

GEN'L CRAWFORD NOW SAYS GOVERNOR WEST VERY MUCH MISTAKEN

Defends His Recent Investigation of I. W. W. Disturbances at Bandon.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Sept. 4.—Attorney General Crawford last night issued a statement replying to one issued yesterday by Governor West, in which the governor stated that General Crawford had failed in his investigation as to the failure of the officers to enforce the laws in Coos county.

General Crawford says: "I notice in an evening paper that you have made some criticism on my report of my recent trip to Coos county, relative to alleged nonenforcement of the criminal laws in which you are quoted as saying in effect that the attorney general interviewed a few people and secured information which had already been furnished him through communications sent to your office by citizens of Coos county."

"Then you continue: 'This office will again proceed to take the matter up through special counsel with the view of presenting it to the court, as provided by law, and will await the findings of the court.'

"I beg to say that I called your attention in my report to the fact that the court did not meet until the 8th of this month, and that all documents were filed with the clerk of the court for consideration at that time, and then I called the district attorney's attention to the matter, that all violations of the criminal laws shown in the documents so filed, might be punished. Said chapter 180 provides that the attorney general shall present the matter to the court if requested by the governor. I was so requested, and I presented the matter just as far as it could be presented before the court meets. This you will know when you made your statements to the press. I could have remained until the 8th instant by neglecting other business of importance, but concluded to ask the district attorney to present the matter."

"If you send your special counsel when he arrives there he will find the evidence and the addresses of the witnesses whom he can summon are all there. In your statement that the evidence furnished by your office, if you mean to insinuate that nothing was secured except what was handed me by your private secretary, then you have not read the papers accompanying my report, or else you intentionally misstate the facts, but very little evidence was furnished by your office. The papers show every statement I could secure relative to the neglect of officers to fulfill their duties and that was what was requested to do, and in every respect I carried out the full instructions of your communication."

"I would suggest that if special counsel goes to Coos county he should be there on or before the 8th instant, so as to be there at the opening of court if he is to aid the district attorney in presenting the matter. I will cheerfully assist in preparing a brief."

DEPOSED KING OF PORTUGAL WEDS GERMAN PRINCESS

Europe, were stationed according to their rank in the various halls and halls through which the bridal procession passed.

Royal Salute Greets Fair.
A royal salute and a blast of trumpets announced to the waiting populace the conclusion of the wedding ceremony. A mighty roar of cheers greeted the enormous crowd that thronged the vicinity of the castle. In response, the newly married pair appeared upon a balcony of the castle and smilingly bowed the acknowledgments. The bride was flushed and radiant as she appeared upon the balcony, led by the bridegroom.

The wedding presents received by Manuel and his bride were so numerous that columns would be required to give a complete list of them. They included a magnificent set of table silver from King George and Queen Mary, a gold wine flagon from Queen Alexandra, pearls and diamonds from the king and queen of Spain, an emerald and diamond necklace from the king and queen of Italy, and several costly articles of jewelry from the members of the German imperial family. Other appropriate presents were received from nearly everybody present at the marriage. One of the presents from Manuel to his bride was a very old emerald ring which was once the property of Catherine of Aragon, wife of King Henry VIII of England.

They Are Distantly Related.
The bride of today recently passed her twenty-third birthday. Her father is head of the second nonreigning and probably the oldest, branch of the House of Hohenzollern, of which Emperor William is head of the royal branch. The grandfather of the bride was Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, whose wife was the Infanta Antonia of Portugal. She was a sister of ex-King Manuel's grandfather, which makes the bride and bridegroom of today second cousins.

Ex-King Manuel is of the same age as his bride. He was born on his mother's estate of Villavieosa, not far from the Spanish border. Before he was 18 years old he served aboard the Portuguese man-of-war Arica as a midshipman. He was 18 years old on February 1, 1908, when he succeeded to the crown of Portugal through the assassination of his father, King Carlos, and his elder brother, Crown Prince Luis Felipe. A band of men fired upon the members of the royal family while they were driving in an open carriage through the streets of Lisbon. The king and the crown prince were each shot three times. Manuel was slightly wounded.

The double assassination was the climax of internal troubles which had marked every year since Carlos ascended the throne in 1889. The political troubles of the country were due in the beginning to corrupt government and intolerably heavy taxes. The crisis came when King Carlos attempted to rule the nation by absolute decree, dispensing with parliament and abolishing the freedom of the press.

Side Strings Down.
The discontent under Carlos was not lessened when Manuel came to the throne. Students of Portuguese affairs predicted that the monarchy would soon be overthrown, and the revolution of October, 1910, which ended in the flight of Manuel from Portugal, was not a great surprise.

