

LOBBY INQUIRY BY LOWER HOUSE TO BE VERY DRASTIC

Resolution Presented in Final Form Provides for Sweeping Investigation; Mann's Pique Delays Action.

WHAT CONGRESS DID TODAY
The senate was not in session. Democratic caucus postponed action on proposal to bind Democrats to support caucus action on tariff bill.
In the house, the house met at noon. Debated house investigation of Mulhall lobby charges for three hours and then adjourned until Wednesday at noon.

(By the International News Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 5.—Fifty differences between the Republican and Progressive leaders prevented the passage today of the Henry resolution providing for a blanket investigation of lobbying in Washington.
Republican leader Mann, angered at an amendment providing that investigation of accused members of the house should take precedence, which was offered by Mr. Bryan, the Progressive member from Washington state, raised the point of no quorum, and the matter went over until next Wednesday. House leaders at once sent out notices to absentees to be in their seats Wednesday morning, and there will be no trouble in getting the resolution through at that time.

Calls for Sweeping Investigation.
As presented today in the final form in which it was passed, the resolution provides for the most sweeping investigation ever conducted in the national capital. A blanket clause authorizes the committee of seven which the speaker is to appoint, to inquire into every effort that is making or has been made to influence individual action, committee action, or action by the house as a whole in this or previous sessions of congress.
An effort was made by Representative Kahn, of California, to include in the scope of the resolution an inquiry into the influences behind the recent attempt to postpone the trial of the Diggins-Camlin white slave cases, but it was defeated. Referring to those cases in the debate on the resolution, Mr. Kahn accused the Democratic majority of trying to stifle debate when his resolutions were presented.
"You cannot avoid laying bare these matters," he said. "You cannot stick your heads in the sand, like ostriches, and make believe that the country cannot see you."

One Striking Feature.
One striking feature of the resolution is its intent that a special inquiry shall be made of the methods in vogue to influence legislation by the creation of false public sentiment through high priced accelerators. Along these lines it is proposed to take up the charge of an insidious attempt has been made by the money trust to shape currency legislation through a flood of literature prepared on banking interests and later distributed through the public printer at public expense.
A specific fund raised by a certain group of bankers to carry on this propaganda will receive close attention. "No effort, it is declared, will be made to reopen by this means the money trust investigation, but newly discovered evidence has been introduced to show the lobbying influences of the trust along the lines indicated. Otherwise the scope of the investigation is to include the efforts of every organization which has appeared here by representatives to influence legislation in any way. And the investigation by agreement reached during the debate is to be wide open."

Charge Made by Levy.
A sensational feature of the debate was the charge made by Representative Levy, of New York, that the investigation of the money trust was responsible for the death of J. P. Morgan. Mr. Levy opposed the resolution providing for the new investigation on the ground that the house ought not to dignify the Mulhall charges by taking any official notice of them.
"The money trust probe and the Stanley steel trust investigation," he declared, "served no other purpose than to disturb business. The money trust investigation, he asserted, killed J. P. Morgan, the greatest banker the country ever knew. It also to include the price of stocks a billion dollars."

Mr. Levy stood alone in the expression of his sentiments, and but for the rancor which developed between the old line Republicans and the Bull Mooseers, the resolution would have been promptly adopted.

Mr. Mann Objects.
Mr. Bryan's proposition which precipitated the row would fix upon the committee the duty of investigating and reporting without delay on the charges against every member of the house made by Mulhall. To this Mr. Mann objected that the country was much more interested in ascertaining what influences were endeavoring to shape legislation in clearing the characters of a few members.
"I am opposed to shackling this committee before it is born," he said. "It ought to be possible for the committee without specific instructions, by partial reports from time to time, to pass upon the charges against members."
Mr. Mann intimated that if the committee were instructed to investigate members first it might grow tired of the more general and sweeping inquiry after it had disposed of the charges against its own people. Mr. Rucker, of Missouri, pertinently suggested that unless the charges against members were quickly disposed of, another congressional election would roll around before the scandal had been cleared up and a number of perfectly innocent members would have to go before their constituents resting under a cloud.

