

EVENTS IN SOCIETY

By Nona Lawler.

THIS has been a week of weddings and no June could be more propitious for weddings than the Indian summer weather we are enjoying this September. The Davis-Burns wedding occupied a conspicuous place in the interest of society but the unexpected in ways fascinating and the wedding Wednesday noon of Miss Ethelwynne Glass and Joseph E. Wiley came as a great surprise to their hosts of friends as the engagement had not been formally announced and was merely a matter of speculation among their friends and acquaintances. Even the immediate families shared in the general surprise as to the suddenness of their decision to make Mr. Wiley's vacation trip a honeymoon. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Knox of Sale Lake, a bride and groom of three weeks who are sojourning in the city. Mrs. Knox, who was formerly Miss Evelyn Powers, was a schoolmate of Miss Glass at Bennett school in Millbrook, N. Y. They were married at the Cathedral residence by Rev. Father McDevitt before the immediate families. Both Miss Glass and Mr. Wiley are popular in the younger set. Mr. Wiley is assistant cashier of the Hibernia Savings bank, and he is a member of all the leading clubs. He is the son of Mrs. J. R. Wiley and the late Captain Wiley and a brother of Mrs. John F. Daly, Mrs. John King Stack and Miss Clarissa Wiley. Miss Glass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Glass and a sister of Graham Glass Jr. She is a beautiful girl, a slender little brunette of petite build.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley left Wednesday afternoon for British Columbia and the Canadian Rockies for an extended trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell were delightful dinner hosts Wednesday evening when they entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Baillie and Mrs. William Jones of Tacoma, who were visitors in the city for the Davis-Burns wedding. Blue and gold in larkspur and helianthus formed the attractive decoration of the table. The additional guests were Dr. and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster and Harry Montgomery.

Brilliant, colorful and altogether charming in every little detail was the wedding Tuesday evening of Miss Anita Burns and Charles Henry Davis which united two prominent families in western society. Miss Burns is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter John Burns, who are numbered among the first families of the city, and Mr. Davis comes of one of the oldest and most prominent families of the middle west. Miss Burns is a beautiful girl, a tall brunette, and made a fascinatingly pretty bride. Her gown was of soft ivory white wedding satin draped in silver Lierre lace with skirt caught in graceful folds by a spray of orange blossoms. A wide silver girdle divided the skirt and dainty bodice of silver lace made with "V" neck and elbow sleeves. She wore a handsome necklace of pearls with pendant of fine green platinum set with diamonds and a pear-shaped diamond drop in the center. This was the gift of the groom. Her veil was of tulle which hung from a coronet of orange blossoms in folds to the hem of her long court train. Her bouquet was of white orchids known as butterfly or Phalaenopsis orchids. They are grown exclusively in the Philippines and are of rare loveliness. Lilies of the valley were arranged in a dainty shower.

Trinity Episcopal church was with theology folk at 8:30 o'clock when the bridal party came in. Lucien Becker played the wedding march. The bride and groom stood amid a tropical garden of palms, their stately beauty harmonizing with the simple architecture of the chancel. Snow white lilies were arranged in clusters on the altar.

Bishop Scadding read the ceremony and Rev. A. Morrison assisted. The bride was borne on the arms of her father. Her attendants included a group of the handsomest and most attractive girls of the smart set. Her sister, Miss Louise Burns, was maid of honor. She was attired in white charmeuse with a delicate shaded pink chiffon drape edged with a heavy pink bead fringe. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds with a shower of violets.

The six bridesmaids were daintily gowned in pastel shades with a rainbow effect. Miss Jean MacKenzie and Miss Cully took with their attractive auburn hair and bright coloring, were becomingly gowned in a pale green shade of chammeuse with chiffon combined in the same tone.

Miss Frances Wilson, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Cornelia Cook, two of Portland's most beautiful brunettes, wore satin and chiffon gowns in orchid tones.

Miss Polly Young of Vancouver, baroness and Miss Margery Hoffman were charmingly gowned in a pale pink shade of satin, with the soft folds of a chiffon drape in the same shade. The gowns were made similarly, in a simple design, with touches of white lace about the bodice. They carried handsome bouquets of pink and white flowers and violets. The best man, Walter Amasa Rust of Saginaw, Mich., and the ushers were Kurt Koehler, Jordan Zan, Ellis Brazg, Jack Burns, Hunt Lewis and Hoderick Macleay.

