

GETS GOOD POSITION— DOESN'T NEED PENSION

Woman Admits She Is Not in Need and Asks That Application Be Withdrawn.

Giving as the excuse that she has secured a good position, Mrs. Catherine Allshaw has requested that the $10 widow's pension granted her two months ago be cancelled. She has drawn two months' pension. Another woman who had not yet secured a pension asked that her petition be dropped, admitting she misrepresented her case. She said that she had been offered two positions, that she will receive money on account of the death of her husband, which occurred recently, and that she did not care to remain at home. The pension would have been $10.

The case committee turned down two applications yesterday because it was found that the petitioners did not need help. One woman who asked for $17.50 is receiving $5 and $6 a month from two married sons, has a 20-year-old daughter at work who supplies some merchandise which she purchases at wholesale, has a boy 22 years old earning $2.50 a day and an 18-year-old boy earning $6 a week. She has six grown children and two under 16 years old. Another application turned down was made by a woman who owns a house and acre of ground and rents the house for $10 a month for a woodyard. Neighbors told the investigators that the woman was a chiropractor and had an office in Portland, but gave it up to apply for a pension. Reports turned in regarding the home have caused an investigation to be started of the care of the children. She has two children and would be entitled to $17.50 if eligible.

Pensions amounting in all to $140 a month were recommended yesterday as follows: Martha E. Mitchell, 7122 Forty-first avenue, southeast, $10; Mary B. Wilkinson, Lents, $17.50; Lizzie Meyer, 486 Sixty-first street, southeast, $17.50; Christina Freuf, 550 East Tenth street, north, $15.00; Agnes A. Schmitt, 187 Gloucester street, $32.50; Beale E. Ruscoe, 4616 Sixty-fourth street, southeast, $10; Christina Faith Anderson, 58 South avenue, $10; Addie Goldfast, 75 Arthur street, $25. The pension of Margaret McElwain, 22 Fourteenth street, was recommended reduced from $22.50 to $25 a month.

SISTER WEDDED TO SECURE FORTUNE IS CHARGE OF WOMAN

amus county, in which it was obtained, had no jurisdiction because Hannah M. Orr, the former wife, had not for more than one year prior to filing suit been a resident of Oregon. It is further alleged that the divorce was not asked for by Hannah M. Orr in good faith, but in collusion with Orr, and that it was understood and agreed between them that Orr would after the divorce intermarry with Mary A. Burke and upon her death re-marry Hannah M. Orr.

Continuing the complaint alleges that at the time of the marriage of Miss Burke, Orr was in indigent circumstances and had been for a long time prior thereto. It is claimed that he had no business or employment or income from any source and that for a long time prior to the marriage had lived at the residence of Miss Burke, where he had received gratis from her hands full means of support, and that while being supported by her, he and his former wife, Hannah M. Orr, formed the plan of obtaining the property of Miss Burke.

In furtherance of this plan it is alleged that Hannah M. Orr came to Oregon to bring a suit for the divorce which Mrs. Humason in her complaint declares to be null and void.

Encouraged Drink Habit.

Relative to the death of Mary Burke-Orr the complaint makes the following allegation: "That prior to said marriage between the said Mary A. Burke and this defendant the said Mary A. Burke had contracted the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors, and upon and after his pretended marriage with the said Mary A. Burke the defendant, for the purpose and with intent of hastening her death, willfully and purposely induced and encouraged the said Mary A. Burke in the excessive use of said intoxicating liquors and other drugs and opiates, thereby prematurely causing the death of the said Mary A. Burke on the date above mentioned."

According to the complaint Orr and Hannah M. Orr were married at El Paso, Texas, August 5, 1899, and Hannah M. Orr was an actual and continuous resident of California until about two months prior to May, 1911, when her suit for divorce was filed at Oregon City.

The suit for divorce was based on the allegations of cruel treatment and infidelity. Orr did not contest the suit. In granting a decree of divorce Judge Amptson awarded Hannah M. Orr $20 per month alimony. Oregon City divorce Hannah M. Orr has remarried. She is now the wife of Byron J. Mills, 320 East Twenty-ninth street, north. Orr, the defendant in the pending suit, is reported to be at Long Beach, Wash.

Orr in Public Eye.

Orr came into public prominence in December, 1911, when he obtained two marriage licenses, in each of which he figured as the prospective bridegroom. One license was taken out in Portland and the other at Oregon City. With the Oregon City permit as his authority, Judge Beattie of Clackamas county performed at Oregon City on the same date a ceremony which made Mary A. Burke the wife of Orr. The license obtained in Portland gave permission to marry Miss Bertha Palzer, a beauty specialist employed at a department store in this city. This license was returned to the county clerk with the indorsement, "marriage ceremony not performed."

It later developed that Miss Palzer and Orr were both living at the home of Miss Burke, whose also lived Henry Burke, a bachelor brother.

Brother Also Drank.

After his sister's marriage to Orr, Henry Burke was married to Miss Palzer. A honeymoon trip to England was taken, but Burke died after they reached London in June, 1912. Henry Burke is also said to have been addicted to intoxicants and drugs.

Launches Drive Out Gondolas.

Venice, Aug. 21.—A hundred gondoliers have formed a syndicate for the purchase of motor launches to replace the picturesque gondolas on the canals.

OLDTIME STAGE DRIVER NOW R. R. BOOSTER

Alexander Hamilton, Prineville, Or.

