FEW more weeks and September will be the signal for social happenings. Of unusual interest there will be a number of early fall weddings and their complementary parties promise a gay season.

Mrs. W. J. Burns, Miss Anita Burns, Louise Burns and Jack Burns have been passing the month at Gearhart by the sea. The wedding date for Miss Anita Burns and C. Harry Davis Jr. has been set for September 18.

Thursday evening Miss Henrietta Failing and her sister, Miss May Failing, left for the east from where they will sail for a few months' sojourn in the British Isles and the continent. Their plans for the trip are indefinite, but they will probably remain abroad through September and October.

Miss Alice Caray was hostess at luncheon Wednesday afternoon when she asked a few friends to her home on Riverside drive, in compliment to Miss Ruth Wells, the guest of Miss Margery Hoffman, and Miss Florence Harrison, who is visiting Miss Cornelia Cook.

In honor of Mrs. Fred Ball of Plainfield, N. J., Mrs. Warren F. Houghton entertained Wednesday afternoon with an informal tea, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Marion F. Dolph and Miss Claire Houghton. Those who passed the afternoon with Mrs. Houghton were: Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Bert Ball, Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. Philip Johnson of Richmond, Va., Mrs. C. Edwards Grelle, Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux, Mrs. J. G. Gaud, Mrs. Frank Hart.

Announcements have reached Portland from New York of the wedding last week in that city of Miss Alta Rush, a popular society girl of Portland, to Herbert Kaufman, a well known political writer of New York. The wedding was quite informal, only the father of the bride, R. L. Rush, being present. Mr. Rush returned home Saturday evening and left with Mrs. Rush last Sunday on an extended motor trip to the Sound cities and British Columbia. Miss Rush is a graduate from the Portland academy and was very popular in the younger set. She devoted much of her time to the study of music, being possessor of a beautiful voice. For the past two years she has been in New York, furthering her studies under the noted teacher, Mr. Ryan. The news of the wedding came as a great surprise to her many friends here.

After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman will make their home in New York city.

Mrs. Rose Courson Reed is now in Los Angeles, a guest of her son, Harold E. Reed, after spending a pleasant two weeks in San Francisco with her sister, Mrs. James T. Campbell, and Mrs. Ernest Palmer. She will leave soon for

New York to visit her daughter, Miss Vida Reed, who is now playing in New York.

Miss Maud Batchman entertained Wednesday afternoon with a delightful party, complimenting Miss Cully Cook, one of the most popular autumn brides-to-be. The affair was quite informal. Guests for three tables of auction bridge were invited, including Miss Cook, Miss Hildreth Humason, Mrs. C. P. Johnston, Miss Mildred Moulton, Miss Roselind Kingsley, Miss Helen Peters, Miss Eleanor McClaine of Silverton, Or., Miss Margaret Hawkins, Miss Suzanne Johnston, Miss Mary Campbell, Miss Dorothy Sanford, Miss Sully May Tillman of Washington, D. C., and the hostess.

Pink gladioli, roses and sweet peas were effectively arranged to decorate the rooms. A delightfully informal at home Thursday afternoon Miss Maud Batchman received about 20 of the younger society maids in her apartment in the Wilmar. The rooms were all decked in pink with sweet peas, roses and on a daintily appointed tea table, a center of flaming gladioli with feathery baby breath combined to make an unusually artistic effect. Mrs. Charles P. Johnston of Seattle presided at the samovars.

Miss Alice Morrow, who is a much feted visitor in the city, the guest of Major and Mrs. J. J. Morrow, was the honor guest at a delightful function Tuesday given by Mrs. Solomon Hirsch and her daughter, Miss Ella Hirsch. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon. Miss Morrow is a sister of Major Morrow and her mother, Mrs. James E. Morrow, is also visiting here.

About 40 guests, mostly Texans, gathered Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bruce Menefee on Portland Heights to bid farewell to Miss Menefee and Miss Edith Olds. The party was given by Mrs. Menefee Thursday evening to pass the remainder of the summer at their summer home at Venice, Cal. The Misses Menefee have been passing a month in Portland dividing their time between their mother and brother, Mrs. E. V. Menefee and formal entertainment. Wednesday night Mrs. Fred Buffum asked guests to motor out to Chanticleer Inn for dinner in compliment to Mrs. Hoertz, and Monday Mrs. Paul Froelich entertained informally at luncheon, at the popular Columbia river resort. Mrs. Hoertz will leave today for her home in Louisville, having visited here about two months. Her mother will remain until October.

Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Corbett, and party of friends enjoyed luncheon at Chanticleer Monday afternoon.

