

WIDOW OF PENNOYER ESTATE ORDERED

Readjustment of Amount of Inheritance Tax Due State, Sought; Appraisers Named by Judge Cleeton.

A revaluation of the estate of Mary Penoyer, widow of Governor Sylvester Penoyer, was ordered yesterday by Circuit Judge Cleeton on a showing made by Deputy Treasurer Thomas F. Ryan, Assessor Henry E. Reed, President C. F. Adams of the Security Savings & Trust company, and Charles W. Myers, real estate editor of the Oregonian, were appointed appraisers.

The property in question consists of two lots at the northwest corner of West Park and Morrison streets and is a fourth of the site occupied by the Olds, Wortman & King store. It was originally appraised at $87,500, but State Treasurer Kay takes the view that this figure is not in accordance with the value and that the appraisement should be at least $300,000.

Block Under Lease.

This valuation is reached by the assessment of the property made for taxation purposes which places the value at $175,000 for the site and the lots and the value of the building on the site at $250,000. The portion of the building on the lots he would value at $50,000, making the total $300,000.

The entire block on which the store stands is under lease to the trustee company for a term of 50 years at a sliding rental valuation. Under the lease the company was to erect the building at a cost of $300,000, which was to revert to the owners of the land at the end of the lease. The rental is such that at present the two lots bring in $137.50 a month and during the last five years of the lease will draw $237.50 a month. Five years of the lease has already passed and the trustee company has the right to purchase the building at the end of the term. Attorney W. M. Gregory, representing the heirs, contended that the valuation of $375,000 should stand because it was made on the basis of the lease.

Inheritance Tax at Issue.

The controversy was brought about as the result of inheritance taxes which will accrue to the state from the estate. Treasurer Kay considered that the state was entitled to the increased valuation and that the estate should pay higher inheritance taxes. The estate contended that the valuation should be on the basis of the lease.

The original of the estate gave the total value as $128,128.38. Anne Russell, the granddaughter, received from the will property valued at $103,500, and her mother, Gertrude S. Russell, Mrs. Penoyer's daughter, received $17,125. Miss Russell's share of the inheritance tax under that appraisal was $995, while her mother's was $147.25. Should Treasurer Kay's estimate be accepted as right, the state will receive from Miss Russell, to whom the property in question was left, the sum of $2125 additional inheritance tax. This would make the total tax $3110.

Attorney Gregory said this morning that it was not his desire of the estate to escape any just inheritance tax, but that he felt that the lease value was a just basis for the appraisement of the property.

BABY GIRL IS GIVEN BACK TO HER MOTHER

Pretty Rosale May Pierce, 20 months old, will be returned to her mother, Mrs. H. D. Pierce of 183 North Twenty-first street, as the result of an order by Judge Gatens of the juvenile court this morning. The little girl became prominent on account of being left alone by her parents locked in a room all day long while they worked. The mother has given up her work, the father has employment and the mother has promised to remain at home and care for her.

Mrs. Lola Baldwin, of the department of safety for young women, is satisfied with the arrangement and will watch over the baby's welfare. Many offers to take the child were received after the story was known but Mrs. Pierce showed such apparent affection for the baby and promised so faithfully to care for her that she won out.

Lack of work for the father was the reason given by Mrs. Pierce for leaving the baby alone.

DEPUTY MUMPOWER HELD IN $1000 BONDS

(Special to The Journal.) Oregon City, Or., July 19.—William Mumpower, the Clatsop county deputy sheriff who shot the Portland boy, Earl McNaughton, while the latter was attempting to take flight after shooting a dog and being arrested, was this morning bound over to the grand jury by Justice Stevens at Oregon City. His bail was fixed at $1000, which was furnished, and he was released.

McNaughton was out motorcycling with a companion, Lester Coomer, and shot a Bull Terrier that he says attempted to bite Coomer. He was arrested by Mumpower and was trying to get away when shot.

The hearing of Charles Wright, the Oregon City barber who shot twice to kill Miss Elsie Utiker, after declaring she had ruined his life, but missed her both times, is being held this afternoon in the same court.

MILTON E. DILLEY, PIONEER, IS DEAD

Washington County Resident Passes Away at Age of 77 Years.

