COMMERCIAL CLUB EXCURSION PROVES A GRAND SUCCESS

Vancouver Barracks Visited by Party and Day Is Spent Pleasantly; Serve Luncheon —Games and Contests.

With the members of the Twenty-first infantry in charge of Colonel George S. Young, stationed at Vancouver Barracks, appearing at their best in difficult drills and maneuvers, taking part in the races and other events, and always at the service of their guests, the 500 members of the Portland Commercial club and their ladies who attended the first annual picnic given by the club yesterday at the military reservation at Vancouver, Wash., are unanimous in their praise of the courtesies extended them.

From the time the members of the party from Portland arrived on the steamer Undine and in automobiles, shortly before noon there was not a dull moment throughout the day. The entertainment as arranged by Colonel Young, assisted by the members of the Vancouver Commercial club, was run through without a hitch, finishing with a baseball game in which the soldiers of the post killed whatever ambitions the members of the Portland Commercial club had regarding their baseball ability.

Steamer Takes Big Crowd.

The start was made from the Commercial club building shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the Portland Firemen's band acting as escort for the party. While on the way from the building to the boat the band furnished a large variety of selections.

The Undine, carrying a good sized crowd, arrived at Vancouver shortly before noon, where the party was met by 100 members of the Vancouver civic organizations, soldiers and officers. While the members of the party were landing the air was rent with the roaring of whistles, clanging of bells and other noice producing apparatus. When this racket had subsided the Artillery band started playing and the trip to the reservation commenced, but before this was reached the colonel notified the members that luncheon was ready.

Under the supervision of the army cooks and helpers the visitors were well cared for, the luncheon consisting of baked beans, frankfurters and sauer kraut, relishes and numerous other edibles.

After the luncheon was over, the troops were ordered on the parade grounds and the day's activities started. The maneuvers started with the guard mounts and included all sorts of stunts never before seen by many of the visitors. These consisted of machine gun drills, shooting, wall scaling and setting-up exercises, races and jumping.

Fun Starts in Earnest.

After this part of the entertainment was concluded the party moved to another part of the grounds and the fun started in earnest. Here every sort of stunt imaginable, even to having one of the prominent members of the club humiliated by being arrested and locked in leg irons and handcuffs, then led to a secluded spot by a detachment of soldiers before being released. J. Fred Larson passed through this ordeal because of some of the alleged "rank" decisions he had rendered.

Perhaps the most laughable event of the afternoon was the greased pig contest. Anticipating difficulties those who took part in the event were carefully prepared. Old clothes, overalls and aprons long discarded were brought into play. The poor porker carefully greased had probably never before experienced the thrills and hardships he did yesterday at the hands of those who tried to capture him as he ran hither and thither through the crowd with half a hundred men after him. He was chased three times before the awards were given.

The races were participated in by both the soldiers and the members of the Commercial club and proved very interesting to all. The somersault race occurred without even those who took part suffering a headache, while the eggs used in the ladies' egg race suffered when they dropped from the spoons in which they were carried.

Loving Cup Presented.

A loving cup which had been made by A. C. Feldenheimer from a brass cannon shell was presented to the colonel by the members of the Portland Commercial club in appreciation of the courtesies extended by he and his men. The presentation speech was made by E. B. Piper, president of the Commercial club. Colonel Young in his acceptance speech said that he was always at the service of the club, and that he wished that he again could have the pleasure of entertaining them.

The baby show scheduled resulted in having the women of the party lining up for their pictures, then each being presented with a box of candy. This brought many a laugh.

The committee on prizes consisted of John H. Burgard, George L. Baker, A. C. Feldenheimer and J. Fred Larson. George L. Baker acted as master of ceremonies and official starter in the various events. The judges of the races were Mr. Burgard, C. C. Chapman, W. F. Ross, Dr. H. C. Fixott, W. J. Hofmann, C. S. Loveland and A. L. Fish. Lieutenant Harts had charge of the events in which the soldiers had a part.

The baseball game between the members of the club and the soldiers of the post resulted in a score of 9 to 2 in favor of the soldiers. A cup given by the Commercial club was presented the winning team.

OREGON SENATORS MAKE VAIN FIGHT TO REMOVE DUTY

Chamberlain and Lane Seek to Have Manufactured Woolen Articles Admitted Free; Caucus Finish Monday

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, June 28.—Completion of the work of the senate Democratic caucus upon the tariff, the income tax and the administrative divisions of the Wilson-Underwood bill on Monday was the prospect before the majority members of the upper house tonight.

