

AT THE SEASHORE

NORTH BEACH

North Beach, Wash., July 24.—Continued pleasant weather and warm weather inland are making North Beach a popular place nowadays. People are coming now to stay. Practically all the summer cottages are open and house guests are arriving.

The city, with all its bigness, is petty. Perhaps it is so because it is man made. Half the restful beauty of a beach lies in the fact of its difference from the city. It is big, free, untrammelled. It is getting back to "terra firma" from which another year's struggle for the things of life has taken us away.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Klein, of Portland, are tenting in Woodhams, The Meadows.

Cottaging near Long Beach are Miss Ola Denison and Dr. C. B. Zeelbruech and family.

NEWPORT

Newport, Or., July 24.—Deep sea fishing and clam digging continue to be the chief diversions of the summer visitors at Newport. The very low tides the first of the week enabled everyone to secure all the razor clams he could eat and the smooth bar has given the deep sea boats the opportunity of the season.

The heat in the valley has caused the crowds arriving here to trouble in size and the Nye Beach camp grounds are taking on their familiar appearance.

A false report that a man had been drowned north of Jump-Off-Joe the early part of the week caused much excitement but after a number of people had gone up the beach and found nothing the story was found to be a hoax started somewhere in Newport.

Joseph A. Hill of Portland entertained the Newport Commercial club with a banquet at the Oceanhill hotel last Saturday, which was in the nature of a get-together booster meeting.

The Oceanhill management is cooperating with Newport and Agate Beach to unify the efforts of the three beaches.

Ward McDough of Portland arrived Wednesday and joined his mother at the Oceanhill. The wide lawn at the Oceanhill is becoming popular as a picnic grounds and many parties from Newport are visiting there every week.

Registered at the Nicolai from Portland are: Mrs. N. D. Simon, Misses Ellis and Carolyn Simon, Miss Sammenfield, Sig Wertheimer, F. E. Pritchard, Mrs. J. C. Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Braun, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Misses Elizabeth and Mary McLaughlin of Salem; Misses Emma and George Aubrey from Eugene; E. E. Howard, Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dabney, Los Angeles, Cal.; Kate Hall, Flora Hill and Rachel Haggerty of Jacksonville, Ill.; Messrs. Percy and Seth Riggs and Emma Riggs of Portland.

William Service of Silverton arrived Wednesday and joined his family at Thistle-dale cottage for the summer.

Sam B. Archer and M. F. Stewart of Portland are at the Kelly for a few days' stay at the beach.

Richard S. McCaffery of Portland is in the Langdon cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Routledge and Miss Anna Routledge of Corvallis are in the Covell cottage on the ridge for the season.

Among Portlanders registered at the Oceanhill are: F. Benson and wife, E. L. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Craig, L. Brasfield and wife, Clifford and Robert Brasfield.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. L. Fairley of Portland are in the Phillips' camp ground for a month at the beach.

William B. Falk of Portland is in De Wither Inn cottage for a month's vacation.

S. E. Pettigill and Miss Ethel Pettigill of Portland are in one of the Seacrest bungalows for a month.

Frank Krats and family of Portland are camping in the Whitten camp ground.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Woodward of Salem are in the Churchill cottage for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Barnett of Salem are in one of the Cherry City lodges for the summer.

Senior R. A. Booth and family of Eugene are in a Nye Beach cottage for the summer.

David B. Irvin of Salem is visiting with his brother, S. G. Irvin, of Newport.

A. E. Burelgh of Portland is camped in Tent City for a week.

W. F. Fryar of Portland and family are in a bungalow in Tent City for the month.