(Special to The Journal.) Forest Grove, Or., July 19.—Milton E. Dilley, 77, a prominent pioneer of Washington county, and for whom the town of Dilley was named, died yesterday. Mr. Dilley was born in Charlottesville, Ind., in 1836. In 1853 he crossed the plains and settled in Linn county. In 1857 he joined the gold rush to California, but returned within the same year and settled in Washington county. He owned a 500 acre farm near Forest Grove, besides considerable property in the town proper.

Mr. Dilley married Miss Martha Poole in 1852 and the following children survive him: Thomas, of Washington, and Allen, James, John and Mrs. Lillian Stream of Forest Grove.

Mr. Dilley was a well known Mason and was for 38 years tyler of the local Masonic lodge.

REQUEST AUDITOR TO ASK FOR BIDS

Commissioner Daly Seeking Money for Extensions in Water Service.

City Auditor Barbur has been requested by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, to advertise at once for bids for the sale of $50,000 worth of bonds. These bonds are expected to defray the expenses of the necessary city water extensions and tide the water department over a month.

Mr. Daly had figured on issuing public utility certificates in small denominations and sell them to the residents of the city at par to insure the fund for putting in necessary water extensions. He thought the charter gave the city the power to issue these certificates, but City Attorney La Roche, in a verbal opinion, stated that public utility certificates can not be issued for water work purposes.

Contractors constructing buildings in the business section of the city will have to remove all material and obstructions from the streets in accordance with the contract. This is the order of the commissioner of public works today.

In a number of places downtown, particularly in the busiest section, contractors are said to be violating this rule and are obstructing the streets, making traffic almost impossible. It got so bad a few weeks ago at some of the corners that a patrolman had to be stationed there to see that material was not dumped on more of the street than they were allowed.

If this new rule is enforced it will be the first time in a number of years where contractors have complied with their contracts and not obstructed the streets or left material which had to be removed by the street cleaning department.

The builders of the structures on the Pittcock block at Tenth and Washington streets applied for a permit to occupy a larger portion of the intersection of Stark and Tenth streets than had been allowed them, but this was refused by the council Wednesday upon the recommendation of the commissioner of public works.

SUBURBAN WATER USERS GET METERS

All mains supplying Bull Run water to residents on the outskirts beyond the city limits will be attached with meters at a point where the pipes leave the town, according to an announcement of Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities. This is to bring about equitable water rates. Under the new system it will be necessary for water-users outside of the city tapping a pipe to arrange for the collection of the monthly water rent and deliver the money to the city.

The city, under the old system, has been collecting water rental from individual property owners outside of the city using Bull Run water. Mr. Daly's decision was made after the backers of the South West Side Water Co. complained that persons who had not paid their share of the cost of a pipe which the concern had laid wanted to attach pipes to their mains and not recompense the company.

Gevurtz Case to Jury Today.

The taking of evidence in the trial of Phil Gevurtz and Mrs. Grace Lancaster on a statutory charge ended last night and this morning was taken up in arguments to the jury. It is expected that Circuit Judge Kavanagh will instruct the jury and that the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

Mother Seeks Allowance.

A petition made by Mrs. Euphonia M. Eastwick that she be allowed $100 from the estate of her son, Benjamin Eastwick, who is an inmate of the insane asylum at Salem, has been turned over by the county commissioners to District Attorney Evans for investigation. She alleges that she is destitute and that her two sons received all of the estate of her husband, the income from which amounts to $1600 for each son each year. The other son is connected with the International Banking company, of Panama.

Proceedings Must Wait.

The mandamus proceedings instituted by George K. McCord of the Portland News to force Sheriff Ward to admit him to the county jail, will probably not be taken up until next September. Circuit Judge Morrow, who drew the case, refused yesterday to hear arguments on a motion to quash the proceedings and no other judge would take it up prior to the opening of the September term of court. All are engaged in preparation for vacation and none had time for the case.