"I am well satisfied with our progress," said Chairman Simmons tonight. "The wool schedule has been approved as reported by our committee, except that comber wool or tops will be further reduced from 15 per cent or be made duty free, and cheap wool blankets are also to be considered for another reduction.

"Silk, paper, flax and liquor schedules, with one item excepted, have been passed upon without change. Brandy entering into California wines is still to be considered."

The only real fight of the day was the morning contest over placing on the free list all wool blankets, clothes, hosiery and clothing as demanded by Senator Chamberlain and Lane and other western members.

Nothwithstanding the efforts of Senators Chamberlain, and Lane in caucus, aided by Senator Ashurst of Arizona and other senators, they were unable to have manufactured products of wool placed on the free list or even to get the rate of duty on them reduced.

Both senators argued for this concession, inasmuch as they had been denied a tariff on wool, or on mohair. They seem to think Oregon is being made "the goat" and they are resentful, but neither will admit that he has any intention of bolting the caucus action. Senator Chamberlain voted against free wool, and he was one of six who did so.

There are those who think that the irritation shown by various senators whose pet products are being slaughtered, according to their view of it, will result in a loss of votes for the bill when it comes out of caucus and is finally brought to a vote on the floor, but there is nothing substantial to back up this opinion.

No matter how fiercely the fight rages in caucus, say the leaders, the caucus' action will be sustained save possibly by the senators from Louisiana.

Attack Made on Guaymas.

Nogales, Ariz., June 28.—The constitutionalists began an attack upon Guaymas at 10 o'clock this morning, according to a dispatch which reached Nogales late today.

Didier Masson, the French aviator connected with the insurrectos, was reported to have seen a fight over Guaymas and its harbor, returning with the information that Mexican federal officials and sympathizers were being taken aboard the gunboats Guerrero, Morelos and Martinez.

Ojeda and Barron, the federal leaders were believed to be fleeing toward Bacatete. Obregons rebels pursued many bands of retreating federals, capturing some in a badly demoralized condition.

Sonora in Hands of Rebels.

Douglas, Mexico, June 28.—General Ojeda's federal army has been scattered, the Huerta commander is himself a fugitive and the state troops, victorious in the seven days' battles around Ortiz, will enter Guaymas, the last federal foothold in Sonora, today.

This was the substance of a message from Governor Perquiera at Hermosillo to his cousin, Roberto Pesquiera, former revolutionary agent at Washington.

Ojeda escaped from the Yaquis, who pursued his routed forces from Ortiz and Santa Rosa, and arrived in Guaymas in an automobile. Barron, one of his sub-commanders, also escaped capture.

K. OF P. TO INITIATE ON TOP OF EAGLE CAP

Albany, Or., June 28.—That a class will be initiated into the order of the Knights of Pythias this summer on the top of Eagle Cap mountain, the highest point in the Wallowa range, was the information received today by Willard L. Marks, of this city, chairman of the publicity committee of the grand lodge, from J. H. Gwinn, of Pendleton, grand chancellor of Oregon. The initiation will be conducted by Kinsmen lodge No. 87, Knights of Pythias, of Wallowa. The date for the initiation has not been set nor have the details of the ceremony been developed, but it is the plan to confer all three of the ranks of Pythian Knighthood on the summit of the mountain. The ceremony will be the first of its kind on the Pacific coast and probably in the entire country.

COMPLETE FILE OF M'NAB'S CASES IS GIVEN COMMITTEE

Attorney General Stops Kahn Arguments by Giving House Committee All Papers Concerning Cases.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, June 28.—Attorney-General McReynolds tonight met with a sub-committee of the judiciary committee to determine what documents in the Diggs-Caminetti and Western Fuel company cases will be submitted to the house when it convenes Wednesday. Forestalling the attempt of Representative Kahn of California to force production of the documents in the case, through a resolution by the house, the attorney general today sent every paper in connection with the litigation on file in the department of justice.

In the mass of papers which were brought to the judiciary committee room just as a meeting to consider the Kahn resolution had been called, were government reports on messages, confidential grand jury reports and plans for the prosecution of the cases. It was these documents tonight that engaged the attorney-general and the sub-committee. Chairman Clayton announced that certain of the papers which had been turned over to the judiciary committee would not be made public for fear of revealing the prosecution's evidence.

