

VON KLEIN MUST SUBMIT TO TRIAL WITHOUT DELAY

Court Sets July 15 as Date and Forbids Defendant's Lawyers Quitting the Case Before End of Trial.

E. E. C. Von Klein must stand trial on July 15 for the larceny of $3250 worth of jewelry from Ethel Newcombe and Attorney J. J. Fitzgerald and Sam Johnson must defend him. Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday denied a motion for the continuance of the case and then said to the attorneys that he must hold them to the defense of the prisoner.

"Von Klein had able attorneys while he was out on bail and ample time in which to make out his defense and determine upon his witnesses," said Judge Morrow. "As to Mr. Johnson and Mr. Fitzgerald I do not feel that they should be permitted to quit the case. They are officers of the court even though at the same time acting in a private capacity."

Judge Morrow's refusal to permit the attorneys to withdraw is not new for that jurist. On other occasions he has made this same ruling. Once he even followed an attorney to the elevator and demanded that he either return and try the case in question or go to jail. He forbade the attorney leaving the courthouse and the attorney quickly returned to the courtroom.

Both attorneys said they would appear at the time of trial, but they will on that day ask that they be excused from the case. Both claim they cannot proceed with the case because they are unprepared. Lack of time and money are claimed as the reasons for being unprepared. Johnson said that the district attorney's office had induced Mrs. Rena E. Morrow, Von Klein's only friend, to leave and that with her departure, Von Klein lost his only chance of financial assistance.

Deputy District Attorney McGuire took the position that Von Klein knew of the charges against him last April and had ample time to arrange his defense. He also argued that a delay over the vacation period endangered the prosecution, as the loss of Miss Ethel Newcombe, the complaining witness in the larceny case and in the case charging polygamy, would ruin the state's case. He also said that witnesses for the state are here under expense and that they would scatter throughout the country and it would be considerable task to gather them together again.

Attorney Fitzgerald said that their office was overcrowded with work because of the absence of Attorney John F. Logan in Europe and the appointment of John H. Stevenson as municipal judge. He also pleaded ill health as a reason for postponement as he is suffering from neuritis. According to the statements of Von Klein and the witnesses for the defense will be largely character witnesses and others who will attempt to prove an alibi. Fitzgerald said that some of the best people of Illinois will testify as to Von Klein's good character.

URGE ON FIGHT AGAINST WEEDS

Irvington Club Takes Lead—Tennis Tournament Is Planned.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Irvington club last night it was decided that they should request the city commission to enforce the ordinance against the growing of weeds in vacant lots. A resolution will be drawn up at once and submitted to the commission. The weed nuisance had become very serious in this district and this action was taken for the purpose of getting immediate relief.

It is said that other east side organizations will join with the Irvington club in the movement.

A special committee consisting of W. J. Hoffman, H. M. Haller, F. S. Fields, T. J. Seufert and S. L. Eddy was appointed to represent the club at the Rose Festival reorganization meeting, which will be Thursday.

FRAGRANT PEAS TO DECK HOSPITAL COTS

Select specimens of sweet peas, shown at annual exhibit, which will gladden the sick.

Sweet peas that for two days have made fragrant the south lobby of the Oregon hotel, tomorrow will make restful the hospital cots and the homes of the sick. Officers of the Oregon Sweet Pea society today decided that all the blossoms left after the third annual show, shall be taken in automobiles to the various institutions about the city and made to fulfill a practical as well as a spectacular mission.

Winners of ribbons awarded late yesterday have been requested to bring fresh clusters tonight when they call for their streamers, and these will supplement the displays already on the tables in the distribution among the sick. A unique feature of the show is a display of growing vines, planted in a box and climbing over a trellis. This display, entered by Peter Bragman, was awarded a special prize, no provision for that sort of exhibit having been made in the premium list. This is the manner of display most of the English growers adopt and Manager Ralph Routledge believes it will be a regular feature of future exhibitions.

Spencer Variety in Favor. Significant of the trend of sweet pea culture in Oregon was the absolute lack of entries in the grandiflora class, the Spencer variety having completely supplanted it in favor of fanciers. The Spencer is a prolific bloomer, but scant seeder and, as is noticeable in all highly bred stock, whether in poultry, cattle or flowers, is more difficult to perfect. One of the features of the prize awards was the winning of first prizes in every class in Section B by E. Watkins, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett's garden. Yesterday's program included the dedication of Captain George Pope's "Multnomah," and a talk on sweet pea growing by Thomas Richardson.

The official list of prize awards follows:

EXTENSION OF STREET RAILWAYS IS TOPIC

A meeting of the East Thirty-third Street Improvement association was held last night at the home of Mrs. M. H. Gerin, corner of Knott and East Thirty-third streets. Commissioner W. H. Daly was present at the meeting and advised the members of the power of the new charter regarding the construction of street railway extensions.

The club has recently started an agitation for an extension from East Twenty-fourth street to East Thirty-third street on Broadway, thence north on East Thirty-third to Fremont street. Petitions for the extension have been signed by more than 100 property owners of the district.

After some discussion it was decided that the petitions should be circulated for another week and then be put in proper form before being submitted to the commission. A special committee, consisting of W. M. Gregory, C. P. Cahalin, M. Pike, V. L. Clark and E. Veersteeg, was appointed to take charge of the petitions and put them in proper shape. Commissioner Daly advised the members that they were taking the right course to secure the extension. He predicted that their agitation might lead to a cross-town carline on East Thirty-third street which would serve a much larger district. A large and enthusiastic number of property owners and citizens of the district attended the meeting. President Dr. W. O. Spencer presided.