Adjournment Is Forced.
But Mann refused to recede and as Bryan insisted upon his amendment, the Republican floor leader raised the point of no quorum and forced an adjournment.
The delay will only be temporary. As it was ascertained later that the Bryan amendment will not be accepted by the rules committee, which under the leadership of Mr. Henry, of Texas, adopted the resolution unanimously at the meeting this morning, the opposition developed from Mr. Levy, all parties and factions are agreed upon the resolution, the differences being only as to form. With a quorum present it will be adopted on Wednesday and the committee will be appointed at once. The investigation will be begun almost immediately thereafter.

Working on Mulhall Letters.
Meanwhile the senate committee is hard at work going over the Mulhall letters and preparing for its own investigation of the charges, which will be reached probably on Tuesday or Wednesday. Monday will be given up to the examination of Edward Lauterbach, relative to the Lamar confession, and to some supplemental questions of Lamar himself. After that the wool and sugar lobby will be taken in hand.
Following is the text of the house resolution reported today:
"Whereas, there have appeared in recent issues of various newspapers published in the United States divers statements and charges as to the existence and activity of a lobby organized by and for the benefit of an organization known as the National Association of Manufacturers, for the purpose of improperly influencing legislation by congress, the official conduct of certain of its members and employees, the appointment and selection of committees of the house and for other purposes designed to effect the integrity of the proceedings of the house of representatives and its members, therefore be it

ALLEGED TO BE AGENT OF MANUFACTURERS' ASSN.

Ex-Representative James E. Watson of Indiana, whom Colonel Mulhall alleges acted as attorney for the National Association of Manufacturers while serving as "whip" of the house.

son of his sentiments, and but for the rancor which developed between the old line Republicans and the Bull Mooseers, the resolution would have been promptly adopted.

Mr. Mann Objects.
Mr. Bryan's proposition which precipitated the row would fix upon the committee the duty of investigating and reporting without delay on the charges against every member of the house made by Mulhall. To this Mr. Mann objected that the country was much more interested in ascertaining what influences were endeavoring to shape legislation in clearing the characters of a few members.
"I am opposed to shackling this committee before it is born," he said. "It ought to be possible for the committee without specific instructions, by partial reports from time to time, to pass upon the charges against members."
Mr. Mann intimated that if the committee were instructed to investigate members first it might grow tired of the more general and sweeping inquiry after it had disposed of the charges against its own people. Mr. Rucker, of Missouri, pertinently suggested that unless the charges against members were quickly disposed of, another congressional election would roll around before the scandal had been cleared up and a number of perfectly innocent members would have to go before their constituents resting under a cloud.

Adjournment Is Forced.
But Mann refused to recede and as Bryan insisted upon his amendment, the Republican floor leader raised the point of no quorum and forced an adjournment.
The delay will only be temporary. As it was ascertained later that the Bryan amendment will not be accepted by the rules committee, which under the leadership of Mr. Henry, of Texas, adopted the resolution unanimously at the meeting this morning, the opposition developed from Mr. Levy, all parties and factions are agreed upon the resolution, the differences being only as to form. With a quorum present it will be adopted on Wednesday and the committee will be appointed at once. The investigation will be begun almost immediately thereafter.

Working on Mulhall Letters.
Meanwhile the senate committee is hard at work going over the Mulhall letters and preparing for its own investigation of the charges, which will be reached probably on Tuesday or Wednesday. Monday will be given up to the examination of Edward Lauterbach, relative to the Lamar confession, and to some supplemental questions of Lamar himself. After that the wool and sugar lobby will be taken in hand.
Following is the text of the house resolution reported today:
"Whereas, there have appeared in recent issues of various newspapers published in the United States divers statements and charges as to the existence and activity of a lobby organized by and for the benefit of an organization known as the National Association of Manufacturers, for the purpose of improperly influencing legislation by congress, the official conduct of certain of its members and employees, the appointment and selection of committees of the house and for other purposes designed to effect the integrity of the proceedings of the house of representatives and its members, therefore be it

Inquiry Into Use of Money.
"Said committee shall also inquire whether money has been used or improper influence exerted by said National Association of Manufacturers or any agent thereof to accomplish the defeat for nomination or election of any candidate for the house of representatives of congress, and said committee shall likewise inquire whether members of congress have been employed by said association for the accomplishment of any improper purpose whatever."
"Said committee is also directed to inquire whether improper influence has been exerted by said association or by any other association, corporation or person to secure the appointment or selection of the committees of the house or any of them."
"Said committee shall also inquire whether the said National Association

