TWAS A PRETTY BAD DAY FOR LOCAL SPORT LOVERS ALL THE WAY AROUND

SOLONS GATHER P. M. AFFAIR BY GARNERING SEVEN JUICY TALLIES

Finish His First Game Since Joining Beaver Squad.

Sacramento took a liking to the of-ferings of Hiram West yesterday and for the first time this season the Portland crack failed to finish a game.
The score was 7 to 4. The Beavers made as many hits off Klawitter but they were not bunched. Krapp pitched the last two innings and got by without

The morning game was stopped by sunger in the seventh inning with the game tled, 7 to 7. McCredie used five the mound during the progress of the same. In the after-breakfast affair the Beavers gave Krause a three-run lead but the solons tied it up in the fourth uning. In their half the Beavers made three more off Munsell, and in the next frame, use Wolverines copped four off Hagerman, who had been put in to pitch instead of Krapp, acting as Krause's relief. Portland tied it up in Krause's relief. Portland tied it up in the fifth, two stolen bases by Lober and Doane's single to left.

Sacramento started off in the lead in the afternoon in the second inning. Van Buren singled between first and second and scored on Hallinan's double, the latter taking third when Kores missed. Chadbourne's return. Tennant's single to left scored Hallinan. Young's single to left scored another run in the third.

Singles by Chadbourne and Doane.

Eingles by Chadbourne and Doane, Lewis' error, blows by Rodgers and Lindsay with two out gave Portland two in the third. Hallinan and Klawitter scored in the Young's twobagger. The solons made it seven runs by scoring two in the seventh on Kores' error, singles by Kenworthy and Hallinan, a double steal and a wild pitch.

Portland had the bases full in the tinth with none out and the only man to acore came in on Spess' sacrifice fly to Lewis. The Beavers scored their fourth run in the ninth on singles by Berry, Krapp Wolverton and Bliss were chased out of the game for kicking on decisions.

liams' Men as Stepping Stone to Northwest Pennant

Spokane, Wash., July 5 .- Nick Williams' Portland Colts gathered both games yesterday because they hit in pinches and fielded brilliantly when Spokane was in danger of annexing runs. The exhibition of gardening on the part of the Colts was the best seen will make him a hard proposition for race for the pennant. Right now Nick Williams has as nifty a lineup as there is in the league and if good weather prevails on the sound If good weather prevails on the sound for the next two weeks, the Colts will be overhauling Vancouver and Seattle. All that is needed is good weather so that the pitchers can keep in shape. Portland won the morning game by the score of 4 to 3, Callahan taking a southpaw pitching battle from Kraft, who was relieved during the game by a young busher named Conway. In the third inning the Colts made enough runs third inning the Colts made enough runs

BRAINS, PUNCH AND GAMENESS PRESERVE CROWN FOR RITCHIE

Righthander Hi West Falls to Holiday Utilized by Nick Wil- Champion Goes Along Patients William MacMaster Wins in Northern Boy, Still Regarded ly Until Eleventh Round, He Then Unmasks Battery.

San Francisco, July 5.—Brains, punch, gameness—but principally brains—is accepted here today as the story of the victory of Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie over Joe Rivers of Los Angeles:

here this year, and it is no wonder that the Portlanders are making a great Ritchie beat Rivers exactly as he bested Wolgast in their four-round fight and in the 20-round battle when the and in the 20-round battle when the Michigan wildcat lost the title. Taking a beating cheerfully and, patiently. Ritchie waited and waited and waited until he had solved the puzzling attack of the Los Angelan. Then, up against the ropes as he had jammed Wolgast, Ritchie rushed the Mexican. A right to the jaw masked a heavy left to the stomach and Rivers went down for nine. "Keep back, keep back, Willie," his friends shouted, and Ritchie stopped back while Graney waited until Time-keeper Harting tolled off nine seconds. Then the Mexican, dazed and wobbly, gained his feet. Rushing in, the cham-gained his feet. Rushing in, the cham-pion, every muscle instinct with life and power, drove Rivers back to the ropes again. Then the right cross flashed over, the left sank to the wrist in Riv-ers' stomach and as the challenger sank slowly forward another right smash full on the jaw sent him to dreamland.

on the jaw sent him to dreamlend.

Rivers, when he hit the canvas, was out—out cold. For full eight seconds he did not move a muscle. At nine his head, eyes glassy and glaring, raised from the mat. But it was the utmost effort in his body and he still lay prone as Graney raised the champion's hand and the crowd, frenzied with excitement, swept into the ting.

"You beat me fairly, Willie," said Rivers after the fight. "No hard feelings.

I know now that you're the champion."
Some of the later rounds in the fight follow:

Bound Five. Rivers put left to face, After a clinch Ritchie put right to stomach. They sparred and Ritchie put right to heart. nutchie put left to face, right to head. Rivers landed left to head and then another right to face. Rivers put hard Rivers around the ring. He ducked Rivers' lead and gave him a back hand in the mouth. Rivers put left to head at bell. Ritchie's round. Bound Six.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, July 5.—"Too much class"—this is the slangy but most pertinent explanation offered today for the clean-cut victory of Dr. Leach Cross Wallach of New York over Bud Anderson of Medford, Or., and Vancouver, Wash., in the twelfth round of the Independence day battle at Vernon. The generally accepted verdict among fight followers is that Anderson of fight followers is that Anderson among fight followers is that Anderson, still regarded as a comer, was son, still regarded as a comer, was sent too soon against a past master of ring craft, willing but unable to do the work cut out for him.

Anderson fought one of the gamest uphill battles ever seen at Vernon, but he was hopelessly outclassed from the first gong. Cross showed bewildering speed and a deadly punch and proved a ring general of wonderful ability. The condition of each fighter was perfect and Anderson's only excuse is that he met a better man, cuse is that he met a better man, Anderson's knockout was complete. He went to the canvas from a right to the jaw after Cross had carefully prepared his opening. Cross helped the Medford boy's handlers carry him to his corner and watched anxiously the reviving process, which proved long and difficult. Bud was carried to his directing room, where it was almost half an hour before he could be dressed and taken to his automobile. Seated in the machine, he mumbled constantly, demanding of Manager Donald news of "how the fight's going."

Cross hurried at once to a downtown and left to the most to the nose and left to the nose and the nose and left to the nose and t Hazy For Half Hour.
