

OH, YES, SAYS MAC, WE SHOULD WORRY, WHEN WE'VE LOST TWO OUT OF LAST 13 GAMES TO CHAMPS

OAKS GRAB GAME IN THE 5TH AS RODGERS AND DOANE WRESTLE

Two Walks, a Cincinnati and Leard's High Fly, Which Caused Grappling Match.

CAPT. BILL'S ENERGY IS COMMENDABLE IF FATAL

"We Should Worry," Says Mac, "When They Get About One in Ten."

By R. A. Cronin.

"I have it! I have it!" came in a highfalsetto tone from the shadows of the right field fence in the fifth inning yesterday afternoon.

"No, my dear Walter, you may have the next one, but this one must be mine," croaked a baritone from the vicinity of second base.

"Very well, gentlemen, very well, you may argue it out between yourselves and a soft Georgia accent fell upon the field.

The "it" was Leard's highly that dropped into short right field with the bases bulging from two walks and a Cincinnati baserun and when Rodgers and Doane had tangled their legs and arms and the latter had retrieved the ball from the right field fence, two Oaks had crossed the patten and the game was won.

That three more runs came in afterwards is only incidental. The two that crossed through the Rodgers-Doane wrestling match just back of first base put the Oaks one run to the good and eventually proved enough to win the game.

After that one fatal frame Higginbotham could not be touched by the Oaks, and for that matter neither could Handsome Jack Killilly, slapping for the champions, after Lindsay had tallied in the fourth.

It was Doane's Ball.

With the bases full, it was clearly Doane's duty to field the ball. He yelled that he had it, but Captain Bill is an energetic person and doubtless figured that it was within his own territory. Derrick, too, might have caught the ball, but Cook had a chance to score after the catch because either of the infield men would have been compelled to take the ball going away and then make a wide turn to throw to the plate. It was logically Doane's ball and his high notes were heard by everybody in the park except Captain Bill.

Forgetful of the fact that Rodgers had cracked out the hit that won the game of the day before, the songbirds began an anvil trade, thereby indicating, as our high brow friend would say, that the memory of the baseball fan, psychologically, was limited to less than 24 hours.

Portland Starts in Fourth.

Portland got under way first in the fourth inning, when, with one out, Lindsay walked and stole. Doane lifted a fly to Hettling and Kores shivered the timbers in the right garden wild with a liner. Lindsay crossed by Kaylor had arm and aim enough to wing Kores out at second.

And here, gentle reader, is the fruitful fifth. Cook started it by walking. Kreitz also did a Weston. Killilly dropped a bunt in front of Higginbotham and he of the polysyllabic handle fielded the ball to Lindsay. Empire Phylis called Cookie safe, thereby earning for H. J. a soft and juicy addition to his batting average by the grace of Prexy Baum and the gang down Cincy way.

Comes now Billyum Leard and the skier to right field, and the resultant collision of Doane and Rodgers, the chalking up of a two-base hit where a flyout should have been registered and, last, but most important yet, two big

FORMER WORLD CHAMPION HEAVER COMING BACK INTO FORM

Joe Boehling's Record of 11 Wins for Washington Not So Impressive as Harry Krause's Ten Straight Victories for Philadelphia in Respect to Pitching Skill.

With the coming of Lefty Leifield and Orval Overall, the Pacific Coast league now has three 1913 acquisition who helped to divide world series spoils. The other is Harry Krause, the Portland southpaw, pictured above. Harry got off bad at the start of the season, but is now making up for lost ground. Together with Gene Krapp, he is known as the hard-luck pitcher of the club.

Five years ago Harry was the sensation of the American league, and helped Philadelphia win the American League pennant. After the Detroit club seemed to have a strange hold in that respect. Subsequently the Athletics shoved the Chicago Cubs, who seemed to have a monopoly on the world championship, out of that much coveted position. The following season the Athletics also beat off the New York Giants for the honor of world champions.

Nowadays you hear of the wonderful young Joe Boehling, the Washington southpaw. Five seasons ago Harry Krause, the young Californian, occupied as much space in the papers as Walter Johnson's sensational slidekick. Krause's record was more impressive than that of young Joe. Boehling won his first 10, but the opposing teams played havoc time and again with Boehling's curves. Krause pitched three games against the then champion Detroit team, and the Tigers scored only one run. The Tigers were heavy hitters in those days. Only four men scored upon Harry while he was having June 25—Defeated Washington, 3 to 0. Smith pitching, and allowed six hits.