'GOODYEAR' WINS BALLOON RACE BY GOING 645 MILES

Three Leaders in Race From Kansas City Land in Michigan Within a Few Miles of Each Other.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Dispatches received tonight by officials in charge of the balloon elimination race which started here yesterday showed the "Goodyear" has won. It covered approximately 645 miles, landing in the vicinity of West Branch, Mich., only 20 miles farther than the balloons "Kansas City Post" and "Kansas City II." The former came down at Rockwood, Mich., about 325 miles from here, and the latter near Goodrich, Mich., about the same distance.
The St. Louis balloon "Million Population" covered 600 miles, landing at Manchester, Mich.

According to the rules of the race, the three leading balloons will represent the United States in the international balloon races in France later this year.
The Kansas City II was the first bag down, landing at 2 p. m. Two hours later Pilot E. H. Upson of the Goodyear wired the Kansas City Aero club. At 10 o'clock tonight word came from Pilot Berry of the Million Population that he had been forced down, and finally the Kansas City Post reported. The last named balloon had a thrilling experience. Pilot Honeywell reported that he was forced to earth by a terrific hurricane two and one half miles east of Rockwood, Mich. Neither pilot nor aide was injured. The place where the balloon landed is on the shore of Lake Huron and Honeywell did not pull the rip cord until his balloon was hovering on the very edge of the lake.

Hikers Had High Time.
The Wolverines Hikers spent the Fourth of July picnicking at Gladstone Park. The ball game was the main event of the day, the score being 9 to 4 in favor of the girls. The Wolverine Hikers will meet for their weekly walk on Friday evening, July 11, at 8:15 p. m. at Twenty-eighth and Thurman streets. The walk will be down St. Helens road to Linnton, and will be captained by Richard Smith.

BABY TALK IS ROT, SAYS PROFESSOR

Dr. Berle of Tufts Says Children Have to Unlearn It All in School.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Denver, July 5.—A new race, a new civilization, when reason and soundness instead of hysteria shall rule politics, education, religion, business and every other phase of life, will come when America applies intensive education to its children, instead of the system now in general use.
That is the prophecy of Professor A. A. Berle of Tufts college, who is in Denver to deliver a series of lectures. "As soon as America embraces the idea of intensive education and applies it generally, the rule of reason will spring up in America. Then, down into the dark ages of American life will go hysteria," said Dr. Berle.
"That means that politics will be made pure, fraud of every kind will be wiped out and a new civilization, a new race, will guide our destinies.

"Every bit of the foolish jargon taught babies nowadays will have to be unlearned some day. The average father and mother, instead of preparing their child for school, instead of establishing a foundation for education and knowledge, do the very opposite.
"The average child spends his first few years in school unlearning all the rote taught him before he enters."

ABOLITION OF HANGING IS SLATED FOR BALLOT

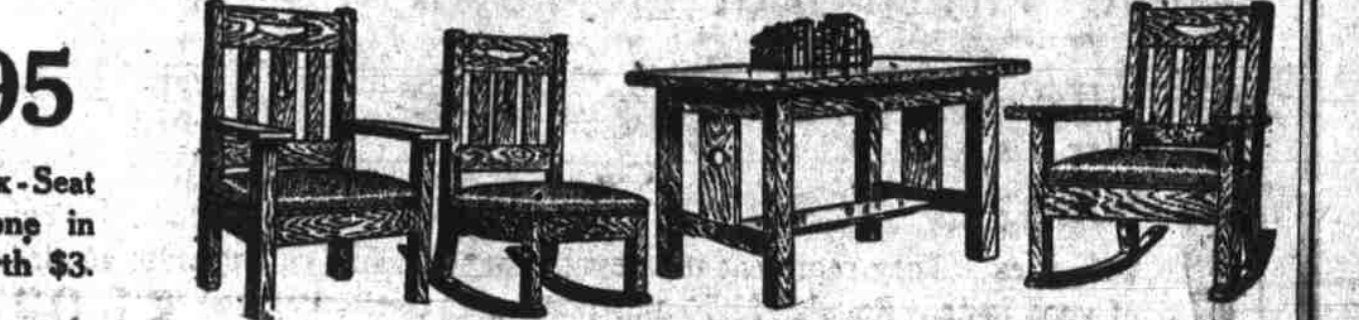

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 5.—A copy of a petition to initiate a measure for the abolition of capital punishment has been submitted to Secretary of State Oloott by the anti-capital punishment crusaders, whose headquarters are with the Universal Auto-metric league in the Selling-Hirsch building, Portland. Secretary Oloott will prescribe a proper form for the petition, which, if understood, will be put in circulation immediately.
Fifty species of fish possess organs capable of imparting electric sparks.

