of three men. The two convicted were John Madden and W. V. Lewis, while H. W. Lewis, the third member of the party, was not guilty. Trouble arose when the three men made remarks about a woman passenger. They were rebuked by the motorman, who was immediately attacked by the trio. In the fight the motorman sustained several wounds in the car were broken. Sentence will be passed this afternoon.

Suspected of Theft
The theft, over a month ago, of an automobile engine from a wrecked car owned by R. E. Jones, which was burned up near Linton, resulted in the arrest yesterday by Detectives Hellyer and Howell and Deputy Sheriff Lumberton of Pearl Reed, in the hop yards near Independence. Jones suffered the partial loss by fire and the remains of his machine were left at the scene of the fire until insurance adjustment could be made. Before the adjustment was made, however, the engine, a 60 horsepower Thomas Flyer, was removed. It was sold to a second hand concern in this city, which furnished the detectives with a description of the man making the sale. From that he was traced to Independence. Jack Bannon and Jack Orchard of Portland have been arrested in connection with the theft.

Fire Destroys Residence
The origin of which is unknown, broke out in the home of a family by the name of Van Otis at 424 Halleck street, Portland, at 8:30 o'clock last night, while the family was sleeping. The fire, which was caused by a gas stove, destroyed the residence and the contents of the house. A flock of chickens, a horse and cow were destroyed. Neighbors saved some of the furniture. The loss is estimated at $800.

Arrested at Baker
Leonard Kidwell, who recently enjoyed a rather spectacular stay at the Imperial hotel, giving checks right and left on a bank of Huntington, Or., was arrested last night at Baker on a charge of passing a worthless check for $10 on the hotel company. Constable Weinberger will leave tonight for Baker to bring him back. Kidwell, 30 years old, is a hotel boy and other employees of the hotel, tipping them with checks which are all believed to have been worthless.

FINE FOR YOUNGSTERS OF ZENA SCHOOL
Zena, Spring Valley, Sept. 28.—At a meeting of the directors of the Zena school it was decided to open school Monday, October 6. Miss Marie Groves will be the teacher for the second year, and the term will last for nine months. The late opening is to give students opportunity for hop and prune picking. The directors also made arrangements for further improvement of the grounds of the new school house.

Hop picking is nearly finished in this locality, and prune picking has begun. The weather is ideal, and those who have been delayed in getting their pruning done are making every effort to finish it before the fall rains start.

WORK OF PAST YEAR BY DOCK COMMISSION IS SHOWN BY REPORT

Bulk of Money Spent Was for Real Estate; Half Million is Still on Hand.

From January 1 of this year until August 31 the public dock commission received from the sale of bonds, taxes and other sources $1,280,229.31. It disbursed a total of $824,042.71, including dock sites, salaries, construction work and so forth. There was a balance on hand of $448,677.89 on August 31, according to a statement of receipts and disbursements received today which reads as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes Receipts (1912 taxes, 1913 taxes, Dockage at city levee, Rental dock No. 1, Interest on daily balances, Sale of prints, Water supplied to shipping) and Disbursements (Proceeds of dock bonds, Balance January 1, 1913, Contingent fund, General expenses, Office wages, Operation city levee, Interest on dock bonds, Harbor development, Engineering wages, Construction dock No. 1, Construction motor boat landing, Inventory general, Legal expense, Real estate).

The dock commission has estimated that its expense for 15 months following January 1, 1914, will be slightly in excess of $237,000. In this estimate it does not include any proposed purchases of real estate for dock sites.

NOT GUILTY IS PLEA OF TAYLOR'S SLAYER

Hansel Will Be Tried Before Judge Campbell, Astoria, September 23.

Astoria, Or., Sept. 20.—The circuit court grand jury completed its work last night. Two indictments were returned yesterday, one against Fred L. Elam, charged with forgery in issuing a bogus check, and the other against the Sunflower Dairy Company, charged with selling adulterated milk.

O. C. Hansel, indicted for murder in the first degree for slaying the late Judge F. J. Taylor, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty to the charge. He will be defended by A. W. Norblad and C. W. Mullins. His trial has been set for Tuesday, September 23. During the past two days Hansel has been in Astoria for the purpose of determining the mental condition of Hansel, and it is said the specialist pronounced the defendant sane. Trial will be before Judge Campbell.

F. Fernandez, who was indicted for first degree murder on the charge of killing his wife, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. A. W. Norblad and C. W. Mullins were arraigned in court to defend him. The trial was set for Thursday, Sept. 25. Abe Snyder, who has been indicted on three charges of larceny from a dwelling, for stealing clothing from the Commercial hotel at Seaside, pleaded guilty to each indictment. The court postponed sentence for a few days.

BRYAN FILES AGAIN AGAINST BLETHEN

Total of $100,000 in Damages Is Asked From Seattle Newspaper Man.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—J. W. Bryan, congressman at large from the state of Washington, today filed a second suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel, against Alden J. Blethen, editor of the Seattle Times, and the Times Printing company. The libel is alleged to have been committed in a recent full page attack upon the congressman, printed in the Times, following the congressman's attack upon the editor in a speech in congress. Among the alleged libelous references to the congressman made in the newspaper attack upon him, according to the complaint filed, is reference to him as "the renegade Bryan," and "one of the most contemptible characters that ever went whipped in any community."