Miss Mildred Moulton gave a delightful luncheon to a party of friends at Chanticleer last Thursday. The table was beautifully decorated with gladioli and maiden hair ferns. The guests were: Mrs. C. P. Johnson, Seattle, Mrs. C. E. Moulton, Mrs. L. O. Raiston Jr., of Kalama; Mrs. Louy Metschan, Miss Susano Johnston, of Seattle; Miss Rubie Johns, Miss Hazel Raiston, Miss Ruby Raiston, Miss Maud Balcham, Miss Dorothy Sharpe, Miss Constance Sharpe.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. H. C. Wortman on her attractive launch the following guests passed Saturday afternoon with a cruise on the Williamette: Mrs. William L. Jones of Los Angeles, guest of honor, Mrs. Edith Caswell, Miss Alice Louise Jones, Miss Louise Caswell, Miss Janet Noble, Mrs. Henry E. Noble, Mrs. Vincent Cook, Miss Elizabeth Jacobs and Miss Katherine Barton of Kansas City.

Miss Eva Thomas, of Salt Lake, whose portrait is reproduced on the society page, arrived Sunday from California on the steamer Behr to visit Mrs. William H. Powell at her Irvington home for a month or six weeks. Miss Thomas has been visiting in California, where they have a summer home at Ukiah. She has many friends in Portland, former school mates at Mills seminary, including Mrs. Elwood Henderson (Evelyn Bell) and Miss Ida Blackford. Miss Blackford is also a house guest of Mrs. Powell.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Powell invited about 40 girls to pass the afternoon informally at her home. Thursday evening she was again honored with an informal dancing party when Mr. and Mrs. Powell received about 20 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell will leave today for Seattle and Tacoma for a week or ten days' visit, which will include a trip through Rainer National Park. Miss Thomas will pass the time here with friends. For Friday afternoon, Mrs. Henderson asked in a few girls for tea in honor of Miss Thomas.

Mrs. Charles E. Rumell entertained the popular Los Angeles visitor, Mrs. William L. Jones, with a luncheon for 12 Thursday afternoon at her home on Williamette Heights. Flowers were artistically arranged to deck the luncheon table and also in clusters about the room, in a color scheme of pink, with sweet peas and gladioli.

The latter part of the afternoon was passed with an informal musicale.

Mrs. Amadee Smith complimented Mrs. William L. Jones, Thursday afternoon with a box party to see "Every Woman" at the Hellig. Mrs. Jones and her daughter, Miss Alice Louise Jones, may return to Los Angeles before they go east, where Miss Jones is to enter Barnard college, the woman's department of the Columbia university in New York.

Mrs. A. D. McIntyre (Dorothy Josselyn) returned home Thursday night with her father, B. S. Josselyn, who has been visiting in the east, to make her parents an extended visit. Since her marriage she has resided in the east.

The wedding of Miss Margaret C. McKinnon to Amos Roy Bean will take place on the afternoon of August 23 at 6 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Charles L. Kamm, 215 Fourteenth street. No cards. Miss McKinnon is the sister of James McKinnon and Mrs. McCalmann. On account of the recent bereavement in Miss McKinnon's family the wedding is to be very quiet.

Among the most interesting notes of the week is the announcement of the marriage last Monday of Miss Helen Van Schuyver to George B. Hauppman in Los Angeles. The wedding came as a complete surprise to the many friends of the bride in this city. Miss Van Schuyver is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Van Schuyver and a sister of Mrs. A. E. Mackay and William O. Van Schuyver.

Mr. and Mrs. Hauppman will make their home in Los Angeles. The following party motored out to Chanticleer last Thursday to view the sunrise and had breakfast at 6:30. Mrs. A. G. Klosterman chaperoned the party. Miss Gretchen Klosterman, Miss Mildred Moulton, Miss Dorothy Moulton, Miss Clarice Biles, Miss Kate Brazel, John Scott, Herb Brazel, F. W. Rogers.

Friday evening at a large family dinner Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Friedle announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rose Thressa Friedle, to Albert L. Gianelli. The wedding will be an event of September 10 to take place at St. Mary's Pro Cathedral at high noon. Archbishop Christie will read the ceremony and a nuptial mass will follow. Miss Nelle Beth Hickey will be the maid of honor and Miss Louise Friedle will be the bridesmaid.

Both Miss Friedle and Mr. Gianelli are popular local singers. Miss Friedle has been contralto soloist at the Cathedral for the past five years. She is a clever musician and is possessed of a beautiful voice, and charming personality that have won for her hosts of admiring friends both musically and socially. Mr. Gianelli has a splendid lyric tenor voice and has been a well known soloist at both the St. Lawrence church and the cathedral.