Edwards' Sells Carpets and Linoleum

Did you get in on our last week's special sale of Linoleum at 39c? Did you see the prices we made on Carpets? If you did not, many others did, and if you did not you can have another chance this week at the same rate. Why do we make these prices, and can we deliver the goods? We bought one of the biggest lots of merchandise ever disposed of at one time in Portland, at an enormous discount, and we will divide the benefit with our patrons.

LINOLEUM 39c .. The Yard	CARPETS 50c The Yard for Tapestry Brussels Carpets.	CARPETS 75c Real Velvet The Yard	CARPETS 99c Axminster, a Rich Soft Carpet.
------------------------------------	---	--	--

LEATHER SEAT DINER A Whole Room Full, $34.75

$1.95
A good Box-Seat Diner, done in leather, worth $3.

These are solid oak finished golden color, full size, and come from one of the best makers.

Fumed Oak, Leather, Spring Seats.
A Chair, a Rocker, a Table, a Small Rocker, all for $34.75. Not the kind you usually see advertised for such a price, but a real First street value—worth almost double our price.

Edwards' 3 Room Outfit

For $123.00 we will fit out 3 rooms neatly and comfortably, $12.00 Cash, $10.00 per Month

How Good
—not how cheap a Range can be made —has been the policy of the New Process Company for twenty-six years. The prices are no higher than you pay for lighter, cheaper made goods.

Four-Burner Range, with oven, connected $16.50

SALE OF COLONIAL DRESSERS $18.85
In Oak $19.95
In Maple or Walnut

$22 Brass Bed Sale . $14.50
These Beds are the 2-inch continuous post style. On sale until Wednesday.

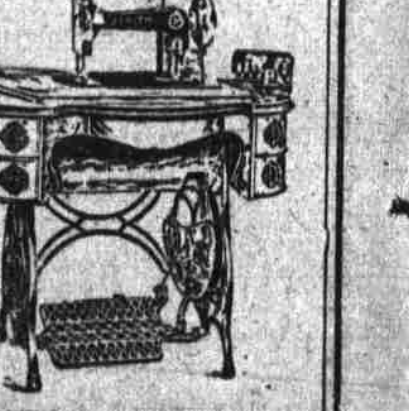

These Dressers are very fine. French mirror, beveled, 22x28 inches. Finish excellent and workmanship the best. They are the regular $25.00 kind.

OLD HICKORY 1/4 OFF
Look at the price on these goods. Give the salesman 1/4 less than they are marked and they are yours—
Small Hickory Chairs now at...$2.25
Arm Hickory Chairs now at...$2.45
Arm Hickory Rockers, now at...$3.60
Hickory Settees, now at...$5.65

Bungalow Suit Three Piece $25.00 SPECIAL

The three pieces shown above are fumed oak with real leather seats. They are priced regularly at $33.00.

NINETEEN DOLLARS
For the amount of sewing done in an ordinary family it is a mistake to pay $50 or $60 for a machine when you can get one that will do all the work well for $19. This machine is not equal to a $50 one, but it is equal to any $25 one in Portland, and it will do the work and give satisfaction and looks as good as a high priced one.

TENNIS PLAYERS

Golfers, sportsmen — all who have occasion to move their eyes rapidly — will appreciate our TORIC lenses. We make them in Kryptoks, in amber, smoke or blue shades.

Perfect fitting Glasses as low as $2.00.
THOMPSON Optical Institute
2d Floor Corbett Bldg. Fifth and Morrison

$100 IN AWARDS

Be sure and read The Journal's ad contest on Page 9, Section 1. An unusual opportunity is offered you to win cash and merchandise prizes.
DON'T MISS IT!

Trading Stamps
Gather Gold Bond Stamps, that are worth real cash or can be paid in on your account the same as money.

185-191 FIRST ST. EDWARDS CO HOUSE FURNISHERS

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE