

MEMBERSHIP WORK OF Y. M. C. A IS PUT UPON ENTIRELY NEW BASIS

Energetic Committee Named Both to Secure Members and Assist Them Afterward.

Membership work of the Portland Young Men's Christian Association has just been put upon an entirely new basis by the organization of a committee of management that will have charge of this important activity. The innovation, it is expected, will greatly strengthen the membership bureau, making possible not only more systematized effort to secure new members, but looking after young men after they are enrolled to see that they get the advantages they desire.

The new membership committee will be headed by I. C. Cunningham, a business man who has taken intense interest in the association work and who was one of the winners in the Y. M. C. A. contest against the Seattle association several months ago. Mr. Cunningham will have a strong committee to assist him. The duties of the committee will be of far wider scope than merely to swell the enrollment of the association.

W. B. Platt, who has been doing excellent work as membership secretary, will remain at the head of the department and will have a staff of two assistants. One of these will be H. W. Harris, the present social secretary, who for more than a year past has devoted a large part of his time to welcoming strangers who visit the association building. Mr. Harris is one of the best known of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

The other assistant to Mr. Platt will be C. E. Poling, now employed in the ticket office of the Northwestern line. Mr. Poling is a son of Rev. C. C. Poling, pastor of the First United Evangelical church, and has taken an active interest in association work. He will have charge of the membership records and will be the office man of the staff. Mr. Platt and Mr. Harris will devote most of their time to outside work, securing new members and looking after the interests of the men after they have joined.

The first object of the changes in the membership department is to keep in closer touch with our members," said General Secretary Stone today. "We not only want more men to join but we want to see that they get the particular advantages they are after. We believe that we have struck upon the right way to do this, and in Mr. Platt and Mr. Harris have the right men to carry out the plan."

WIFE OF GREEK PRINCE ASKS AID FOR FAMILY

Los Angeles, Aug. 28.—Claiming to be the wife of the Greek prince Comnenou-Palaologus, former confidential aide to the sultan of Turkey, a pretty English woman has applied today to the police for financial aid for herself, three children and her husband, who are destitute. The prince fled Turkey, she said, when the Young Turks assumed power. He has made his living here by lecturing before various clubs. Temporary aid was provided.

Salem Gets Dayton, Wash., Pastor.

Dayton, Wash., Aug. 28.—Followed by the regrets of his church members and the citizens of Dayton generally, Rev. Frank Porter has left for Salem, Or. During the three years of his pastorate at the First Christian church here both Mr. and Mrs. Porter have won the high regard of the community, and the membership of the local church has been increased by more than 200. At a public reception Saturday evening Mrs. Porter was presented with a gold watch as a token of the congregation's esteem. Mr. Porter expects to take up the pastorate at the First Christian church at Salem the first Sunday in September.

THROWN FROM HORSE AT SUMMER CAPITOL

Miss Jessie Wilson.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 28.—It was announced at the Wilson summer home here today that Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, who was thrown from her horse while riding with her fiancé, Francis B. Sayre, late yesterday, was suffering severely today, but that her injuries are confined to bruises and are not dangerous. Miss Wilson attributed the accident to a loose stirrup.

Sayre had been riding ahead and knew nothing of the accident until the riderless horse dashed past him. Dr. Charles W. Worthen found Miss Wilson lying unconscious in the road. She regained her senses about half an hour later.

SUMMER VISITORS AT NEWPORT SEE MANY SPLENDID EXHIBITS

Agricultural Resources of Lincoln County More Diversified Than Generally Known.

(Special to The Journal.)

Newport, Or., Aug. 28.—As a sequel to the Newport Commercial club's banquet last week to the summer cottagers here, at which the civic and commercial side of Newport was discussed, the women of Newport this week arranged a display of agricultural products from this place and immediate vicinity for the benefit of the visitors.

The exhibit was the most talked of thing in Newport this week. Nearly 2000 people registered during the four days. It was a great surprise to many and a revelation to valley agriculturists. Lincoln county is probably the least developed of all the Oregon counties, so that the general opinion seems to be that nothing grows here except scenery, and that the place is supported by tourists.

Two features of the exhibit were a basket of dead ripe peaches, the largest of which measured 1 1/2 inches around, and a stalk of rhubarb over four feet long and 4 1/2 inches around at the thick end. Turnips weighing from 11 to 22 pounds, and some peas with seven and eight inch pods also attracted considerable attention. In all 31 kinds of vegetables were on exhibit, all from gardens in the city limits or adjoining farms. This included several kinds of potatoes, cucumbers, tomatoes and squash. Eleven kinds of fruit were represented, including peaches, peaches, plums, as well as seven kinds of berries. A basket of well formed walnuts and a basket of filberts completed the farm display. The bay was represented by seven kinds of oysters. A Japanese oyster shell, which measured 14 inches across, from the local beds, was also a feature.

In the floral display there were 76 colors in dahlias which included nearly 50 different varieties. Several vases of splendid roses, and some 30 other kinds of flowers, completed this department.

Among the principal exhibitors were, J. B. Derby, Blower Brothers, C. R. Rolison, Edward Huntington, F. L. Priest, P. C. Peterson and A. L. Thomas.

