

SULZER DENIES HE RECOGNIZES RIGHT OF GLYNN TO JOB

Habeas Corpus Secured for Garrison, Sulzer's Press Agent Who Is Held in Jail for Contempt of Assembly.

SULZER IS INDISPOSED; REMAINS IN HIS STUDY

Burden of Proof That Campaign Fund Was Misused Laid Upon State.

(By the International News Service.) Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Developments in connection with the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer which is to be resumed Monday were:

Valentine Taylor, legal adviser of the impeached governor, denied that there had been any admission by Sulzer of the right of Lieutenant Governor Glynn to act as governor.

Friends of Sulzer strongly denied the persistent rumor that he contemplates resigning.

Sulzer was announced as being indisposed today and under the care of his wife, who has decided that he needs a few days of complete rest.

Louis Sardecky, former confidential secretary to Sulzer, left Buffalo today after announcement that he would appear at the impeachment trial and tell what he knows regarding the Sulzer campaign fund.

Habeas Corpus For Garrison.

A writ of habeas corpus was secured tonight by counsel for James C. Garrison, the Sulzer press agent, who was committed to the Albany penitentiary for contempt of the assembly. The writ was granted by Justice Cochrane of Hudson, who made it returnable Monday at Troy. Until then Garrison must remain in jail. The application for the writ asserts that Garrison has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

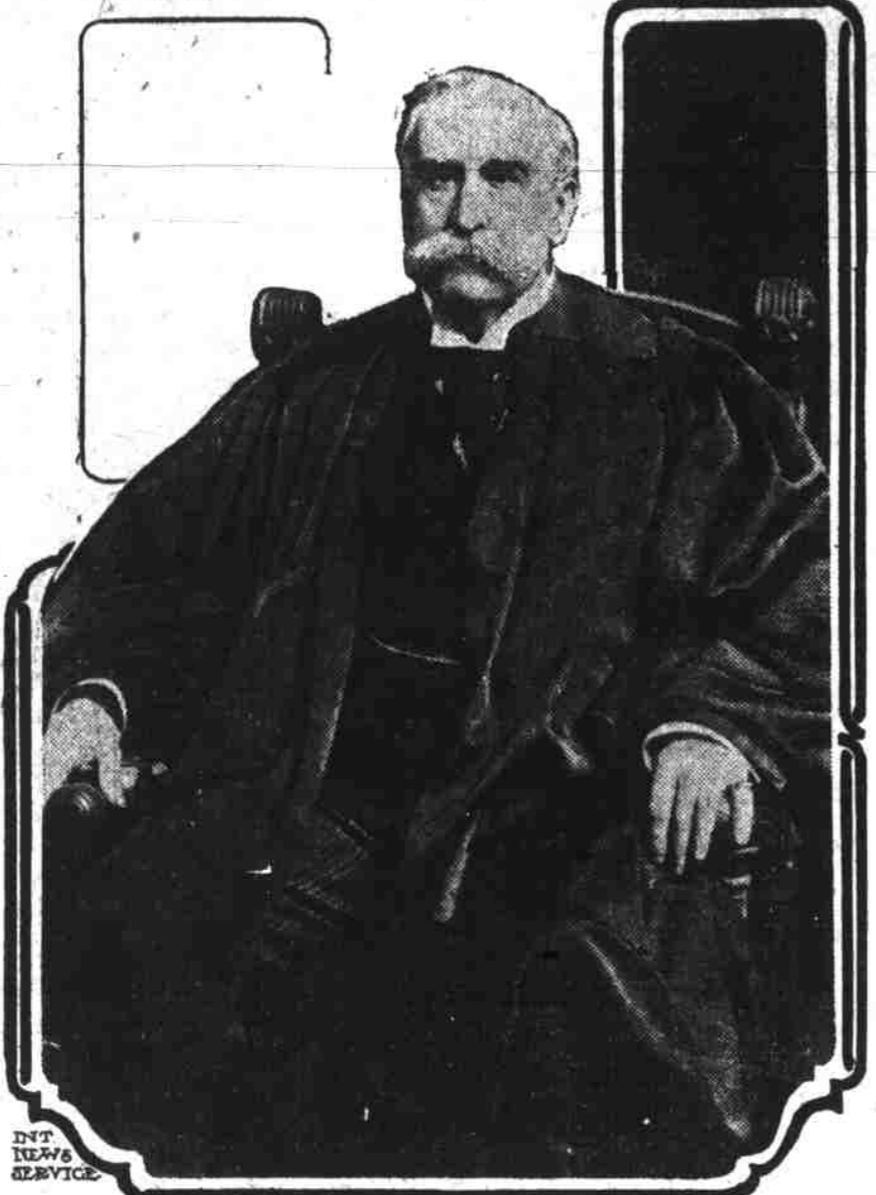

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the impeached governor claim that they have won two distinct victories thus far in the trial. They have succeeded in focusing public attention upon Senators Frawley, Saner and Rampsperger by questioning their right to sit in the impeachment court after they had drawn up the accusations against the man on trial.

