

EX-PAGE IN CONGRESS CORROBORATES STORIES RELATED BY MULHALL

Says He Frequently Gave Representative McDermott and Other Members Money.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Aug. 16.—Chief Page cross-examination of former Chief Page McMichael of the house of representatives by Attorney Eassey Smith, acting for Representative McDermott of Illinois, this afternoon indicated that Smith hoped to prove that McDermott's payment of salary for supporting accusations made by Martin M. Mulhall, former self-styled lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers.

McMichael admitted he is receiving $75 weekly from the New York papers originally publishing Mulhall's story. He asserted however, that these payments covered articles he expected to write on the subject of "Twenty Years in the House." Smith developed several contradictions in McMichael's testimony concerning dates, but the latter was unruffled, saying these were "mere slips of memory."

Other Members Involved. Resuming his testimony before the lobby investigators, McMichael hinted that to his knowledge other members of the house were friendly with Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, and recently with Representative McDermott of Illinois. This came when counsel for McDermott sought information concerning an item in Mulhall's expense account for an $8 dinner for himself, McMichael and McDermott in 1910.

"I do not remember who were there," said McMichael. "Sometimes we had lunch with us."

"We are not going into that part of it," said Chairman Garrett, and McMichael was not pressed further along this line.

Asked support for McDermott. "You say you persuaded Mulhall," asked counsel for McDermott, "to ask the N. A. M. without McDermott's knowledge, asking them to support McDermott?"

"Yes," answered McMichael. "It was in March I believe, in 1912, that McDermott, Mulhall and myself met in a private room at the capitol and arranged for Mulhall to visit Chicago and raise $5,000 for the N. A. M. to help out in McDermott's primaries."

"When did you break with McDermott?" asked counsel for McDermott. "On my sickbed in April, 1913," answered McMichael. "I sent for McDermott but he never came to see me."

Gave McDermott Money. Yesterday McDermott testified to the close relationship between himself and Representative McDermott, saying he frequently kept McDermott in spending money, part of which was obtained from the Manufacturers association, and saying he, McDermott and Mulhall had a room in the basement of the capitol where they frequently adjourned to the private dining room of a nearby hotel.

McMichael's profanity, slang and affronts were a source of astonishment to the committee. The page corroborated the evidence of Mulhall that the manufacturers maintained a paid lobby in congress to fight for a high tariff, telling how the messengers of the speaker and House Leader Underwood were paid to betray papers entrusted to them into the hands of the lobbyists. McMichael said when McDermott read Mulhall's testimony implicating him he begged him (McMichael) to admit that he wrote the allegedly incriminating papers to Mulhall and the Manufacturers' association, and if he should receive a jail sentence to pay him $100 a month while he was in jail.

Throughout the hearing the accused congressman sat beside the witness with his attorney seated beside him.

Gun Was Loaded All Right. While Clifford Martin, 18, living near Yacolt, Wash., was trying to figure out whether or not a .22 calibre rifle was loaded, the gun went off and a bullet struck him under the chin and lodged in his jaw. Clifford is now at Good Samaritan hospital, and after the X-ray locates the leaden missile it will probably be cut out. Charley Rodgers, whom to Clifford, was with him when the accident happened, and the two had planned a hunting trip.

CHILD ACTRESS' STORY INVOLVES LOS ANGELES Carol Mason Found After Long Search; Two Men Put Under Arrest.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—Henry W. Haskamp, who is said to be the son of a wealthy Canadian lumber baron, and Robert Burton, a young business man of Los Angeles, are under arrest today, following the recital to the police by Carol Mason, a 15-year-old motion picture actress, of one of the most sordid tales of juvenile delinquency that has come to their attention.

Burton submitted to arrest and at once retained counsel. Haskamp refused to unlock his apartment to the officers, and he was taken and handcuffed only after the doors had been battered down. He denies the girl's allegations.

Miss Mason dropped from sight here August 5. She was found yesterday in Hawthorne station, a suburb, working in a lodging house as a domestic. Her heavy black hair had been stained auburn. According to the police, she had been warned since her arrival at Hawthorne to communicate with no one. She told a story that included long automobile rides, dinners at beach cafes and finally an operation that she said was performed by a Los Angeles doctor. The police are looking for this doctor, and three other young business men they claim the girl has involved.

Haskamp came to Los Angeles several months ago and entered the real estate business. He is 42 years old and recently was divorced. The police say his father is Herman Haskamp, of Prince Rupert, B. C.

REGON BANKERS TO BE REPRESENTED BY WYLD E. A. Wyld, vice-president of the Security Savings & Trust company, of Portland, who is now in Washington, was requested by telegraph today to act as a representative of the Oregon State Bankers' association at a conference of bankers in Chicago, August 27, called by Chairman E. The request was made by W. L. Thompson, president of the state banking organization, following the receipt of an invitation asking the association to have a representative present when the proposed Owens Banking bill will come up for discussion.