The exhibit was arranged and placed by Mrs. Lee Williams, Mrs. S. G. Irvin and Mrs. O. F. Heron of Newport, and Miss Mazie Eddy and Mrs. E. C. Bingham of Portland.

PERMITS ARE DENIED THREE COMPANIES TO SELL STOCK IN STATE

Oregon Enunciator, Telephone Herald and One Mining Co. Caught by Blue Sky Law.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Aug. 28.—The Oregon Enunciator company and the Oregon Telephone Herald, both Portland companies, were refused permission by Commissioner Watson today to sell stock in the state. They are rival companies, the object of each being to furnish news by phone at stated hours, to connect with churches, theatres, homes and similar places. A set of receivers is to be provided each family of patrons, which would receive the news of the morning as it ate breakfast, the news being sent from a central station. All important news would be selected, and the family could hear sermons and music.

Watson holds that neither company has wires or any means of securing the service promised, and that until they acquire these they cannot sell stock in Oregon.

Commissioner Watson also refused a permit to the Great Western Mining & Milling company of Portland, owning mines on Bluff River. Mrs. L. G. Bartlett of Portland, president, has been drawing a salary of $125 a month as president and manager, which the corporation examiner pronounces exorbitant. Nothing but assessment work has

MURDERER LAYS HIS DEED TO THE SALOONS

Accused Smuggler Shoots a Motorcycle Policeman in San Diego.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 28.—Motorcycle Policeman E. E. Campbell is dead and William Bremer, a Los Angeles laborer, who is suspected of being a smuggler, is held in the city jail awaiting action of the authorities. Bremer shot the officer three times last night when the latter tried to arrest him. The policeman died a few minutes later.

Bremer bought a revolver a few minutes before the murder, saying he was "after" George Baines, a bartender, who Bremer says, overcharged him 75 cents. The clerk notified the police and Campbell went after the man, who opened fire when the officer laid his hand on his shoulder. In spite of wounds in the head and shoulder, Campbell felled the prisoner and held him until other policemen arrived. Bremer tried to kill himself, but the bullet missed. At the police station he said:

"I don't think I am crazy, myself, although some people may think so. If you don't want half crazy people going around killing people, you better shut up the saloons, for liquor makes a man bughouse. So the man I shot is dead, is he? Well, that's my flipish."

ALBANY IS AFTER FIRE PRIZES

Albany, Or., Aug. 28.—Members of the local fire department are energetically practicing with the intention of taking a leading part in the competitive drills of the state firemen's tournament to be held at Corvallis Labor Day.

Last night the Albany firemen practiced hose running and breaking. Fire Chief Horsky announces that his men are out to win some of the handsome trophies offered by various fire apparatus organizations.

FUNERAL OF INSURANCE MAN OCCURS SATURDAY

The funeral of John G. McDougall, state manager of the New York Life Insurance company, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Holman parlors, Third and Salmon streets. Rev. Mr. Youell, pastor of Seilwood Presbyterian church, of which Mr. McDougall was an elder, will conduct the services. The ceremonies at the cemetery will be in charge of the Masonic fraternity and the Modern Woodmen will also have a delegation in attendance. The body will reach Portland Saturday morning in charge of C. E. Milligan and Duncan B. McDougall of Chicago, a brother. The death of John G. McDougall occurred on a train near Buffalo, N. Y., last Sunday night, following a stroke of apoplexy. He was enroute to New York on a business trip.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT AN ADVANCED AGE

A pioneer of 1847 passed with the death yesterday of Mrs. Rebecca Meyer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Grady, on Columbia slough. Mrs. Meyer came to Oregon with her first husband, Thomas Cully, in 1847. They were among the first to settle on the fertile lands along the slough, her husband securing a donation land claim. Her second husband, H. A. Meyer, survives, along with James Cully of Woodburn, Henry and George Cully of Portland and Mrs. M. Egger of Astoria, children.

Mrs. Meyer was 79 years old. The funeral was conducted from the home of her daughter on Columbia Slough road at 2 o'clock this afternoon with interment in the Masonic cemetery, Columbia Slough road.

Every Express Brings to the Lipman, Wolfe Store The Newest Autumn Tailored Suits Depicting the Latest Fashions From Home and Abroad

—Every day sees new arrivals in this interesting section—suits that represent the most authentic fashions for the Fall and Winter season. At no time in years have the suits been so beautiful—each garment is a work of true art—in every way they are decidedly different from the suits of last season.

—There is the blouse model and the cutaway model—two new styles that promise to be very popular. While we have had suits in the cutaway style, they were not like the coats of this season—some taper gracefully back from the front, and others are draped back and held in place with buttons, or straps, or perhaps a bit of trimming. The skirts are all draped and many are held in small pleats at the waist line—in fact very few perfectly plain skirts are to be seen.

—The materials are very soft and rich in coloring. There is the wool matelasse, beautiful wool poplins—a new eponge—soft fine serges and chevots and many novelty materials that are decidedly original. Copper and mahogany shades are noticeable—numerous shades of plum—rich browns—taupe, raisin and the always popular navy blue and black.

—The beauty and smartness of these new suits are unequalled anywhere—there are not one or two designs, but literally dozens of styles that retail from $25.00 up to $45.00.