Judge Cullen, it is claimed, has been perfectly willing to testify regarding the charges of bribery of assemblymen, but has insisted on having counsel.

When the trial resumed Monday afternoon Louis Marshall of counsel for Sulzer, will resume his argument against the right of the legislature to impeach at an extra session. The vote on this question will probably be taken Tuesday morning.

JUDGES CONCERNED IN SULZER TRIAL

Top—Chief Justice Cullen of New York court of appeals, which, with the state senate, will pass upon the impeachment of New York's governor.
Bottom—Associate judges of New York court of appeals—Left to right—Judge William E. Werner, Judge Collin, Judge Gray.

HIGH SPOTS IN THE SULZER-MURPHY WAR

William Sulzer was elected governor last November, with the support of Tammany.

Soon after election, he proclaimed himself "leader of Democracy in New York state"—this being construed as a direct challenge to Charles F. Murphy, head of Tammany Hall.

First big breach came when Sulzer last winter espoused the direct primary and opened a fight for a "real direct primary law."

The legislature, with Tammany leaders, defeated the Sulzer direct primary bill and substituted one which the governor denounced as a "fraud and subterfuge."

Sulzer called an extra session and made a tour of the state "appealing to the people on the primary issue."

The extra session of the legislature flatly turned down Sulzer's direct primary bill and directed the "Frawley committee" to investigate the official acts of the governor.

The Frawley committee made the charge that Sulzer appropriated campaign funds to his own use and bought stocks with them.

Sulzer issued a blanket denial.

The committee's report was adopted by the legislature and the impeachment voted.

PANAMA CANAL TO MEAN BIG SAVING TO SHIPPERS AND PRODUCERS OF NORTHWEST

Several Million Dollars Decrease in the Cost of Transportation for Wheat, Lumber, Wool, Etc., Will Result Each Year, It Is Declared.

Producers and shippers of the northwest are beginning to measure the dollars and cents savings on the tons and bushels of varied exports that will be effected for their benefit through the opening of the Panama canal.

Figures indicate that the decrease of transportation cost on present production of wheat, lumber, wool, fruit, potatoes and so on will be several million dollars annually.

As the canal brings world markets thousands of miles nearer, the incentive for populating and farming unused millions of acres in the Columbia district will be proportionately furnished.

It is the opinion of all who have studied the situation that transportation savings will be added to prices received by producers.

Lessened cost of commerce, it is pointed out, depends on getting carriers for it. The attracting of vessels to this port is divided between tonnage and harbor facilities. The latter includes and recognizes the necessity of the deepened channel across the Columbia river bar. For this reason, perhaps, the people of the Columbia district have been awakened as never before in aid of the campaign to get from the government more dredges on the bar, and to have increased appropriation made so that the six years' of time estimated as necessary to complete the north jetty be reduced to three. It is said that success of the effort to get more dredges on the bar by next spring will mean a 35-foot bar channel within a year.

The rate via the canal to an inland city like Pittsburg will be out to $15 probably, in comparison with the $20 per thousand rate by rail. Greater use of Oregon fir on the Atlantic coast may be expected, also, for the reason that the production of southern pine is decreasing and the southern states market for it is growing up as the production. It is pointed out that Oregon with the greatest body of standing timber in the United States, 100,000,000 feet—will undoubtedly increase production as the market expands and rates decrease.

'HANDSOME JACK' ARRESTED, TURNS OUT TO BE A GIRL

After Two Years of "Married" Life With Another Meeker, Colorado Girl, She Admits Impersonating Man.

THEY SAVED TOGETHER SO AS TO GO TO COLLEGE

She Made Such a Hit as a Man She Married to Keep Girls Away.

(United Press Local Wire.) Meeker, Colo., Sept. 20.—Bound over to the next term of the district court on charge of impersonating a man, Helen Hillsher, who, masquerading as "Handsome Jack" Hill for two years, broke the hearts of lovelorn maidens of Meeker and finally "married" Miss Anna Slika, was released on bail tonight after a sensational court hearing.