Mr. Wyld is in Washington at present as a representative of the Portland clearing house, in connection with the proposed distribution of $50,000,000 of government money among western banks for use in moving the crops, a plan suggested by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

LANE COMES DOWN FROM MOUNT RAINIER TO THE SOUND CITIES

Favors East and West Road Through Mt. Rainier Park but Shudders at the Cost.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, formerly a resident of this state, arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning, and was taken for an automobile trip about the city, and held a public reception at the Seattle Commercial club. Tonight he will be the guest at a formal dinner at the Rainier club, and a reception at the Press club.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 16.—Franklin K. Lane brought his visit to Tacoma to a close at noon today after delivering a brief speech at the Commercial club to some 200 persons. The secretary and party reached the city from the National Park Inn, where they spent last night. During the outing yesterday in the National park the party proceeded as far up the mountain as Reesee's camp and had a splendid view of the snow-capped peak. Speaking of the needs of this section, Secretary Lane said:

"There should be an east and west road through the park, from North Yakima to Tacoma. I understand that estimates of road construction in the park show the cost of constructing roads there is much higher than in other national parks and that $10,000 or $12,000 per mile would be the average cost here. For such an expenditure congress must be converted."

Referring to the great power development possibilities of the national park and in other parts of the state, Secretary Lane said:

"I want to see these power sites utilized. The federal government can impose conditions in leases which protect the people. The recent contract at Pend d'Oreille is a case in point. The true conservation policy is the utilization of resources and the protection of the consumer in the matter of prices charged."

SIGHT OF MAXIM GUN SCATTERS STRIKE MOB Chinese Sections in Vancouver Island Towns Are Burned by Rioters.

(Special to the Journal.) Victoria, B. C., Aug. 16.—Troops have the situation in the strike area thoroughly under control. A riot started this morning in Chinatown, at South Wellington. Troops took a Maxim gun to the scene and the mob was overawed without firing. Mobs last night wrecked and burned Chinamen's houses at Extension but got away before troops arrived.

Over 100 warrants for the arrest of ringleaders were issued this morning and many arrests are expected soon.

UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT IMPOSED BY COURT

Two weeks' enforced absence from his home and his two children is the punishment imposed upon a Goedecke this morning in place of a fine. He is 14½ Morris street, for abusing his wife.

During this two weeks Goedecke is to work and send his money home, both husband and wife to report August 30 to Judge Stevenson how the separation has worked.

"If this man loves his children as he says he does, two weeks without their childish play should be as good punishment as 30 days on the rockpile," said the judge in connection with the support. You are a good workman, you have a nice wife. The two children, ages 2 and 3 years, should keep you together. I like a absence in this case should make the heart grow fonder."

Mrs. Goedecke complained that her husband whipped her yesterday. He admitted it, justifying his act by relating that Mrs. Goedecke did not properly take care of the home. They have been married four years. Goedecke is a switchman. He earns $125 a month.

GOVERNMENT ACCUSES LOCAL DRUG COMPANY

Information charging violation of the insecticide act was filed against the Blumauer-Frank Drug company by the government this morning in the United States district court. The drug company is charged with having shipped a mislabeled product known as "resacogent" from Portland to Boise, Idaho. There are three charges. The label mistakes, says the government, when it has on it the words "non-poisonous," because analysis shows that it is poisonous, although the label manager, whose information does not state. The label also says that the fluid contained within destroys the insect known as a tick, and this statement the government also says is not true. The preparation also contains a large quantity of "inert substance, towit, water," and the label, it is said, does not state just how much water there is in the mixture. The complaint was filed by Deputy United States Attorney Sumrall.

SUMMONS MUST BE PUBLISHED IN DAILIES

Publication of summonses in divorce suits in small trade, religious and other papers having circulation only in certain areas is tabooed in Circuit Judge McGinn's court. Judge McGinn believes that proper publicity can be had only by publishing the summonses in daily newspapers of general circulation. Some time ago he announced this policy and yesterday he refused to allow attorneys in two suits to make use of the smaller papers. Summonses are published only when it is impossible to secure proper service on defendants. Judge McGinn declared he did not favor the use of any but general circulation newspapers came within the spirit of the law.

Captain Keller Has Returned.

Captain of Police Keller last evening returned from his 15 days' vacation, taking command of the second night relief in the absence of Captain Sloyer, who has been in charge during the former's vacation. Captain Keller has tendered Mayor Ahee his resignation, to take effect October 1. Until that time he will be used in the place of other captains who will take their vacations.