June 29—Defeated Boston, 3 to 0. Ryan and Burchell, pitching and allowed five hits.
July 2—Defeated Boston, 1 to 0. Wood pitching and allowed four hits.
July 8—Defeated Detroit, 3 to 1. Willett pitching and allowed six hits.
July 11—Defeated Detroit, 7 to 1. Mullen and Killian pitching and allowed four hits.

his string of victories, six of which were shutouts. Singularly enough, it was St. Louis which broke Harry's string of victories, but it took the Browns 11 innings to do it. Fans will recall that it was the same St. Louis club that flattened Boehling's record of 11 straight.

San Francisco is the birthplace of Krause, and he came into this world July 12, 1887. Columbia Park, the famous boys' club of San Francisco, provided him his first means of playing baseball. Later he went to St. Mary's college. Professionally, he debuted in the old California outlaw league with San Jose, in 1907. "Josie" Riley recommended him to Connie Mack that fall, and the sagacious Connie signed him up. He was too inexperienced, and Mack sent him to his Harrisburg farm. He found the Tri-State batters comparatively easy, and won 17 out of 21 starts.

O'LEARY WILL TRY HIS LEGS AGAINST SKATER

Dan O'Leary, the champion long distance walker of the world, will attempt to walk one mile, while Tom Montgomery, the champion skater of Oregon, skates two miles. The contest will take place on Council Crest between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

then began his run of 10 straight. He finished the season with a record of 18 victories and 8 defeats, an average of .692. The next year he was ill considerably, and only pitched 10 games, winning half of them. In 1911 he won 11 out of 18 games for an average of .611.

Harry was sent to Toledo in 1912, and led the American association with 13 wins and 4 defeats, an average of .760. Cleveland gave him a trial during the middle of the season, but he had bad luck, and was turned back. Manager McCredie, of the Beavers, in fashioning out his club for 1913, asked President Somers, of Cleveland and Toledo, for Krause, and Harry was turned over to Portland. So far this season he has won 6 and lost 7. From now on Harry will be numbered among the winning pitchers.

INDIANS PULL BEAVERS DOWN ONE MORE GAME

(Special to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., Aug. 16.—Slow, erroneous infield work by Vancouver gave Spokane a lead of five runs in the first inning and put them on the road to a 1 to 4 victory. Only two safe hits were made off Ingersoll, but Brown pulled him and substituted Schultz, who held the Indians to four hits.

"We Willie" McCorry twirled his first game for the Indians. He had great speed and used his head throughout the game. He fanned eight batters and walked one.

PORTLAND COLTS RUN HOME WITH FOURTH GAME FROM SEATTLE

Gipe Gets Hard Drubbing, and Hynes Outpitches His Opponent.

HOME TEAM PROFITS BY SEATTLE'S FAULTS

Colts Now Assured of Even Break in Series of the Season.

(Special to The Journal.)

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—The Portland Colts took their fourth game of the week from the Seattle champions today by hitting Gipe hard and taking advantage of Seattle's loose work in the field. Hynes for Portland outpitched Gipe and was better supported, although the score shows three errors of commission for each team. Gipe held the visiting sluggers until the fourth inning. Guignit started the fourth by walking. Melchior forced him at second, but Mahoney drove the ball over the right field wall and the score was two to nothing.

Portland won the game in the next inning with two more runs. Coltrin beat out an infield hit and was out stealing. Williams doubled to center and scored on Hynes two-bagger to left. After Killilly gobbled Bancroft's fly, Guignit singled to center and Hynes scored. Helfmann's homer with one out and Mahoney drove the ball over the right field wall and the score was two to nothing.

The Colts scored their final three in the eighth. A pass, a hit and a passed ball mixed with Raymond's error and Williams' two-bagger with three on, chased three runs over the pan.

Seattle scored two in the ninth, but the team was eight runs behind and their effort was a forlorn hope. The Colts have now insured a break-even on the series and will have it on ice if they win one of the two games of the double-header scheduled for tomorrow. Incidentally, today's victory put them back in second place.

Canoists Leave on Trip.

