LIGHT USER SUES; WANTS FLAT RATE CONTRACT

(Special to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., July 9.—C. A. Bell, proprietor of the Mt. Hood hotel of this city, has filed suit in the Hood River county circuit court against the Hood River Gas & Electric company for specific performance of contract to carry out the provisions of the flat rate contract between the company and the hotel at the time the big fight was on in this city between the two rival light companies for business. The State Railroad commission has since decided that flat rates were illegal and ordered the private contracts abrogated. Several hundred light users have the same kind of a contract as the one given to Mr. Bell and the decision in the case will affect about three-fourths of the light and power users in Hood River. Judge Bradshaw granted the hotel an injunction restraining the light company from interfering with the lights, pending settlement of the case.
