CALLAHAN WILL WORK IN OPENING OF SERIES

Manager Nick Expects Southpaw and Pat Mays to Be Drafted by Uppers.

Patrick Callahan, the Colt southpaw, who has been going at a terrific rate of late, will pitch against the Scattle club this afternoon and Patrick Mays, who has been pitching splendid if unlucky ball, will work against the Giants to-morrow. That is the program outlined for his pitching department by Manager Nick Williams this morning. Callahan and Mays have had a good rest through the three days of rain enforced

"My men have had a good rest and will no doubt be in good enough shape to take the abbreviated series from the Seattle club," said Manager Nick this

This rest has done us a lot of good, asserted Manager Tealy Raymond of the Dugdale forces, 'and I look for the layoff of three days to make a difference in our playing and end the slump into which we have fallen."

Manager Nick stated this morning that he expected to see Callahan and Mays drafted by some class AA club because of the work the two have been doing of late. While Mays has not been winning with great regularity, he has been pitching some fine bareball and more experience will prove a valuable boxman.

Vean Gregg fanned Tyrus Cobb, the great Detroit batsman, three times yes-terday in the 12 inning game won by the Tigers, but the Georgia Peach drove in Crawford with the winning run Gregg would have won the game in the eleventh but for the fact that Leibold muffed Dubuc's fly and allowed Detroit to-tie the game up for the third time. So far Gregg is the second most generous pitcher in the American league with passes, having issued 93 so far this season. Another Portlander, Byron Houck, is the wildest man in the American league, his six passes to the Red Sox yesterday bringing his total for the season up to 101.

CHEAPEST CIGARETTES SATISFY KING OF SPAIN

London, Sept. 5 .- King Alfonso's democratic tastes caused considerable agi-tation in a leading west end hotel which he patronized one day during his recent visit to London. The Spanish mon-arch, who with an attache had had luncheon at the hotel, asked for cigar-ettes and several choice brands of Turkish and Egyptians were submitted, He did not cure about any of them, however, and demanded a certain cheap brand. The waiter at once hurried to the manager and told him that the king wanted a brand of which he had never heard. The manager shared his subordipate's ignorance, and there was an anxious conference as to how and where this rare brand could be obtained. A bright bell-hop came to the rescue, and on hearing the name of England's cheapest eigarettes (they are 2 cents a packet of five) produced a packet from his jacket pocket, and peace was restored when they were preented to Alfonso on a silver salver by the aristocratic waiter.
