Principally about People

Charles P. Pray, special agent of the department of justice and connected with the office of United States Attorney Clarence L. Reames, was a passenger on the steamer State of California on her last trip from Alaska to Seattle. The vessel sank early last Sunday morning in Gambier bay, a branch of Frederick sound, 90 miles southeast of Juneau, and about 50 lives were lost. Pray arrived in Seattle on the vessel July 31, after spending most of the month of July in Juneau on a murder case that came up before the federal court.

"I believe the State of California was the largest vessel that sailed the inside passage," he said. "At several places we had to wait for the tide before attempting the passage of portions of Wrangell narrow, where there are many rocks. At Petersburg, which is about 50 miles south of where the State sank, we had to wait three hours for the tide. In some places these narrows are not wider than a Portland block. The State was old fashioned. There were two decks, the hurricane and spar decks, and many of the staterooms were below them. I was in a stateroom that was only two feet above water level. She was a fast boat, not making all the stops that the other vessels coming through the inside passage made, and it only took up three and one half days

Miss Margaret Jensen, Miss Marjorie Norman, Miss Ruth Allenberg, Miss Louise Cannon, Miss Virginia Riblet, Miss Signa Auen, Miss Annabelle Moore and Mrs. Charles Benton of Portland.

"Miss Gertrude Fullerton has issued invitations for a 1 o'clock luncheon to be held at her home, 2707 McClellan street, Friday afternoon, in compliment to Miss Louise Heusner of Portland, who is the guest of Miss Helen Grinnell. More than 30 invitations have been issued."

Joyce-Nordberg Wedding.
A very pretty wedding of the week was that of Esther Ethel Nordberg and Gilbert G. Joyce on Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Nordberg, Dr. Luther Dyott officiating. The bride, a charming picture in a gown of white charmeuse, her veil held in place with white sweet peas and carrying a shower bouquet of roses, entered on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The only attendants were Mrs. J. H. Joyce as matron of honor, who wore a gown of apricot crepe de chine, and J. H. Joyce, brother of the groom, as best man. Mrs. Nordberg, mother of the bride, was gowned in black satin. A wedding breakfast followed the service at which only the immediate relatives were present. Mrs. Joyce is an attractive and accomplished young woman and Mr. Joyce is assistant manager of the Hazelwood confectionery and restaurant and a member of the Multnomah Athletic and Ad clubs. DESERTED 34 YEARS AGO; IS REARRESTED
Berlin, Aug. 22.—Frederick Ankener, the aged sailor from San Francisco, who was sentenced to six years' imprisonment for deserting a German warship 34 years ago, has begun serving his sentence. Ankener deserted in Valparaiso from the cruiser Hansa in 1879. He went from there to San Francisco and has been sailing from that port ever since.

Past 50 years of age and homeless for a glimpse of the fatherland, Ankener arrived in Kiel on July 18. Believing that the amnesty granted by the kaiser in celebration of his jubilee covered his case, Ankener immediately reported to the authorities and made himself known. Great was his surprise when he was arrested, court-martialed for desertion and sentenced. Ankener hopes that San Francisco friends will appeal to the kaiser for him.

JILTED LORD BECAUSE HE COULD NOT TROT

Miss Betty Hamilton.

New York, Aug. 22.—Miss Betty Hamilton, the pretty daughter of a wealthy English planter of Guatemala, who recently arrived from England, admitted that she jilted the English lord whom she had been engaged to marry when she left New York several months ago. Miss Hamilton inferred that her decision was actuated partly by the ardent wooing of a young Canadian and partly because of the fact that the nobleman was so clumsy when attempting to execute the difficult steps of the turkey trot and other one step dances.

CLAY NOT MURDERED; PLEADS MENTAL LAPSE

Came to Self, Spokane Man Tells, as a Fireman in Cascade Mountains.
Spokane, Wash., Aug. 22.—J. W. Clay, the streetcar conductor who disappeared July 7, and whose cap, covered with blood, was found on the river bank here, has returned with a story of having suffered a mental lapse. He said he regained his memory while working as a railroad fireman in the Cascade mountains. Detectives have searched for him for two weeks, thinking he had either committed suicide or been murdered.

"The whole thing seems like a dream to me," said Clay today. "I didn't desert my wife and 3-year-old daughter as out of town with relatives and will return this evening.

TOUR OF COUNTRY IS IN INDIANS' INTEREST

Dr. Dixon and Party Visiting Tribes in Every Section Arousing Patriotism.

Dr. Joseph Kossuth Dixon, leader of the Rodman Wanamaker Expeditions to the North American Indians, who is making a tour of the United States, covering 22,000 miles, in the interest of the Indians, arrived in Portland yesterday in his private car, "The Signet," and is stopping at the Oregon.

Dr. Dixon will visit every one of the 169 tribes in the United States, in an effort to arouse patriotism and loyalty to the flag, and to every tribe he will present a beautiful flag. Impressive ceremonies will mark these presentations which will appeal to the Indians' natural sense of reverence.

At each presentation, President Wilson's speech, made especially on a phonograph record for these occasions, and addresses by F. H. Abbott, acting commissioner of Indian affairs, and Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane will be reproduced on the phonograph.

The conclusion of these ceremonies will be the signing of the declaration of allegiance to the United States by the chiefs of the tribes, that was prepared by representatives of 11 tribes who participated in breaking ground for the National American Indian Memorial at Fort Wadsworth, February 22. The party will leave today for the sound cities.

FEW BLOND WOMEN APPLY FOR LICENSE TO FISH AND HUNT

"Of applicants for fishing and hunting licenses who have enough hair left to tell the color, not over 5 per cent are blonds," said Deputy County Clerk Monroe Goldstein today. "This applies to women as well as men. Just why it is so is beyond me, unless it can be laid at the door of fashion. In recording descriptions, the fact has struck me repeatedly that I write brown or black about 20 times to blonde once."

"Men don't understand women," says a pessimist; "if they did the women would have to do all the chasing."
