

NEWLANDS PREFERS HIS POLITICAL LIFE TO DEMOCRATIC TARIFF

Senate Leaders Are Reported Alarmed at Word That Nevada Member to Oppose Bill

(By the International News Service.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—Senate Democratic managers were alarmed to-night when news reached them that Senator Newlands of Nevada, who has been out west for a month fixing up his political fences, is coming back to vote against the tariff measure. He comes up for reelection next year. It is stated that Newlands has been notified that if he votes for free wool and free sugar he will have to return to private life. He is known to be against the bill on principle and opposed it in caucus.

Senator Newlands holds the balance of power because of the death of Senator Johnston and the illness of Senator Culberson. If he votes against the bill a Democratic majority of only one will be turned into a Democratic minority of one.

Agricultural Schedule Debate Drags.

Conclusion of today's debate on the tariff bill in the senate found the agricultural schedule only two-thirds complete, though it has been under discussion for a week.

During today's debate Senator Burton warned the Democrats that their proposed duty on bananas is a slap in the face of all the countries of the Caribbean sea at a time when this country should strengthen its friendly relations.

Senator Lodge accused the Democrats of turning the fishing industry over to Nova Scotia and New Foundland by letting fish come in free. He declared that 25,000 fishermen would be thrown out of work and the New England market absolutely controlled by foreign fishermen.

CUDAHY SUGGESTS TARIFF COMMISSION

American Beef Packer Declares Politicians Are the Nation's Curse.

London, Aug. 16.—Patrick Cudahy, who is here for a six weeks' rest, in speaking today on business conditions in America said:

"The chief effect of the tariff bill on our business will be to let in a considerable quantity of beef from South America. We welcome this because we are rapidly approaching a condition when we will be compelled to import beef. The day of unlimited free pastures is gone. Farmers are now finding it expensive to raise beef and prices are going up as a consequence."

"There may be a few hogs coming from Southern Canada but I do not anticipate that this will have any effect on the market. I believe that the difficulties caused by the tariff can be adjusted. What is needed most is the creation of an independent tariff commission which will investigate the whole matter and take it out of politics. That would be the best way to kill lobbying. Our country just now is cursed by politicians. I believe there is good times ahead. Although the corn crop is not very good, the wheat crop is excellent and ought to boost business."

DAUGHTER OF DUPONT REPORTED REMARRIED

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 15.—Madeline Dupont, eldest daughter of Alfred I. Dupont, wealthy powder magnate, who was divorced by her husband, John Bancroft, Jr., in a sensational suit here over 18 months ago, has married Max Heibler of Munich, Germany, it is reported that reached here today is true. Heibler was co-respondent in the famous litigation.

An infant son of his wife whom Bancroft divorced made a case against her by the husband, it being called Max Heibler, Jr., by him. The divorced wife has been in Germany for some time.

At the home of Mrs. Bessie Gardner Dupont, mother of Madeline Dupont, it was announced that nothing has been heard of the daughter's re-marriage.

At Moving Pictures

—No child should sit nearer than 30 feet way from the curtain.
—Children as a rule like to crowd down to the front of the show and the parent sees no objection.
—The nearer the child is to the front, the worse the effect on the immature eye.

—As many parents accompany their children to these shows let them force the children to take back seats, 30 or 40 feet back, if possible. It would be even a better idea if the management of these shows would prescribe a line beyond which the child would not be allowed to sit, for a Nation of defective eyes may be expected if something isn't done along this line of reform.

RICH LUMBERMAN'S SON ACCUSED BY GIRL

H. W. Haskamp, Another Los Angeles Business Man and Doctor Are Involved.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—Held on a charge of assault, Henry W. Haskamp, who claims to be the son of a Canadian lumber king, occupied a cell in the county jail here today while efforts were being made to establish communication with his father.

The charge against Haskamp, and a similar one against Robert Burton, Los Angeles business man, were preferred after Carol Mason, 15, had told the police an amazing story of adventures that reached a climax when she fled from Los Angeles after dyeing her hair to avoid recognition.

Dr. Royal Crist gave himself up to the police tonight after a warrant had been issued charging him with performing an illegal operation on the girl.

No further arrests had been made to-night although the police admitted they are searching for three other business men the girl has implicated.