At the close of the ceremony the beautiful strains of the wedding recessional were almost drowned in the joyous peals of the wedding chimes, which added a charming tone to the event.

All society seemed to have gathered at the Burns home for the large reception which followed. Lawn and house were ablaze with lights and flowers, and the gay throng of society folks, all in their prettiest spot, with its flowers in garden a low and smartest gown. The garden and shrubs, secluded behind a hedge of laurel, was an ideal spot, as fair weather and a great bright moon smiled upon the scene.

The bride party, Mr. and Mrs. Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Davis Sr. of Saginaw, Mich., received in the spacious drawing room. Long festoons of white wild asters and asparagus fern hung about the walls from floor to ceiling, making a beautiful background for the smartly gowned assemblage. Mrs.

PHOTO BY WALPIN

Burns was attired in a blue satin gown of soft gray-green hues, which was elaborated with a drape of chiffon of the same shade brocaded in gold. She wore a handsome pendant of diamonds.

Mrs. Davis was beautifully attired in an orchid shade of heavy satin, draped with elaborate silver lace. She wore a beautiful pearl necklace and diamond ornaments.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weyerhaeuser of St. Paul, sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Davis, were among the distinguished out of town visitors. Mrs. Weyerhaeuser was gowned in a beautiful Paquin model of white chiffon and rare lace, with a foundation of soft satin. She wore a headress of bird of Paradise and diamond ornaments.

On the wide veranda an orchestra played throughout the evening behind their screen of palms.

A buffet supper was served from the dining room and tables on the lawn. The bride's table was beneath a brightly illuminated marquee. Here the cake was cut. Miss Louise Burns got the ring. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Mary Robertson.

Mrs. Thomas Robertson and Mrs. Hawley Hoffman, sisters of the bride, assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. Robertson was gowned in pink with elaborations of white lace and chiffon. Mrs. Hoffman was gowned in yellow charmeuse with beaded trimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis made their departure amid a gay scene for a few weeks' trip in the east. The bride's going-away gown was a blue tailored suit of modish cut with collar and cuffs of seal fur and a vest of red brocade. She wore a corsage of orchids.

After their return early in November they will be at home at 183 North Twentieth street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Morgan Fowle entertained several friends at dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Elsie Bond Bischoff, who has recently returned from an extended trip east. Those present were: Mrs. Elsie Bond Bischoff, Arthur Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Rogers, Professor and Mrs. W. R. Clifford, Edward A. Albrecht. After dinner a number of delightful musical selections were rendered by the following: Mrs. Bischoff, Professor and Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Fowle, Mrs. E. P. Keller and Clyde L. Keller.

The dining room was artistically decorated with sweet peas.

Mrs. William H. Skone complimented Mrs. James N. Allison of New York with an informal luncheon Wednesday. A silver bowl of pink asters graced the center of the table. The guests included: Mrs. Allison and her sisters, Mrs. J. Frank Watson, Mrs. William Blair, Mrs. Bert C. Ball and Mrs. Herbert Huson, and the hostess' sister-in-law, Mrs. W. B. Mackay.

Mrs. Ball has cards out for a bridge luncheon next Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Allison, who will leave early in October for her home in the East.

Mrs. E. C. Shevlin entertained informally two tables of bridge Monday at the Waverly club in honor of Mrs. Frederick Weyerhaeuser of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Leech announce the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ileen Allanna Leech, to Russell Alfred McCully, which took place Wednesday, September 17, at the home of the bride's parents in Albany, Or. Mr. McCully is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCully of Hood River and Portland. He is an O. A. C. graduate and is popular in the younger set in Portland.

After their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. McCully will be at home to their friends in Hood River.

Mrs. Owen Summers entertained complimentary to Miss Josephine Cronan Wednesday afternoon with three tables at bridge at her attractive home in Laurelhurst. The rooms were prettily decked with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. The card honors fell to Miss Irene Daly. The guests included: Mrs. J. O. Humphrey, Miss Marian Brady, Miss Mayne Helen Flynn, Miss Louise Gleason, Miss Edna Minsinger, Miss Lu-chelle Dunne, Mrs. Bruce Stewart, Mrs. Geo. Rodgers, Miss Lillian Morgan, Miss Irene Daly, Mrs. Frank Butler, Miss Kate Brazel and Mrs. William L. Morgan.