Miss Slika, "bride" of "Handsome Jack," refused to prosecute her "husband" but Victor Slika, the girl's father, announces he will prosecute Miss Hillsher to the limit of the law. He alleges "Handsome Jack" grossly deceived his daughter and led her to believe that "he" was a man.

When Miss Hillsher was arraigned before Judge Sanderson this afternoon, Miss Slika testified that she did not know her "husband" whom she "married" ten months ago, was a girl until a few days ago. She admitted that she had been deceived but said she did not want to cause trouble. The defendant was next called and made a tearful plea in her own behalf. She swore she re-

(Continued on Page Four.)

PHILIPPINE SLAVERY IS PROVED IN REPORT OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL

Senator Borah Will Introduce Bill Abolishing Practice in the Islands.

(By the International News Service.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Abolition of slavery in the Philippines will be urged in a bill under preparation by Senator Borah of Idaho.

"The revelations of a human price list of $20 for children 2 years old, $50 for those of 11 and $100 for adults needs immediate remedial legislation," announced Senator Borah today. "I shall introduce a bill which aims to wipe out slavery of every kind in the Philippines in the near future."

"There is no need for an investigation of these conditions. Time should not be wasted in such proceedings. The representations of Auditor Phelps prove conclusively that slavery exists."

The startling disclosures of the report of W. H. Phelps, auditor of the Philippines, filed today, moved other members of congress and government officials to predict speedy action on any legislation drafted to abolish slavery in the Philippines.

Phelps charges that Filipino women are sold to Chinese as wives, that it is a common practice for the Negro Filipinos and the hill classes generally, to sell girls into slavery and that the excuse offered is that these slave boys and girls are "adopted" into the families of their masters.

It is asserted in the report that the price for a child ranges from $20 up to about $50. The astuteness of the masters is demonstrated by the way the purchase is made. In every case the origin of the sale is covered and is seldom known. It is asserted in cold blood by some of the slave owners that it is better to adopt the orphans than to kill them as was the custom of the hill tribes.

Mr. Phelps states: "That there is large trafficking in girls, I have personally had a number of offers of this kind, and it is generally known that a large percentage of the Chinese who have Filipino wives actually bought them."

The effect of the report will be a call from the war department upon the service in the Philippines to push the individual slave cases vigorously.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—The California Camera club, representing 6000 amateur and professional photographers, has published an open letter protesting against the fee which the Panama-Pacific exposition directors are expected to charge visitors who take cameras within the exposition grounds.

A standing plea is made to have the exposition management insert a clause in the proposed photograph concession contract to allow small hand cameras at least to be used by visitors to the exposition.

The club tells of the precedent at other big exposition and says that the proposed ruling is absolutely contrary to the practice that has prevailed here and abroad, with the single exception of the Buffalo exposition, held over 20 years ago.

"The only reply the concessions committee has made to our protest," says the letter, "is that the exposition needs the money."

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED BY FRIENDS OF 'BIG TIM'

Declared That Bowery Politician Was Lured From Brothers Home by Phone Call.

New York, Sept. 20.—The report that "Big Tim" Sullivan was lured from the residence of his brother, Patrick Sullivan, where he was living, by a telephone call, and later murdered before being left on the railroad track, is being carefully investigated tonight.

Each day the opinion becomes stronger among the friends of the former Bowery politician, that he was murdered and placed on the track of the New Haven railroad.

Detectives from the office of District Attorney Whitman are now investigating the death of Sullivan. The inquest will be held on September 29.

Exhibition Exhibits Free of Duty.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Exhibits intended for the Panama-Pacific exposition of 1915 may now enter the United States duty free. President Wilson today signed the bill enacting into law this exception to the existing tariff law.

CONFESSED MURDERER AND HIS CAPTOR

Top, left to right—Dr. Ernest A. Muret, held by police for his association with Rev. Hans Schmidt; Rev. Hans Schmidt, the confessed murderer of Anna Amuller.

Bottom—Inspector Joseph A. Faurot, who solved the Amuller murder mystery.

MAN GOES HOME FOR DINNER; FINDS CORPSE

Mrs. Rizzis of Bend Says She Shot Intruder for Reason.

(Special to The Journal.) Bend, Or., Sept. 20.—Deep in the fastness of the almost impassable mountains of the Seven Devils country in Idaho, William Finley, a pioneer prospector, discovered that which clears up half of the mystery surrounding the disappearance six years ago of "Gentleman Jack" Howard and Jim Wilder, two gold seekers who had been partners for a quarter of a century.

It was an epitaph sealed by pitch in an old tin can, and Finley found it at the foot of a tall pine tree beneath which a grave had been dug. It was written by Howard upon the death of Wilder three years ago, when the two were far from the haunts of civilization.