It is further alleged that the Times destroyed and "infamous person," a "snake" and "parasite," a "coward," and contended that the references to Bryan to congress was a disgrace. The suit filed today is the second action brought by Bryan against the Times and its editor and owner. The other was also for $50,000.

PLAN TO REINSTATE NEGROES AT CAPITAL

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 20.—Hailed by speakers as the most important movement affecting the black race in this country since the emancipation, a nation-wide campaign to reinstate negro government employes at Washington, D. C., has been launched here today. More than 200 people attended a mass meeting presided at by Mayor Seymour, and adopted resolutions of protest which were transmitted to President Wilson. Simultaneously with the meeting here, it is said, the movement was taken up in other cities throughout the country.

Maître Labori III, Laborer of Paris, who defended Lieutenant Dreyfus, is rallying from an operation for appendicitis.

SILVERTON MERCHANT WHO DIED IN PORTLAND

James Craig.

Silverton, Or., Sept. 20.—James Craig, a prominent merchant of Silverton, aged 68, who dropped dead at the Commercial club rooms in Portland Thursday, shortly before noon, had been in poor health for several months. He had been a merchant in this city for about 15 years and was classed among its most progressive and prosperous citizens. He has done a great deal for the city, and his name will long be cherished as a true benefactor of this community. He was an ardent advocate of the flax industry for 40 years. He was a thrifty thirty-second degree Mason, which order will have charge of the funeral. Funeral services will be held in Portland at 1 o'clock tomorrow.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS ARE SNAPPED UP RAPIDLY

Portlanders Show Appreciation of Unheard of Bargain Offered by Journal.

That Portlanders know a bargain when they see it was more than proved yesterday, when approximately 500 five-volume sets of Everybody's Encyclopedia were distributed by The Journal. Yesterday was the first distribution day and today indications are that a new record will be set before the office doors are closed late tonight.

During the forenoon clerks in the encyclopedia department were kept busy distributing the books to scores who thronged the office for them, and it is anticipated there will be a rush this afternoon and tonight. Among the readers of The Journal who secured a set of the books yesterday was a man 80 years old. "These encyclopedias won't be of much use to me," said he, "but I am gathering a little library for my small grandson. The three most important things for this library, according to my notion, are the Bible, a dictionary and these encyclopedias."

This reference work The Journal is now disposing of at the bargain price of $1.95 for the entire set of five volumes, when accompanied by one coupon clipped from any issue of the paper this week. The work contains accurate and up to date information on all subjects and is of convenient size and easy to handle. It would prove an ideal gift for school children at this time, with the school term just beginning, and it is needed likewise by the grown-ups who have left the school room for the larger school of life. The Journal guarantees to return money to any reader who after receiving a set is not entirely satisfied. The sets are too bulky to mail, and out of town readers can secure them by sending $1.95 any paying expressage.

OSTEOPATH MUST HAVE PERMIT FOR OPTOMETRY

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.) Salem, Ore., Sept. 20.—The attorney general has rendered an opinion that an osteopath cannot practice optometry without securing a license from the state board of optometry.

In another opinion rendered by the attorney general, he advises William J. Moore of Ashland that the eight-hour law, affecting all employes of state, county, district and city, applies to the employes of the Ashland electric light plant.

Sproule at Eugene.

Eugene, Or., Sept. 20.—William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific company, spent last night in Eugene, having arrived in the city at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Sproule says that the question of further construction work on the Norton-Klamath Falls cutoff and the development work at Springfield are in abeyance, but intimated that when the present financial stringency is passed this work would proceed.

Trouseau Seized With Launch.

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—The bride of Captain H. R. Short, of the launch Charm, on which they were spending their honeymoon, is without her trousseau. Customs officers seized the launch because it was not properly registered and the honeymoon is delayed.

INTERNATIONAL DRY FARMING MEETING TO BE OF GREAT INTEREST

All Branches of Industry Will Be Treated On at Gathering at Tulsa, Okla.

Great preparations are being made for the eighth International Dry Farming congress and the International Soil Products exposition, to be held at Tulsa, Okla., from October 22 to November 1, inclusive, according to Tillman Reuter, of Madras, who, as executive committeeman for Oregon, extends a cordial invitation to the people of the state to attend.

"This state has a lot of land which must be farmed under the dry farming method," says Mr. Reuter. Farmers who attend are also asked to bring their wives, and women farm owners are also asked to attend and take part in the International Congress of Farm Women, which will take place at that time. Subjects of particular interest to women on the farm will be discussed.

There will be nine sections to the great farm meeting which will be held at Tulsa on the above mentioned dates. They are as follows: Soil, tillage methods and farm machinery, at which meeting farmers from all over the world will talk about kinds of soils, their treatment, building up worn out soils, how to keep soils fertile, to hold rainfall for the use of growing crops, how and when to plow and cultivate and how to pick and use farm machinery.