"But the information which the committee will submit to the house," he said, "will be complete in every detail and will comprise more than the Kahn resolution requested."

HERMAN MEYER'S WIDOW EXECUTRIX OF ESTATE

San Francisco, Cal., June 28.—The will of the late Herman L. Meyer, of the firm of Meyer, Wilson & Co., of this city, Portland, Or., and Liverpool, England, commission and shipping merchants, was filed for probate today by his widow, Annie Meyer, whom he designated as the executrix of his $2,000,000 estate. It was written March 2, 1911, when Captain Meyer was 71 years old.

With the exception of $1000 each to the Protestant orphan asylum, Roman Catholic orphan asylum and Hebrew orphan asylum of San Francisco, Meyer bequeathed his entire estate to his wife and eight children.

All of his estate, he says in his will, is community property and his wife is therefore entitled to a one half interest of everything of which he died possessed. In addition to this he makes her a specific bequest of one third of the remainder, or his community share of his estate.

MYSTIC SHRINERS MAKE CANDIDATES TROT DESERT SAND

Al Kader Temple Conducts Rousing Ceremony; Shriners' Band Leads Procession of 500 Through Streets.

A rousing ceremonial that was the most successful of any held in years was conducted by Al Kader temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, at Masonic temple last night. The ceremonial was not the greatest in point of attendance, but the quantity of enthusiasm engendered more than made up for deficiency of numbers in comparison with former gatherings of the kind.

Fifty-six humble candidates trotted the burning sands of Arabia to the brisk tunes of the Shrine quartet and band, and they did not formally learn the secrets of the inner temple until midnight.

Five hundred Shriners, headed by the white uniformed Shrine band of 32 pieces and the 30 members of Arab patrol in their Zouave uniforms made up an impromptu parade which traversed the down-town streets before the ceremonial opened.

Shriner's Band Plays.

The Shrine band, which was organized less than a year ago, and which is the pride of every Shriner in Oregon and the envy of every other Shrine organization on the Pacific coast, stopped for a while in the progress of the march and serenaded The Journal. The parade was headed by Franf S. Grant, retiring city attorney, in the robes of the high priest.

At the Masonic Temple these 500 were joined by nearly that many others, who witnessed the ceremony of putting the 56 through the paces. After the ceremonial was concluded a buffet supper was served.

While there were no special trainloads of visiting members of the Masonic safety valve organization, hundreds of visiting Shriners were present at the gathering. Medinah Temple of Chicago and other big eastern temples, including Boston, were represented. Over 100 of the visitors were from El Katif of Spokane, Afifi of Tacoma and Nile Temple of Seattle.

The class whose members entered Al Kader Temple was composed of the following:

Harry O. Baker, Fred F. Boody, Jr., Isaac T. Butler, W. Maurice Ball, Charles A. Boyce, James Cunning, Frank W. Camp, Walter E. Crichlow, John G. Clemson, Z. H. Davis, W. W. Downard, Silas E. MOTHER-IN-LAW DENIES KIDNAPING 5-YEAR-OLD

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tacoma, Wash., June 28.—No clue as to the whereabouts of Gilbert Hamilton, five years old, who disappeared two days ago, has been obtained by the police. Mrs. Pearl Johnson, who had custody of the child, told the authorities she believed her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hamilton of Portland, had kidnaped it. However, Mrs. Hamilton today wired that she was completely in the dark concerning the whereabouts of the little boy. The police upon receipt of this message, redoubled their efforts to locate the missing child.

Votes for women will do nothing to release women from bondage as long as they remain slaves to fashion.

"KELLY KLAN" PARTY WAS BIG SUCCESS

The reunion of the "Kelly Klan," held at the home of A. B. Manley, 663 Williams avenue, yesterday afternoon, at which 60 descendants of the Kelly family, Clinton, Albert, Gilmore and Thomas Kelly, were present, was "a grand success," to quote Mrs. Manley, the hostess.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock on the lawn, with Penumbra Kelly, former United States marshal, and a son of Clinton Kelly presiding. Penumbra Kelly is the chief of the Kelly Klan.

Following the dinner, Miss Nellie Fawcett, the historian, read her report for the year, outlining the occurrences of the past 12 months, as to marriages, births, deaths and business ventures. Miss Agnes Kelly is the secretary.