Finley copied the epitaph and exhibited it for the first time upon his arrival in Pendleton today. It is a touching tribute from one comrade to another, as follows: "Old Pard, it matters not in the eyes of the Creator whether you are buried with all the pomp and pageantry of a king or the simplicity of a peasant. This giant pine that marks your last resting place seems to say, 'Here lies one man who has lived the life of the twenty-third Psalm. Old Pard, I trust when the great trumpet blows you and I will be Pards again in the land of gold and perpetual happiness. Now all I can say is God bless you, old Pard, good-bye Old Pard, good-bye. Jack Howard.'"

Finley knew both men for 25 years and he is now searching for trace of Howard.

At Munich again where he was sent for further schooling, his love affairs with women of questionable character became a public scandal and led to his disgrace. Nevertheless he was ordained and sent to officiate at St. Elizabeth's church. He once abandoned the altar in a fit of anger, but was persuaded to return and later disappeared from the town after an affair. Then he was involved in forgery and dismissed.

A close companion of Johannes Schmidt in these youthful days of rest and affairs with women was a cousin, Adolph Mueller, none other than the dentist and associate of Schmidt here in New York under arrest and booked by the police as Dr. Ernest Muret.

CONJUGES KEEPT IN TOUCH.

Mueller fled to England and Schmidt fled to America. Constantly they kept in touch but secretly, of necessity.

Mueller became first Dr. Stein and in that guise was employed to teach anatomy in the Hergo polytechnic institute in London. He paid his accounts and was discharged, immediately afterwards, launching out in another quarter of the city as "Dr. Ernst," teaching a fair knowledge of a foreign tongue in one month. Next he became a surgeon, Dr. Muret, and was an organizer of a medical aid society, that provided families with medical attention and medicine for their three pence weekly. The medical defense union caused the arrest of the bogus doctor and Muret dropped out of sight while Scotland Yard held warrants for white slavery, illegal operations, attacking a young girl and fraudulently posing as a physician.

CHAPTER III—Priest appears at Louisville, Ky.

In Louisville, Ky., in 1909, a young man appeared in clerical garb and introduced himself as Rev. Hans Schmidt. He was not appointed to any place himself, but to his new friends, the young priest showed what purported to be dispirited letters from Munich proving himself a priest. That same year the body of Alma Keltner, 8 years old, disappeared and cut into 12 pieces, was found in an old cellar under the school building of St. John's church. About that time Joseph Wendling, a Frenchman and the only person known to have the keys to the building, left his family and disappeared. He was pursued 11,000 miles, brought back and sentenced to life imprisonment, always protesting his innocence.

Also at that time the Rev. Hans Schmidt left Louisville and the young priest letters believed to be forgeries in Trenton, was received as a visiting priest and allowed to assist at a church.

While the Rev. Hans Schmidt was in Louisville, Dr. Arnold Held appeared

(Continued on Page Four.)

SHAMPRIEST, FAKE DOCTOR HAD WEIRD CRIMINAL HISTORY

Johannes Schmidt, "Father Schmidt," and Adolph Mueller, "Dr. Muret," Held for Murder, Are Cousins.

POLICE ARE RETRACING TWO CAREERS OF CRIME

Both Fled Their Homes in Germany, One to U. S., the Other to England.

(By the International News Service.) New York, Sept. 20.—Since the apprehension of Hans Schmidt as the murderer of Miss Amuller and his confession, not a day has failed to add some details of the man's strange life story. It seems to the people that the whole world is interested. A thread has been picked up here and there, this tangle has been unraveled, and from warp and woof, the narrative of his career in crime has been woven. The police and the court authorities now realize that they have to deal with one of the arch criminals of the age.

Inspector Faurot is not alone in believing that time will brand this as the world's most celebrated murder case. As the inspector says the Rev. Hans Schmidt has been shown to be one of the brainiest criminals in any land.

If this man had not made one little mistake and bought a pillow different from any other pillow sold, Faurot declares that Schmidt would have developed into a master, plotting for a band of small criminals around him, launching out and abandoning half way criminality to make himself a factor in the big crimes of the world.

Here is his story so far as it is now known:

CHAPTER I: Sends Picture to Mother.

An old gray haired woman, sitting by the fire in her little home in Aschaffenburg, Germany, two weeks ago, was handed a photograph by the mail man, and the picture proved to be that of her long absent Johannes Schmidt in America.

On the back of the card was the sentence in German: "Auf ein frohes Wiedersehen" (to your happy meeting). On a post card that came two days later was the encouraging promise: "I rejoice that I soon may be with you."