In the section on seeds and seed breeding will be studied the home breeding and selection of seeds, importance of raising and growing good seeds, and their effect on the price of the crop at market time. Farm forestry will include talks on windbreaks, trees for the protection of stock, for beauty of the farm, for fuel and fence posts. Of vast importance is the section on live stock and dairying and the talks of the meeting will deal with every phase of the gain or loss in the breeding and keeping of live stock. The section on farm education will discuss practical laws by which countries and states can provide the right kind of education for country boys and girls.

Farm management will be of interest to those who attend, because of the practical talks on methods of obtaining the greatest results possible, from a financial point, from the farm. Building of good roads, putting up good farm buildings, surveying and constructing farm systems and other like important subjects will be taken up in the section on farm engineering, and the remaining two sections will be devoted to a conference of agricultural colleges and the international congress of farm women.

BLAZE IN APARTMENT DOES SMALL DAMAGE

Flames which burst through the roof of a frame house used for apartments at East Burnside and Grand avenue, last night, drove lodgers fleeing to the street, many of them clad in kimono and bathrobes. The only one at all burned was James S. Nicholson, who had fallen asleep on a couch while reading, and was awakened by the fire, which roared over his head. Burning hangings fell upon him as he fled, but he escaped serious injury. One elderly woman who had fled in her kimono, leaving her purse in her room, could not be induced to return for her money, though the fire was practically extinguished. She wept when a man went in for it, crying that no one should risk his life for a little money. The purse was handed her, and later most of the lodgers found courage to go back to their rooms. The house is owned by Daniel Kern and managed by Mrs. A. Jones. The loss is less than $500.

Centralia Gets Share.

Centralia, Wash., Sept. 20.—The Lewis county commissioners yesterday announced that $10,000 would be available next spring for hard-surfacing of Lewis county roads. Of this sum, $12,000 will be expended in the Centralia district. Commissioner Teachnor has decided that this will be used in paving the county road from the south line of Centralia, to the southwest Washington fair grounds.

SLAYER OF TWO IN JOY RIDE PARTY HELD IN SAN FRANCISCO JAIL

Coulson Surrendered Himself Yesterday Afternoon; Wife May Recover.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—No formal charge had been placed today against A. R. Coulson, who gave himself up to the police last yesterday afternoon, some 12 hours after George Kovack and William Acker had been shot dead and Coulson's own common law wife, Katherine Gallagher, had been seriously wounded, as the three sat together at luncheon in the Atlas garage.

It was unlikely, the police said, that a charge will be placed until after the inquest on Kovack and Acker, the data for which has not yet been fixed. In the meantime, however, Coulson will be held at police headquarters and every possible effort will be made to account for his movements on the night of the tragedy. Except for the slips, the prisoner would not utter a word in response to questions beyond the stereotyped sentence: "I have nothing to say."

Prisoner Very Reticent.

The exceptions were, in reply to a rapid fire of questions, the brief answer: "I did not know my wife was out in that automobile or any other automobile," and a few moments later, the explanation: "I spent the day walking about downtown and when I read of the shooting, went to my attorney's office." Coulson walked into Lipman & Levy's offices at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon and after they had conferred for an hour together, Lipman called up police headquarters and said his client was ready to surrender.

Asked concerning the truth of a report that he has not lately provided financially for his two children by his legal wife, he answered: "I have receipts as late as four days ago." At the hospital to which she was taken, it was said Mrs. Gallagher probably will recover. Her real husband, it was learned, was a Kansas City contractor, whom she left six years ago. She met Coulson soon afterward at Scranton, Pa., and they have lived together ever since.

GREATEST ADVERTISER PAYS PORTLAND VISIT

Sir Joseph Beecham Declares Newspapers Best Medium for Reaching People.

Americans are prone to believe that they are extensive advertisers, but stopping at the Multnomah hotel today is an Englishman, who probably is the greatest advertiser in the world. He is Sir Joseph Beecham, manufacturer of the world-known pills that bear his name, now touring the United States in order, personally, to supervise his advertising campaigns for the coming year.

"I must heartily believe in newspaper advertising," said Sir Joseph today. "For it pays. My laboratories turn out a million and a quarter pills every day of the year; the demand for them has been created by advertising. I have spent $10,000,000 in the past ten years in advertising. Ninety-eight per cent of it has been in the newspapers. At present I advertise in 15 different languages and in every country on the globe."

"This is my first visit to Portland in four years and I notice some remarkable improvements. I feel reasonably familiar with the United States, inasmuch as I have crossed the Atlantic 53 times. I am as much at home in New York as I am in London."

Sir Joseph Beecham received his title in 1911 from King George V. In honor of his philanthropic work, his factory and laboratories are located at St. Helens, a city near Liverpool. Sir Joseph has been mayor of St. Helens for three terms. He is accompanied by his secretary and export manager, E. Glover.
