

SEASHORE

NORTH BEACH

NORTH BEACH, Wash., Aug. 23.—Jonah's whale has been totally eclipsed by the real present whale which came ashore at Cranberry station on this beach on Tuesday morning. The fish came in on its back with a 32-foot harpoon stuck in its abdomen. It had got away from the Westport, a whaling vessel from the station at Westport, Wash.

Crowds have been flocking since Tuesday morning and the automobiles, trains and carriages are reaping a harvest.

Next to the whale the annual tennis tournament has attracted the most attention. The entry list has been larger this year than ever before and quite a number of strong players are on the list. The evenings are given up to small events, and numerous dinner, bathing, clamming and excursion parties are "sandwiched" in.

LONG BEACH

SEASIDE

Seaside, Or., Aug. 23.—Much to the surprise of pioneer resorters at Seaside there seems to be no abatement of the steady flow of inlanders to the beach at this place. The summer population is still increasing.

At no other time during the season is the weather more perfect at the beach than in the middle of August. The sun, the sea and the clear, moonlight nights, the warm sun and the cool, balmy ocean breeze have made the week one of the most enjoyable during the season. Bathing has been most delightful all this week.

With climatic conditions so favorable there has been much entertaining of week-end guests. Card parties and afternoon teas have been society busy during the day while bonfires are the popular attraction at night.

Seaside Brevities.
One of the many parties during the week was a delightful affair given by Mrs. Thomas Vigners in the nature of a costume-dress house warming party in her recently completed summer home. Luncheon was served cafeteria style. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Giles, Mrs. D. L. Rich, Mrs. Vernon Guthrie, Mrs. Perry Abbott, Miss Laura Bolton, Miss Ida Shattler, Mrs. Clara Rogers, Miss Lola Giles, Walter and Chester Rich.

A. E. Dignan has arrived at the beach where he will spend 10 days with his family in their cottage, the Al Vistas. Miss Mildred Green, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Curtis in Portland, returned to the summer home of her mother, the Dale cottage, Wednesday.