(Special Correspondence.) Prineville, Or., Aug. 21.—One of the pioneers of the coast is now located at Prineville, where he is well-known as a hustler, horseman and booster for central Oregon in general and Prineville in particular. Alexander Hamilton carried mail from Olympia, Wash., to Montecano 47 years ago; from The Dalles to Antelope for several years ending in 1889, and recently to Shanks from Prineville. He is 63 years of age and says that since coming to Crook county five years ago he has been growing younger. He has been a determined hustler for a railroad into Prineville from Metolius, and is given credit by H. P. Scheel, who is now about to commence actual construction, with being the originator of the idea. This new line will connect Prineville with the town and surrounding country. Mr. Hamilton has been instrumental in securing rights of way for the greater distance of the new line's projected 39 miles of track.

"I love horses and know them," said Mr. Hamilton, "and this is the country for horses. Mules? Well, this country will beat Missouri for good mules. There is a great future for mule raising on these alfalfa fields. Our farmers do not realize what this country is going to be."

"Were you ever held up while driving stage?" he was asked.

"No, I never was interfered with, but once on the Antelope line a passenger held the lines for me while I unloaded some express matter and the team ran away, overturning the stage, killing a big, fat Chinaman and two of the horses. I never was much for adventure. I never drove any closer to the edge of a cliff than I had to and never hunted trouble."

state in this matter," he said, "but I cannot explain. My lawyers won't let me talk. But the men who want to keep me a lifelong prisoner will not succeed. The truth will prevail. I shall get home to my mother soon. I am as sane as I ever was. And I will prove it."

Immigration officials here said today that they in no case will act in Thaw's case before Monday. More Thaw lawyers arrived here today and gathered in the office of Attorney Charles G. White to confer. Meantime Attorney Shurtleff, whom Thaw first retained, has gone to Ottawa to checkmate any unexpected moves there by the New York state authorities.

Town Is Booming.

Crowds of sightseers, all eager for a glimpse of Thaw, began to arrive here today from long distances. They gazed at the jail, watched the mysterious activities of the lawyers, and were duly and satisfyingly thrilled. The Thaw affair is booming the little frontier town, every hotel is full as never before, and every merchant and other inhabitant is delighted that Sherbrooke, by grace of being Harry Thaw's refuge, at last is on the map.

An immigration inspector who refused to allow the use of his name said: "It seems to be the impression among American officials here that Canadian immigration officers can be used to catch escaped criminals. They are overlooking the fact that we do not deport men merely because an American judge and jury found them guilty. We use our own sense in handling each case. I am not going to hurry now."

Thaw Will Get Chance.

"When will court proceedings be finished will give Thaw every chance to show that he is a desirable immigrant."

Thaw's pursuers are most dissatisfied over the postponement of the case. Prosecutor Corger of Dutchess county begged Judge Globensky to expedite the case, accusing the defense of needlessly dilatory tactics.

The discovery that a warrant has been issued charging Thaw with entering Canada at an illegal point of entry and with violating the immigration law today perturbed the Pittsburghers' lawyers, but they said they hoped to set it aside.

Hector Verret, K. C., has been retained to represent New York state in the proceedings here.

Glynn Demands Thaw's Surrender.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Telegraphing from Albany, N. Y., Acting Governor Glynn today formally demanded that Canadian immigration authorities surrender Harry K. Thaw to New York authorities. Immigration officials answered that such action would be impossible until proceedings pending here and at Sherbrooke are finished.

Assuming that Thaw escapes deportation, which is believed likely here, the authorities today said that New York's only hope of extraditing him will be on the ground of bribery of the attaches at Matteawan, an extraordinary offense. This would have to be proved first in the New York courts and subsequently in Canada. Both actions would practically involve a repetition of the battle of alienists which was a feature of his previous trials.

Thaw's Automobile Found.

New York, Aug. 21.—Chief of Police Young of Adams Corner, N. Y., today found an automobile in a barn owned by John Rankin, which he believes is that in which Harry K. Thaw escaped, according to advices received here. Two men left the car in the custody of Rankin's daughter Hazel, promising to pay any amount for it. Hazel Rankin identified the picture of Thaw as one of the men who had left the machine in her charge. The police traced the automobile by its description and number to John Collins, who owns a Broadway garage. Collins says he believes the car is one he rented last Friday to former Assemblyman Richard Butler.

In the Realm of Fashion

—With the decision of the great French couturiers to maintain a sort of Monroe Doctrine among themselves, wherein each house is to follow its own bent, and not to copy the "creations" of another house—bids fair to make the styles even more wonderful and original than any we have yet seen.
—It would seem, with this arrangement in force, that we must all be well pleased, for there should certainly be no lack of variety.
—In the dress salons in this store, the new costumes are arriving daily. Flounced and draped skirts abound—in fact, even the "strictly tailored" suit is likely to have a pucker or two placed midway down the front or back seam.
—Chic little hats (for the small hat seems to hold its popularity undiminished) are to be seen in the millinery salons—plain for the most part, with a high flourish of plume at the side or back. Modest little hats depending for their attractiveness on their correctness of line and proportion. Lace and tulle hats, that have the touch of art that makes them possible.
—All these are daily taking their places among the collection of splendid and useful things that constitute the Fall Fashion display at Lipman, Wolfe & Co.