Top—Mrs. Joseph E. Wiley (Ethelwynne Glass) a bride of the past week. Mrs. Wiley appears in the above portrait in the fancy dress costume she wore last New Year's eve at the Corbett ball. Bottom—Miss Charlotte Patton of Chattanooga, Tenn., a charming young visitor, the guest of the Misses Ralston.

Mrs. Edna Minsinger presided at a charming tea Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Josephine Cronan and Miss Louise Gleason, both of whom are much feted brides-to-be.

About 100 guests called during the afternoon and were received by Miss Minsinger, Mrs. C. Minsinger, the honor guests, Mrs. Joseph E. Cronan and Mrs. James Gleason. The rooms were a blaze of flowers and autumn leaves, the pink gladiolus being used. In the dining room scarlet gladiolus centered the table, their vivid blooms harmonizing beautifully with the tints of the autumn leaves arranged about the room.

Serving at the tea table were Mrs. James H. Cook and Mrs. Robert F. Noonan, assisted by Miss Irene Daly, Miss Lillian Morgan, Miss Frances Fuller, Miss Lucile Dunne and Miss Kate Brazel. Punch was served in the library with Miss Frances Brady and Miss Harriet Kern presiding.

Miss Minsinger received in a beautiful gown of robin egg blue, white lace elaborations and touches of leather brown velvet.

Miss Cronan was most becomingly gowned in mustard yellow brocaded library with Miss Frances Brady and Miss Harriet Kern presiding.

Miss Minsinger received in a beautiful gown of robin egg blue, white lace elaborations and touches of leather brown velvet.

Miss Cronan was most becomingly gowned in mustard yellow brocaded

charmeuse with corsage of Brussels net and Venetian lace. A velvet bow at the girdle of cerise red gave a daring and charming touch.

Miss Gleason wore a handsome gown of emerald green crepe de chine made en train with draped skirt and wide girdle and a white silk lace bodice. A corsage bouquet of Richmond roses completed this charming toilette.

Mrs. Minsinger wore a pearl gray crepe meteor gown with elaborations of rhine stones and crystal trimming.

Mrs. James Gleason wore white embroidered voile with lace combined.

Mrs. Joseph E. Cronan was attired in gray charmeuse with white lace trimming.

Mrs. James P. Cook wore Nile green charmeuse with an overdrap of black chantilly lace.

Mrs. Noonan was attractively gowned in shell pink embroidered faille.

Miss Helen Minsinger wore white chiffon and lace with rosebud trimming.

In the evening Miss Minsinger had a number of additional guests for a dancing party which included the two bridal parties.

Miss Frances Brady asked about 20 girls to an informal tea Friday afternoon for the pleasure of Miss Cronan, Miss Harriet Kern and Miss Irene Daly presided at the tea table, which was prettily set with a center of coreopsis.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cook will be dinner hosts in Miss Cronan's honor.

A party of Portland people, including Mr. and Mrs. William H. Warrens, Miss Edna Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, returned the end of last week from a motor trip to Crater Lake. They went in Miss Lewis' and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis' cars and passed ten days motoring in to the lake by way of Medford, and returning by way of the McKenzie trail. Mr. and Mrs. Warrens, who have passed the summer at their country home near Sheridan, Or., are now domiciled in the city for the winter.

The wedding of Miss Cully Cook, one of the most popular of the brides to be, has been announced for October 22. Miss Cook's engagement to Maurice Crumacker was announced early in the summer and they have been extensively entertained during the past few months.

Mrs. John Proctor, of New York, and Miss Charlotte Patten, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were the honor guests Monday at a charmingly appointed luncheon given by Mrs. L. O. Ralston at her Portland Heights home. Beautifully-colored autumn leaves graced the table, where covers were laid for the following: Mrs. John Proctor, Miss Florence Stackpole, Miss Charlotte Patten, Mrs. C. A. Johns, Miss Ruth Johns, Mrs. L. O. Ralston, Miss Hazel Ralston, and Miss Ruth Ralston.

Miss Patten has been the guest the past two weeks of Miss Marie Haller, but will remain in Portland the remainder of the month as the house guest of Miss Hazel and Ruth Ralston. The four girls were classmates the past year in Mrs. Somers' school, a fashionable finishing school in Washington, D. C. Several affairs have been planned in honor of Miss Patten.