Members of the Klan came long distances to attend this meeting. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cresswell of San Diego, Mrs. Van de Lashmutt of Spokane, Mrs. Mary Crost of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Edith Kelly and three children of Long Beach, Wash., being those who came from a distance.

The oldest member of the Klan in attendance was Mrs. Margaret Kelly, aged 86 years, but there were several very young members at the session.

TEN DROWNED WHEN RAFT SPILLS PEOPLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Lynchburg, Pa., June 29 (Sunday).—Ten persons are missing, believed to have been drowned when a raft which plies the Kiskiminettas river between Hyde Park and Lynchburg upset with 60 or 70 persons aboard last night at 11 o'clock as it neared the Lynchburg shore. The bodies of four were recovered shortly afterwards, but at an early hour this morning had not been identified.

The accident is believed to have been caused by several persons on the raft wanting to be the first off when it touched shore. It is said that as the shore loomed out of the darkness numbers crowded the shore side of the boat, causing it to be overburdened and to drop over, spilling its human cargo into the river.

ITALIANS TERRORIZED BY NEW EARTHQUAKES

Cosenza Calabria, Italy, June 28.—The great disaster in Sicily and Calabria in 1908 was brought forcibly to mind today by a series of earth shocks today. The people rushed out of their houses, terror stricken at the first shock, and ran screaming and inploring mercy. They are now camping in the open fields or in underground grottoes.

New Birds for Oregon.

Max Mullen, superintendent of the poultry farm at the insame asylum at Salem, is going back to his old home in Austria this summer for a visit, and State Game Warden W. L. Finley has commissioned him to purchase several hundred pairs of Hungarian partridges. These fowls are very abundant throughout Europe and they are raised for specie propagation purposes in every city. The Hungarian partridge is one of the most desirable of upland game birds, and Mr. Finley plans to establish the specie in the wild state in Oregon if such a thing is possible.

Lagana Almost Died.

Alphonso Lagana, an Italian, charged with violation of the Mann white slavery act, who two weeks ago was rushed to the Good Samaritan hospital, a victim of appendicitis, will be returned to the county jail today. Lagana was operated upon, but his case was so serious that he almost died. Alphonso's wife, Rosa Lagana, is another claimant to distinction among jail inmates by virtue of the fact that she was, and may still be, the original hunger striker of Oregon and probably of the Pacific coast.

It was 50 years ago, but many of the veterans could fight pretty lively yet, if they needed to.

'TALMAGE OF WEST' IS SUED BY ADELE BLOOD, NOTED STAGE BEAUTY

Following Public Beating Given Rev. Edwards Davis in New York, Wife Asks Divorce.

(By the International News Service.)

San Francisco, June 28.—Adele Blood, statuesque blonde leading woman of "Every Woman" known as the "Most beautiful woman of the stage" filed suit for divorce in New York city three days ago against the Rev. Edwards Davis. Miss Blood refuses to say what charges she makes in her complaint.

The Rev. Mr. Davis, who is best known as Cader Russell Davis, the "Talmage of the West," was given a severe beating in New York city a few days ago by Frederick Esmelton Bryant, the actor manager, when he met Davis in company with Mrs. Bryant.

Bryant's wife whose stage name is Gule Power, had been served the previous day with a summons in a divorce suit brought by her husband and Davis was named as co-respondent. When Bryant encountered Davis and Mrs. Bryant in front of the hotel Flanders, he parleyed not, but knocked Davis to the sidewalk. As soon as he could regain his feet Davis fled through the fast growing crowd.

Ten years ago Davis was pastor of the Central Christian church of Oakland. Believing he had received a call to elevate the stage, he resigned and turned actor. He went to New York to begin his uplift work. In 1906 he married Miss Blood, following his divorce from Alta Margaret Kringore, former soprano in his church.

The brilliant beauty and growing histronic ability of Miss Blood enabled her easily to outdistance her husband and she had arrived on Broadway while he was still playing the one night stands.

REAL SUMMER CAPITOL PUT UP TO CONGRESS

Washington, June 28.—A summer capitol of the United States may gleam down on historic Harper's Ferry in the beautiful Shenandoah valley when congress holds another session, if favorable action is taken upon a resolution to be introduced in the house next week by Representative Borland of Missouri. Borland will ask that an investigation into the feasibility of building a $500,000 summer capitol on Bolivar Heights, 30 miles from Washington, undertaken by pointing out that for five years congress has suffered from the torrid heat of this city and, to all appearances, congress will hereafter be an all-year-around affair.