NEW YORK TORN BY DIVIDED AUTHORITY OF GLYNN-SULZER

there, and that there is a real question as to who is governor.

Until some of the questions already raised, like the validity of Glynn's signature on bank checks and the letter of ruling, the business of the state will be attended with much confusion, if indeed it can be transacted at all.

Mr. Sulzer expected to leave this morning for Cooperstown with his wife, but partly because of her illness and partly because of his fear that he would be dispossessed in the absence, he decided to remain. He was much more cheerful today, plainly he is encouraged by the failure of Mr. Glynn to attempt to oust him by force. He has had a great number of telegrams bidding him hold the fort and in these he reads a popular opinion, which he thinks will quite overshadow the action of the assembly, if it comes to a final shewn down before the high court of impeachment.

Glynn Refuses Sulzer's Letter.

Sulzer, after conferring with his attorneys this morning, gave out a letter which he had dispatched to Mr. Glynn, but which the latter did not know anything about until he read it in his own paper, as he refused to for his office.

The letter stated that the writer regretted he could not have Mr. Glynn's help in straightening out the situation.

Sulzer, who never doubts his own ability to make friends, is worried because his lawyers will not allow him to go out and attack Murphy openly. He knows that the public sentiment is against Tammany Hall and feels that if it can be effectively aroused he will never come to trial. This is altogether apart from the plan of his lawyers for his defense. To newspapermen to whom Mr. Sulzer talks he says:

Call Charges Unimportant.

"The public is not interested in these charges. They amount to nothing. Go see John Hennessey and he will give you a story so much bigger than all this that you will have to print it. We will have all these people indicted in a little while and then you will see just how little this stack on me counts."

Here is one of the few of the 250 telegrams the governor gave out today:
"Amsterdam, N. Y., Aug. 13, 1913.—Honorable William Sulzer, Executive Office, Albany, N. Y.—The rank and file of the people are expressing themselves in your favor and wish me to express to you to stick tight.

(Signed) "THERON AKIN,"
"Member of Congress."
Glynn to be Reorganized.

The legislature will officially recognize Acting Governor Glynn on Tuesday night. It will be necessary to have a message calling for the passage of a supply bill in order to validate such action at an extraordinary session.

Sulzer has hitherto refused to issue such a message and has thus kept the legislature in a tied session, as no money can be had for the expenses of the session until this bill can be passed.

The Republican leaders in the assembly, who are strongly pro-Sulzer, will fight against receiving a message from Glynn, but the Democrats have shown that they have a majority and the bill will be passed.

Mrs. Sulzer Is Better.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Sulzer's condition is greatly improved this evening. Dr. Robert Abrahams, who arrived at 1 o'clock in response to a hurry call, returned to New York at 9 p. m.

Letter Question Dodged.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The federal government, through the postoffice department tonight, dodged the task of deciding who is the real governor of New York.

"All mail for the governor of New York officially or otherwise," said First Assistant Postmaster General Roper, "will be delivered at the executive chamber at Albany until the postmaster at Albany shall direct otherwise."

JAPANESE BRAVE SEAS IN SMALL CRAFT TO AVOID AGENTS OF U. S.

15 Orientals Captured in San Francisco After 55 Days of Thrilling Experiences at Sea

(By the International News Service.)
San Francisco, Aug. 16.—That fully a score of Japanese sampans have been successfully navigated across the Pacific within the past few years and that hundreds of Asiatics have adopted this hazardous method of evading the vigilance of Uncle Sam's immigration officials, was learned today when the 15 Japanese captured while landing from a small junk, made a confession while waiting for deportation at Angel Island.

During the recital of the events of the unusual voyage across the 6000 miles of open sea between the coast of Japan and the shores of Mendocino, it developed that four of the Japanese have been in this country before and speak English as fluently as many of our citizens.

The sampan was purchased at Yokohama for $225. An additional $100 was spent for supplies and the 15 Japanese set sail for the United States. The passage was accomplished in 55 days and was replete with exciting events.

Three severe storms were encountered and at times the small craft was nearly swamped by the huge seas. During eight days of the voyage every Japanese on board was kept busy baling the water as fast as possible.

It was the intention of the Japanese in case they had not been detected to fill the boat with stones, bore a hole in the bottom and sink the craft so that no trace would be discovered.