ALL DOGS MUST BE KEPT LEASHED UNTIL MUZZLES SECURED

Poundmaster Says No Excuse Will Be Accepted; Fifty Animals Taken Up Since Ordinance Enacted.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Tacoma, Wash., July 19.—"Although we are in a throes of tariff and currency legislation, two things ordinarily likely to halt business, the outlook commercially is excellent," said Josephus Daniels, secretary of the Navy, upon returning to his office yesterday. "I have visited lately, I find a sentiment of optimism prevailing and this condition is particularly marked on the Pacific coast."

Secretary Daniels declined to talk about the voting of the sailors of the Pacific reserve fleet last night. Mr. Daniels believes that the opening of the Panama canal will have great influence upon the development of the coast.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS REFUSE TO PAY STATE

With the state claiming nearly $11,000 from Multnomah county for care of insane patients from this county and the county claiming $1076.62 from the state for the care of non-resident paupers the county commissioners yesterday refused to pay the state's bill which was presented by Deputy State Treasurer Ryan.

The last legislature reduced the indebtedness of the state to the county to $20.83 but the commissioners refused to accept this reduction and the next legislature will be asked to allow the full amount, which will remain unpaid, according to the commissioners.

SEATTLE SALOONS CLOSED; MAYOR IN CHARGE OF POLICE

(Continued From Page One.) stood by while the King county headquarters were wrecked, says that he was notified an hour before the riot by the son of a Seattle banker that the saloons in the city during Saturday and to prevent all street meetings except those conducted by religious organizations.

Concerning the censorship over the Seattle Times, which publication has the report of Secretary Daniels' alleged speech before the Rainier club Thursday night on the "Red Flag," the mayor's written order says:

"Thatasmuch as the exaggerated, false and sensational publication which has been made by the Seattle Times, and particularly the issue of Friday evening, July 15, 1913, include a plain and wilful inciting of the riot which followed, and in doing so, on the part of those responsible for the publication, knowledge of the lawless and riotous intentions which were committed that night, you are hereby directed to stop the issuance, sale, or circulation of any form of publication which contains any such matter, and to prevent all street meetings except those conducted by religious organizations."

Later, Mayor Cottrell notified the Seattle Times and other officials to make an inventory of all papers destroyed and send it to him at once. "All losses resulting from last night's riots will be paid for by either the federal government or the city," he said.

"Young America," says Admiral. Admiral Reynolds, commander of the Pacific reserve fleet, will not curtail the liberty of his men for their rioting against the Socialists and I. W. W.'s last night and the usual number will be allowed liberty tonight. When asked about the riot he said:

"I don't know, but I guess some young American, whether a sailor or not, resented some real or fancied insult and then the trouble commenced. It was at dinner last night when I received a message from the chief of police saying that the sailors from the fleet were gathered about the I. W. W. headquarters and making trouble. I at once dispatched a patrol of 35 men and an officer, but by the time they arrived the actual fighting was over."

"I do not know the local situation, or what ulterior motives, if any, inspired the disturbance. Nor am I interested. I shall not refuse the men shore leave tonight, but I will tolerate any disorderly conduct on the part of the men of the fleet. I regret sincerely the destruction of property but I do not know that the sailors had a hand in it."

Colonel A. J. Blithen, editor in chief of The Times, announced that he will have an injunction served on Mayor Cottrell to prevent him from exercising censorship, before noon today.

SEATTLE MOB WRECKS AND BURNS CONTENTS OF HALLS OF I. W. W.

(Continued From Page One.) nue and Washington street at 7:30 in the evening. Here about 50 demonstrators gathered for a demonstration at the scene of the fight the night before. A riot call was turned in and the police forced the demonstrators to move on.

Marching to Fourth avenue and Pike street, where an I. W. W. was haranguing the crowd, the speaker was driven away.