Four canoists—Ed, Humphrey, Ted Preble, Jimmy Fulton and Collister Wheeler—left the Portland Rowing club dock yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, on the first leg of their journey to Seattle, Oregon. Humphrey and Preble will paddle together, while Fulton and Wheeler will be paired.

LEONARD POWERS WINS HIS FIGHT BY KNOCKOUT

Pasco, Wash., Aug. 15.—Leonard Powers of Portland, last night knocked out Young Sharkey of San Francisco in the sixth round of their 10 round bout. Powers fought like a bear cat from the start and had his opponent groggy in the fifth round. Julius Hiberger won his bout in the second round.

Tommy Tracey, who received a message from Powers, stating that he had won, was jubilant over the success of his former pupil.

AMERICAN TRACK AND FIELD TEAM MAY BE SEEN IN ACTION HERE

Five High Class Athletes on Tour of New Zealand and Australia

MAY COMPETE ON COLUMBIA STADIUM

Plans for Holding Meet Will Be Taken Up in Near Future.

The American track and field team composed of five high class athletes, which will tour New Zealand and Australia during the month of December, may be seen in action here in the Columbia university stadium during the last week of October or the first week of November.

Pete Gerhardt, speaking for William Unmack of San Francisco, who is managing the American athletes, stated yesterday that the track and field stars would be glad to stop here on their way to Vancouver if some competition could be arranged for them. The matter will be taken up in the near future and there is a possibility of the meet being arranged.

The American athletes will be selected from the following stars: Jack Nelson, Ed Reeson, Floyd Rice, Powers of Boston, Baker of New York and Platt Adams of New York. If Nelson is unable to make the trip Jimmy Rosenberger of New York will fill his shoes.

If Nelson goes he will enter in the 100 yard, 220 yard and 440 yards run. In case Rosenberger goes he will enter in this event. Ed Reeson will enter in five events—high hurdles, low hurdles, broad jump, high jump and pole vault. Rice will compete in the weight events. Either Baker or Powers will be the distance runner of the team. Both these athletes have been doing great work in eastern meets.

There is a little trouble raising enough money to send the athletes away and Unmack is willing to have his athletes compete here in order to help pay expenses.

The weather here during the time the athletes would pass through here would make it impossible to stage an out door meet.

NEW MEN ON HAND.

There is plenty of material from which to select a team this season. Dudley Clarke, Rat Rinehart, Ted Latham and D. Calligate will be the only players of last season's eleven who will not answer to the roll call this season. There are several new players, who have qualified their intention of wearing the club's suits.

One of these players is Peter Rhodes, who played quarterback on the Annapolis team last season. Rhodes is in business here in Portland and cannot resist the call of the game. Dean Walker, who captained the University of Oregon

FOOTBALL SQUAD WILL GET EARLY START AT MULTNOMAH GROUNDS

Manager Plowden Stott Much Pleased With Schedule of Games for the Season.

NEW MATERIAL WILL TRY GRIDIRON SPORT

There Is Abundance of Live Material; Capt. Wolff in Fine Form.

In less than three weeks the first practice of the 1914 football squad of the Multnomah club will be held. Manager Plowden Stott wants his players to get an early start because of the early date that the game with the Oregon Agricultural college team is scheduled. "The game will take place October 4, which gives the winged 'M' gridironers but a month of practice.

Stott is much pleased with his schedule of games so far. The dates of three big games have been settled. They are O. A. C., October 4; Washington State college, October 25, and Oregon on Thanksgiving day.

Games will also be scheduled with the Vancouver Soldiers, Willamette university, Chemawa Indians and probably one of the local teams. The contest with the University of Michigan team is up in the air. If the Michigan managers will accept the $2000 offer, it is likely that the Wolverines team will be seen in action here on New Year's day.

The plan is to have one game played with the University of Washington in Seattle, the second game with the Washington State college team in Spokane and the third contest with Multnomah, each team to guarantee $1000.

Manager Stott is also in correspondence with the manager of the Original team of San Francisco. An effort is being made to revive the grand old American game in California and the Originals want Multnomah to bring them north for a game and play a return match in the south. Stott cannot see where Multnomah would gain anything in bringing the Originals north, but announced that he would be willing to take the club team south, probably during the Portola festival.