Harry Gianelli, a brother of Mr. Gianelli, will act as best man. A pleasant dinner party motored out to Chanticleer on Tuesday. Those making up the party were: Doris L. Desendorf, Edith A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Schalk, F. B. Dallam, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall of Oakland, Calif., Sam Luders, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCalmann, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marshall.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Miss Alice Wehrung to Roy H. B. Nelson to take place at the Portland hotel September 2. Miss Wehrung is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wehrung of Portland and Hillsboro. The wedding will be at 8 o'clock and will be followed by a large reception at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles McGinn and her daughter, Miss Edith McGinn of Los Angeles, who have been visiting in Portland, guests at the Mallory hotel for the past two months, returned home Sunday. The McGinnns are former Portland people and were widely entertained by their relatives and friends during their stay in the city. Mrs. McGinn is the mother of Mrs. J. Francis Shea and Judge McGinn.

Miss Margery Hoffman gave a luncheon Tuesday for the pleasure of her house guest, Miss Ruth Wells. A group of girls of the younger set were invited.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Robert Berger entertained at luncheon with two tables of auction bridge following at her home on Melrose Drive, overlooking the Williamette. Covers were laid for eight on a charmingly decked table. All the decorations were in yellow, with clusters of the golden glow arranged about the rooms and centering the table, except in the living room, where the blue hydrangea and red roses formed a happy contrast of color. The guests were: Mrs. V. Morris, Mrs. A. Lindsay, Mrs. G. A. Nichols, Mrs. Mae Nichols, Mrs. W. Witzel, Mrs. Earl Goodwin and Mrs. Frank Johnson.

Early last week Mrs. W. B. Ayers, Mrs. J. Jay Morrow, Mrs. James E. Morrow and Miss Morrow had tea at Chanticleer.

Word has reached here of the announcement in Baltimore, where Miss Frances P. Willoughby of Philadelphia is visiting, that she has announced her engagement to Professor Walter Hayden of this city. The announcement is a great surprise to the many friends of the prospective groom in this city.

Miss Jessie Wilson of Santa Monica, Cal., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Spencer, at their home in Irvington. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Miss Wilson are former college friends, all having attended Stanford university together. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. William L. Finley entertained for their guest, inviting a few friends for an informal bonfire party at their summer camp on the west side of Council Crest.

A wedding which is of much interest to a wide circle of friends is that of Miss Ruth Maginnis to Joseph Donnerberg to take place September 8 at the Madeleine church in Irvington. Miss Maginnis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Maginnis. She is a popular girl with many accomplishments. She is a graduate from St. Mary's academy where she especially distinguished herself in her music, both in piano and cello. For the past two years she has been organist for the Madeleine church. The wedding is to be informal, with only a few intimate friends and relatives invited. Miss Margaret Maginnis will attend her sister and Frederick Donnerberg will be the best man.

Mr. Donnerberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Donnerberg.

Many affairs have been given during the past week for the bride-to-be. This week Mrs. E. H. Meyer gave a luncheon for 12 Wednesday with a large tea following. The appointments were all carried out suggestively of the wedding with decorations of Bride roses and white ribbons. About 40 guests called during the afternoon and a handkerchief shower was tendered the guest of honor as a final surprise.

Thursday Miss John Maginnis presided at an informal afternoon party when about 20 of the younger girls called for tea and brought their sewing.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. E. Crosby entertained at a box party at the Hellig with tea following, for the pleasure of Miss Maginnis.

This week Mrs. W. A. Bennett and Mrs. Albertus Larowe will be joint hostesses in her honor Wednesday when they will give an informal at home at the residence of Mrs. Bennett.

Miss Sallie Sterrett will entertain this evening with a supper party for the pleasure of Miss Alice Wehrung and Roy H. B. Nelson and their bridal party, of which Miss Sterrett is to be one of the bridesmaids. The table and the decorations of the rooms will be in yellow, the golden glow being used. Covers will be laid for ten. Maynard Redmond, who had planned to be one of the ushers, but who will leave before the wedding for California to live, will also be an honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wade celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary Monday evening, with a charming 7 o'clock dinner. The table was very attractively decorated with sweet peas and maiden fair ferns. Covers were laid for fourteen: Dr. and Mrs. Harriet N. Lacy, Paul Francis Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dorsey Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ross, Miss Dorothy Ross, Miss P. Hart, Mr. Charlie Tingley, Dr. and Mrs. Paul C. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Wade received appropriate and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Coe have returned to Stanfield, Oregon, where Mr. Coe is a rancher and fruit raiser. They spent two weeks at Seaside, and as guests of their grandmother, Mrs. M. I. Coe and their father, Dr. Henry Waldo Coe at the family residence, 25th and Lovejoy street. Wayne and Earl Coe were managing the ranch at Stanfield during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Coe. The mother of the visitors during their stay here was engaged in important suffrage work in the state of Washington and at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stewart entertained the Garden Home Hikers' club and their husbands Friday evening at their country residence at Garden Home, with a "500" party. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Magner, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King, Mr. and Mrs. G. McCormick, Mrs. Elizabeth van der Kloot and Miss Violet Stewart.