A news stand, owned by Millard Price, at which the I. W. W. was sold, was smashed. Continuing to Fifth avenue and Virginia streets, the mob broke into King county Socialist headquarters in the Granite hotel and wrecked the news stand, and picked up every movable out into the street. The torch was applied and books, benches and banners went up in smoke. The doors were kicked in, windows broken and most of the furniture thrown out in the street, including a piano. No attempt was made to get fire to the pile and the mob started for Washington street and Occidental avenue again, where probably 1500 people were jammed in the streets. Climbing the fire escape amid frantic cheers, the sailors smashed the windows of the I. W. W. hall on the corner of Pike and Washington streets, and headed by 100 sailors and nearly 500 women, they returned to the King county Socialist headquarters where they threw everything into the street and set fire to the pile. Continuing to the church at Seventh and Olive,

C. P. FILES SUIT TO ENJOIN STATE. R. R. COMMISSIONS FEARS INTERFERENCE OF CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA BOARD WITH NEW EQUIPMENT TRUST CERTIFICATES TO BE ISSUED.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, July 19.—A bill in equity was filed in the United States district court today by the Southern Pacific to enjoin the California railroad commission from asserting jurisdiction over certain equipment trust certificates, which the Southern Pacific proposes to issue to New York, for this purpose of acquiring rolling stock, which the company believes is necessary in its interstate and intrastate business.

Company officials announced that a similar suit will be filed against the Arizona corporation commission to enjoin it from asserting jurisdiction over an issue of 25 year notes aggregating $30,000,000, which the company expects to issue for capital expenditures in the states through which it operates.

The suits will bring to a point the question of whether the individual states can take jurisdiction over the financial affairs of a railroad doing an interstate business. The Southern Pacific officials declare that, if each state undertakes to regulate the finances of the road, it cannot work out a general plan which will satisfy all.

The company explained the purpose of the suits today in a statement, which says:

"These suits are rendered necessary because of the broad provisions of the public utilities statutes in both California and Arizona, which declared void any bond or other evidences of indebtedness issued by any public utility, operating within such states where the approval of the respective state railroad commissions has not been obtained."

It is alleged in the bill of complaint that because of these statutory provisions and the claim of the respective state commissions that their approval is necessary to the validity of all such bonds and note issues, it is impossible for the company to make the financial arrangements essential to its interstate business, except upon such terms as the respective state commissions may impose.

All of this, it is claimed, is in contravention of the right of the company to engage in interstate commerce without interference by state authority.

PLANS CUTTING DOWN CURBINGS Purpose Is to Give More Room to Vehicle Traffic; Opposition Expected.

The corner curbings in the downtown section of the city are to be cut back several feet to give more room for street purposes, if the plan, contemplated by the commissioner or public works is put into effect. The commissioner has asked City Attorney La Roche for an opinion as to whether the city has a right to take such action, and if so an ordinance will probably be drafted giving the city the authority to have them cut back.

The proposed plan is expected to meet with strong opposition, particularly from owners of downtown buildings and those who occupy them. At present many merchants are using the space under the sidewalk for storage and workroom purposes. In most cases the space at the corners is also utilized.

Under the new proposed system it will mean that those using this space will have to vacate and the street so fixed as to insure more room. It is the plan to cut or move curbs back some distance, the number of feet to be determined later. This will mean that there will be considerable more room at the street intersections but less for pedestrians in turning corners.

OFFICIALS DECIDE TO CONTINUE THE I. W. W. CAMPAIGN

(Continued From Page One.) pose, even if we have to carry gas pipes." At this remark Sheriff Word stepped forward and curtly informed Reese that he "wanted him." Reese immediately climbed down and surrendered.

As Sheriff Word and his deputies started to lead Reese away, a number of agitators in the crowd began to shout "Turn him loose." Get Word, the dirty old man, stepped forward and in an instant a turmoil was on. The officers drew their clubs and were forced to use them freely.

James Gregory is said to have mixed in the scuffle with the sheriff and to have jumped on his back in an effort to free the prisoner. Gregory was knocked down, and received a cut over the eye in the resulting melee.

Crowd Follows Officers. The officers were forced to take Reese down Third street and around to the courthouse. The crowd followed closely and when the prisoner was within the courthouse the deputies turned back and cleared the block.

Six men were arrested during the disturbance. They were: James Gregory, J. Beeler, G. W. Reese, Henry Peterson, Hugo Mattson, and Frank Schelski. This brings the total number of arrests since the trouble started last Tuesday evening to 64.

These six men were arraigned in the police court this morning. They demanded jury trials. Bail was set at $250 each and they were returned to the county jail. Gregory's trial was set for July 23.

Reese declares he did not attack the sheriff as charged, and that he was the victim of a rush which followed the trouble.
