SALOONS LOCATED IN DEPOT HAVE CLOSED

Governor West Directly Credited With Abolishing of Resorts at O. E. Station.

As the direct result of the crusade of Governor West, the three saloons which were located in the depot building of the Oregon Electric railroad, Front and Jefferson streets, have been moved to other locations.

When Governor West turned his attention to the moral status of Portland a year ago, one of the first objects that fell under his eye was the saloons in the depot building.

The governor asserted that the presence of the saloons at a point where women and children were compelled to pass in going to and coming from the railroad station constituted a nuisance. He demanded their close.

When the proprietors consented to nailing up the entrances leading to the depot platform, this arrangement did not fully satisfy the governor, however.

Suits were brought to have the alleged nuisances abated. These suits were delayed for some time, and finally, when the legislature met, a measure prohibiting saloons in railroad station buildings was passed.

The proposition met with opposition of the saloon men, who claimed that they would suffer financial loss if they were compelled to move at once. By agreement, the time when the law should become effective was extended until September 1.

"JOY RIDES" AT CITY'S EXPENSE IS AT AN END

Municipal Automobiles Are to Be Housed Up in New Garage at End of Work.

"Joy riding" in city automobiles, if such a thing has ever been done, will be a thing of the past beginning today. All city automobiles are to be kept in the new municipal garage at East First and Madison streets.

The machines are to be in the garage each night before 6 o'clock, or some other hour to be set, and remain there. In emergency, however, a machine may be used, but a report must be given the City Commissioner in charge of the particular department, requiring the use of the car.

A clock has been installed in the municipal buildings and will have to be checked whenever a machine enters or leaves the building. All employees also have to check the time coming to work and when leaving.

Machinery and apparatus needed in the operation of a first-class repair shop and garage will be installed by Wednesday and will be in working order. It is planned to have the building open day and night. It will be possible to handle the police and fire department apparatus too, should the necessity arise.

"AFFINITY WORSHIP" NOW HAS TALE OF WOE

New York, Sept. 1.—That a man cannot live down his former reputation is the opinion of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, affinity worshiper extraordinary. Even though he may try, the chickens will come home to roost.

That is the real reason, according to a letter received today from Earle, that his third wife is getting divorced. "The English are notoriously narrow, stupid, stubborn and self-righteous," he writes from London. "And because of the views of my wife's friends, I must be branded a scoundrel. My former theories in regard to the soul mates who were but the nebulous imbroilities of independence have arisen like Banquo's ghost to ruin my happiness. I pleaded with my wife, whom I love more than life, but the narrow views of her friends have prevailed, and my romance is shattered."

GIRL'S DECLARATION MAY CLEAR SLAYER

Rockville, Md., Sept. 1.—The declaration of Miss Lillian Reeves, that William J. Fisher killed her foster father, William Aldorfer, to save her honor and in defense of his own life, was expected to clear Fisher of the killing. Aldorfer was stabbed through the heart with a pair of scissors, when Fisher, a boarder at his home in Chevey Chase, Md., endeavored to prevent him striking his adopted daughter, a 15-year-old girl.

Fisher was held without bail tonight. He had determined not to give any excuse for his deed except self defense unless the girl herself should tell the full story.

PROGRESSIVE LEADER

ARRIVES IN PORTLAND TO ORGANIZE WOMEN

Miss Carpenter Says New Party Sees in Newly Enfranchised Voters Big Field.

A woman leader is in Portland today to spread the gospel of the Progressive party. She is Miss Alice Carpenter, of New York, who, primarily will appeal directly to the woman voter.

Organization of Progressive service clubs will be undertaken in this city and state. "These clubs will become feeders to the Progressive party in the ensuing campaigns. A conference with Mrs. Dr. Henry Waldo Coe and T. B. Neuhansen, chairman of the state central committee of the party, will be held at the Portland hotel this afternoon.

"Special appeal will be made to the newly enfranchised voters of this state, because in their ranks we see a fruitful field of operation," declared Miss Carpenter. "In my work of a similar character in Utah, Idaho, Washington and other states I have obtained excellent results."

Party Stands for Progress.

"The Progressive party stands for progress along political lines. It is the aim of the party to avoid falling into the pitfalls that have stood in the way of the other parties. We have four divisions to the party propaganda, namely, publicity, finance, political organization and progressive service.

"The object of the progressive service division is to educate the people through the means of club work. We have the legislative bureau and the educational bureau. The contract with the people, made in our platform, must be kept. It is the purpose of our organization to acquaint the voter with the obligations under this contract, and urge the cooperation of all persons in securing the enactment of these principles which we have espoused into law.

"We want to give the woman voter a definite duty to perform in this scheme of political advancement throughout the nation. "Six thousand clubs, devoted to the progressive service work, are already in working order in the United States today. These clubs are doing effective work, and their influence is increasing daily.

Men Not Overlooked.

"While the women will be especially invited to join our movement, we will not overlook the men. The male voter will be welcomed and his services will be solicited. But it is the woman voter in the suffrage states who is expected to lend an attentive ear to our message. It is felt that more actual results can be accomplished by work among this class. The woman voter is free, or should be free, from any entanglements and alliances which serve to dominate the political actions of the men, who have been a long time engaged in the political activities of the country. New life and new blood are wanted to infuse new thought and worthy deeds into the principles of the party."

Miss Carpenter said that there is no possibility of fusion with any of the old parties. We are prepared to fight it out alone on the lines we have laid down," she declared.

Miss Carpenter expects to remain in Portland about a week. Her work here in the progressive service division is said to be purely of a volunteer character during the summer months.

BULGARIA WILL MAKE HER OWN PEACE TERMS

Sofia, Sept. 1.—Because of her impoverished condition, Bulgaria will enter into individual negotiations with Turkey. The cabinet came to that decision Saturday after a long debate. In spite of the assurances given this country by the powers that Turkey will be made to respect the treaty of London, the Ottomans continue to hold Adrianople and threaten to advance into Bulgaria. The nation is in no condition to fight and will make her own peace terms.

SAYS RACE SUICIDE GOOD FOR COUNTRY

New York, Sept. 1.—Suffragists at a noon day meeting were stung when Charles Goldzier, a well known attorney, uttered this statement: "Race suicide is a good thing for the country. It is one of the important features of the reform movement for better conditions and a greater regard for human life. When the time comes that we really value human life, then it will be time to bring children into the world. Until then it is better that no more children be born."