SUIT BEGUN AT SALEM ON NOTE 24 YEARS OLD

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Aug. 16.—Suit was begun here today to collect a demand promissory note made nearly a quarter of a century ago. The note is dated March 25, 1888, and is a promise to pay $129.44 on demand of W. W. Steiner. The maker of the note is H. Vance Clijmer. The only payment ever made on the note, according to the complaint, was $20.15 paid in 1892. Both men left the state years ago and it appears both have just returned, so Steiner has brought suit for $425.24, being the amount of the principal and accumulated interest.

DANIELS REFUSES TO HELP REINSTATE POTTS

Washington, Aug. 16.—Secretary Daniels has again blocked Captain M. T. Potts in his fight to be restored to the active list of the navy at advanced rank. Captain Potts was retired by the so-called "plucking" board.

Secretary Daniels today rendered adverse reports on legislation looking toward Captain Potts' restoration.

In 1912 the Cigarmakers' International union paid out $204,775.61 in sick benefits.

MANY POPULAR BIDS ARE EXPECTED FOR ISSUE OF DOCK BONDS

Commission Offers Quarter of Entire Amount to Small Bidders; First Time in History.

In a formal advertisement the public docks commission officially announces today its intention to give small investors of Portland a chance to buy the dock bonds of the city.

Two blocks of bonds are offered, one of $250,000 to be issued in denominations of $100 and $500 for the benefit of local investors; the other block consisting of $750,000 offered in $1000 denominations. The entire issue runs for 30 years and pays interest at the rate of five per cent. It is expected that the $750,000 will be sold in the usual way to bond dealers.

But it is hoped that the people of Portland will take up the entire $250,000 issue in small lots.

This is the first offering of bonds approaching a popular bond sale in the history of Portland.

Heretofore Sold in Lump.

Hitherto when bonds have been advertised for sale they have been sold in a lump to the highest responsible bidder. This meant that the cost was more than local investors cared to tackle.

Anyone who wants a dock bond of the city may write a letter to the dock commission making a bid for it, and enclosing a certified check for five per cent of the amount of the bid, this being required by law. The letter might read something like this:

"Frederick W. Mulkey, chairman of the public docks commission, Portland, Oregon. Dear Sir: Enclosed please find certified check for $— which is five per cent of my bid for — dock bonds of the city of Portland, in denominations of — each. (Specify whether $100 or $500 denominations.) Yours sincerely,

More Than Par Expected.

It is considered likely that the five per cent, 30-year bonds will bring a price slightly above par. The condition of the bond market at the time the bids are opened will largely influence the bids, it is thought.

The bids for both issues of public dock bonds are to be opened September 4. Delivery of the $750,000 issue will be made September 16, and delivery of the $250,000 issue on October 1. Bidders are required to pay accrued interest between the date of the opening of the bids and their delivery.

The commission of public docks would be glad to sell the $250,000 issue in $100 denominations at par to whoever came to buy, but the charter of the city and the act creating the commission makes this impossible.

Chairman Mulkey of the dock commission says that already much public interest has been manifested in the popular bond sale, and a good many bids are expected. It is thought that fraternal orders not accustomed to invest through bond brokers will be interested in the opportunity to buy comparatively small lots of dock bonds on direct bids.

YES, OUR ONLY PURE WINE IS NOW DOOMED

So California Growers Tell Congress While Protesting Against Brandy Tax.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—California's side of the sweet wine controversy was presented to the senate finance committee in an hour's argument this morning by M. F. Tarpey, representing the grape growing interests. Additional half hour argument will be made Monday by Theodore A. Bell.

M. F. Tarpey protested against the legislation, saying that it would drive the only pure wine made in the United States out of the market, leaving the field to the eastern market.

The whole course of a series of questions followed by members of the senate committee indicates that some form of tax will be levied on the wine industry in order to raise revenue. As originally framed, the Fomereau amendment would have placed the whole tax burden of $7,000,000 on California.

With the showing made by the California representatives, the sentiment of the senate committee appears to be changing into a wish to distribute the tax over all the wines made in the United States. While under this arrangement California will still bear the heaviest burden, the intolerable condition created by the original Fomereau amendment will be avoided.