When he was king it was believed that Manuel would take an English bride. At the time of his trip to England in 1909 it was said that he would take the hand of Princess Patricia, of Connaught or of Alexandra of Fife. The possibility that he might marry the daughter of Emperor William was also rumored while he was on the throne.

But all of these rumors died away after he was deposed. Princess Augustine of Hohenzollern, the bride of his choice, brings to Manuel a plump dowry, which may be useful to the former king in the event that he attempts to stir up affairs in Portugal with a view to regaining his throne.

RAIN GENERALLY WELCOME AND HOP CROP IS NOT HURT

downpour; and many barns and out-houses have been turned over to them for camping quarters.

Idle at Zena.
Zena, Spring Valley, Ore., Sept. 4.—Hop-picking, which began in this section the first of the week, has been brought to a standstill by the heavy rain which began Tuesday morning, and which has continued since without intermission. The yards were in fine condition before the rain. Scores of pickers have been imported from Portland and other places and are not only losing their time by the storm, but are suffering the discomforts of cramped and inconvenient quarters until the weather clears. The outlook is good for a fine yield of hops.

O. K. at Eugene Yard.
Eugene, Or., Sept. 4.—"So far there has been no damage whatever to the hops by the rains of the past 36 hours," said J. W. Seavey, owner of Lane county's largest hop yard, last night. The rain has scarcely delayed picking in his yard, he said, and he expects to save the entire crop without difficulty, unless the rain should continue for a week or two. His brother, J. H. Seavey, began picking yesterday. Other yards will be picking tomorrow if the ground is not too soft.

All Right at Gateway.
Gateway, Or., Sept. 4.—Tuesday night's rain marked the close of the longest drought experienced in 10 years, less than a quarter of an inch of rain having fallen since July 1. As dry as has been the season, crops have matured well and the quality is said to be good. The yield was fair. The rain is general throughout Central Oregon and will be of immense value to late gardeners.

"Pickers" Leaving Fields.
Salem, Or., Sept. 4.—The rain has been heavy here for 48 hours. Hops have not been damaged, except perhaps some of the green and very late crops. Prunes suffered some, as a high wind prevailed yesterday evening and nearly all night, shaking down much fruit. Some hop pickers are leaving the fields on account of the discomfort.

Fearful at The Dalles.
The Dalles, Sept. 4.—Occasional showers have fallen all over Wasco county the past two days, there having been sufficient rain to stop hop-picking operations. So far no damage has been done, but farmers feel considerable uneasiness, as a week's rain would do great damage.

Wet at Nashville.
Nashville, Or., Sept. 4.—Over three inches of rain has fallen in this vicinity in the past 24 hours.

CHINESE MURDER HAS REMINDER OF N. Y. CASE

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The famous Elsie Sigel murder in New York came in as a sidelight today on the killing of Charles Sing, a wealthy Chinese, yesterday, and the wounding of his white wife, who still is unconscious.

Miss Anna Davis of Joliet, sister of Mrs. Sing, said: "Alice left our farm at Gibb, Ill., when a girl and went to Kansas City. She was a mission worker in the Chinese section at the time of the Elsie Sigel murder in New York and always thought that a certain Kansas City Chinaman knew the facts of the case. While following up this supposed clue she met Sing, who was young, wealthy and handsome as Chinese go. He gave Alice everything she wanted, but kept his business secrets and his personal affairs from her. Even if she lives, I don't believe Alice can explain how Sing was murdered."

MAYOR ECONOMICAL BUT COUNCILMEN OTHERWISE

(Special to The Journal.)
Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 4.—Mayor Eugene France, elected on an economy platform, met his first defeat last night, when his veto of a proposed publicity tax, provided for by a law of the last legislature, was not sustained by the council. The publicity law provides for a tax of 2 1/2 mills, and will give to the chamber of commerce for expenditure $5000. The budget of the city for 1914 calls for $225,897 to meet general expenses.

Station for Farmers' Benefit.
Olympia, Wash., Sept. 4.—The department of agriculture is establishing a first class weather station on the roof of the state capitol building for experimental purposes. The station is being established solely for the benefit of the farmers of the district, and if the scheme works out as planned, other stations will be established in those places where the government has no bureau.

Collins estate is Divided.
Vallejo, Cal., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Edna Collins Rubin, wife of Naval Constructor Theophilus Rubin, today inherited $24,000 from the estate of her father, the late John Collins of Seattle. The Collins fortune amounted to $5,000,000, which was divided equally between Collins' widow and children.