Tears of joy came into the old frau's eyes, as she told the news of her son and his plan to return to her and to her husband, Heinrich Schmidt, who "is 65 years of age."

Yes, the Rev. Hans Schmidt when he sent the likeness and the message was undoubtedly already planning the cruel murder of Anna Amuller, the comely young girl he said he loved. He had looked at flats and stolen a death certificate, had a copy made of it, by photography and had obtained in some way blank death certificates.

CHAPTER II: His Youth was Wild.

Frau Schmidt sat gazing into the flames in the grate and thought of the youth of her boy Johannes. Time again in those days he had brought letters, had a copy made of it, by photography and had obtained in some way blank death certificates.

At Munich again where he was sent for further schooling, his love affairs with women of questionable character became a public scandal and led to his disgrace. Nevertheless he was ordained and sent to officiate at St. Elizabeth's church. He once abandoned the altar in a fit of anger, but was persuaded to return and later disappeared from the town after an affair. Then he was involved in forgery and dismissed.

A close companion of Johannes Schmidt in these youthful days of rest and affairs with women was a cousin, Adolph Mueller, none other than the dentist and associate of Schmidt here in New York under arrest and booked by the police as Dr. Ernest Muret.

CONJUGES KEEPT IN TOUCH.

Mueller fled to England and Schmidt fled to America. Constantly they kept in touch but secretly, of necessity.

Mueller became first Dr. Stein and in that guise was employed to teach anatomy in the Hergo polytechnic institute in London. He paid his accounts and was discharged, immediately afterwards, launching out in another quarter of the city as "Dr. Ernst," teaching a fair knowledge of a foreign tongue in one month. Next he became a surgeon, Dr. Muret, and was an organizer of a medical aid society, that provided families with medical attention and medicine for their three pence weekly. The medical defense union caused the arrest of the bogus doctor and Muret dropped out of sight while Scotland Yard held warrants for white slavery, illegal operations, attacking a young girl and fraudulently posing as a physician.

CHAPTER III—Priest appears at Louisville, Ky.

In Louisville, Ky., in 1909, a young man appeared in clerical garb and introduced himself as Rev. Hans Schmidt. He was not appointed to any place himself, but to his new friends, the young priest showed what purported to be dispirited letters from Munich proving himself a priest. That same year the body of Alma Keltner, 8 years old, disappeared and cut into 12 pieces, was found in an old cellar under the school building of St. John's church. About that time Joseph Wendling, a Frenchman and the only person known to have the keys to the building, left his family and disappeared. He was pursued 11,000 miles, brought back and sentenced to life imprisonment, always protesting his innocence.

Also at that time the Rev. Hans Schmidt left Louisville and the young priest letters believed to be forgeries in Trenton, was received as a visiting priest and allowed to assist at a church.

While the Rev. Hans Schmidt was in Louisville, Dr. Arnold Held appeared

(Continued on Page Four.)

BID FOR OPTIONS ON HOPS AT 30 CENTS

Independence Growers, However, Hold Out in Hope of Still Better Price.

(Special to The Journal.) Independence, Or., Sept. 20.—Another unexpected advance in the price of hops was freely offered sellers in this community today, when Dorcus Brothers were trying to get options for one week at 30 cents. Yesterday they purchased over 100,000 pounds at 25 cents.

The growers are inclined to hold out, as they feel confident a better price will be offered them later, and late today no sales were reported. Offers for Babe hops were made at 26 cents and 27 cents for the whole crop.

Independence never had a more sensational day as far as the hop situation is concerned, and several large deals are expected to be closed within the next few days. Growers are determined that they shall get the full benefit of the advance in prices and at holding off for the present.

STEALS SUIT OF CLOTHES FOR UNGALLANT SWAIN

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 20.—Pretty 16-year-old Eva Parker confessed to the police tonight that she entered a man's room and stole a $30 suit of clothes because she wanted her 16-year-old sweetheart, Clarence Collins, "to look swell like other fellows."

"He went out of a job and his clothes got to looking tough," explained the girl. "I don't mind being arrested, but he kicked because the suit was too small for him."

The unchivalrous Clarence, who denied that he was a partner in the theft, was tucked up with the girl.

Milk Show Section

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL for today includes an additional news section devoted exclusively to the pure milk problem.

EIGHT PAGES of text and illustrations present the several phases of the problem which confront the producer, creamery man and consumer.

ARTICLES by persons who know and covering a wide range of subjects make this a SECTION OF AUTHORITY.

SEE SECTION SIX.