stockman was murdered, but the fact that he was found with a bullet wound in the neck and other circumstances left no question of his being shot from ambush. James Dearing, a nephew, is still in jail at Grangeville.

THE YOUNG MAN WHO LIVED AT HIS UNCLE'S HOME SINCE THE DEATH OF HIS FATHER.

Several days ago he announced his intention of leaving for mines in the interior.