Mrs. Charles Barenstecher entertained with a beautifully appointed bridge party Monday afternoon for the pleasure of Mrs. George Haldinger of Spokane. The honors at cards fell to Mrs. Oscar Rittenberg and Mrs. T. J. Seufert and Mrs. Haldinger received a dainty guest prize. Those present were: Mrs. Geo. Haldinger, Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. W. I. Cole, Mrs. T. J. Seufert, Mrs. P. J. Flynn, Mrs. Patricia Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. J. C. English, Mrs. Louis Allehoff, Mrs. J. C. English, Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mrs. J. O. Humphrey, Mrs. Roy Yates, Mrs. Primrose, Mrs. Chester Deering, Mrs. James P. Clarkson, Mrs. John Plagemann, Mrs. Florence Brazel, Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Oscar Rittenberg, Thursday afternoon Mrs. Oscar Rittenberg entertained for Mrs. Haldinger with an informal bridge party. Prizes were won by Mrs. Haldinger and Mrs. Charles Barenstecher.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Graham received their many friends Thursday evening at their home on Natilla street, the event being a celebration of their silver wedding. Mrs. Graham received her guests in a handsome gown of white charmeuse with an overdrap of lace. About one hundred guests called during the hours from 8:30 to 10:30.

Palms and festoons of smilax and asparagus ferns intermingled with white asters and carnations formed the attractive decorations of the rooms. A quartet composed of Miss May Breslin, Mrs. Elbert Poets, Dr. Ralph Davis and William Fenton, sang a number of delightful selections. Mrs. Aaron Holtz rendered several clever whistling solos.

In the dining room the following ladies presided at the amovators: Mrs. P. J. Cronin, Mrs. Florence Sullivan, Mrs. F. C. Ball and Mrs. William Jessop. They were assisted by the Misses Dorothy Graham, Gladys, Marian, Grace and Harriet Connolly.

Miss Anne Healy was a charming hostess Wednesday with a bridge luncheon for the pleasure of her brother, Frank Healy's fiancée, Miss Mary Monks. The twenty-two guests were seated at luncheon at a beautifully appointed table set with quantities of bright roses and maiden hair fern with dainty favors suggestive of the occasion. The hostess was assisted in receiving by her sisters, the Misses Mae and Josephine Healy and little Mildred Seufert, who is to be flower girl at the wedding. The living room and sun parlor where card tables were arranged the decorations were of pink Caroline Testout roses and asparagus fern. Card honors fell to Miss Viola Barenstecher and Miss Effie Johnstone. The guests included besides the guest of honor, Mrs. J. C. Costello (Margaret Monks), Mrs. T. J. Seufert, Miss Nan Mann, Miss Helen and Miss Evelyn Calbreath, Miss Martha Chapin, Miss Katherine Kern, Miss Beatrice Mills, Miss Hazel Morrow, Miss Millicent Hansen, Miss Gene Spencer, Mrs. J. A. Jennings, Miss Mame Helen Flynn, Miss Laura Hallinan, Miss Mary Jessop, Miss Agnes Corcoran, Miss Miriam McDonnell, Miss Jessie Oliver, Miss Viola Barenstecher and Miss Effie Johnstone.

Mrs. M. A. Van Houten (Helen Mar Ewan) of New Mexico, who is being extensively entertained during her visit here with her mother, Mrs. Joseph A. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ganong entertained at Chautaucleer the following party: Mrs. F. H. Page of Portland, Mrs. R.

M. Schofield of Washington, D. C., Mrs. J. Lovell, Mrs. Smith of San Francisco, and Laura Smith of Portland, had luncheon at Chautaucleer last Tuesday.

For the pleasure of her sister, Miss Cordella Cammell of London, England, Mrs. Frank Wilder gave a charming at home Thursday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated and fragrant with great clusters of Japanese lilies arranged in artistic fashion in baskets of quaint design. The rooms of the Wilder residence were thronged during the receiving hours with the smart set who called to greet the charming little visitor.

Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Mrs. D. W. L. McGregor and Mrs. David T. Honeyman presided at the tea table. They were assisted by Miss Katherine Tucker and Miss Louise Burrell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ganong entertained at Chautaucleer the following party: Mrs. F. H. Page of Portland, Mrs. R.

Our Ambition Realized!

Discriminating Shoppers Declare Our
REMOVAL SALE

The Greatest Money-Saving
Event Ever Held in Portland!

OUR NEW STORE NEARLY READY
And This Sale Will Soon Be
Only a Memory

If you have delayed your visit, attend now and save. Exceptional offerings in Cut Glass, Rock Crystal, Sterling Silver Novelties, Leather Goods, Art Goods, etc., etc., of the recognized Feldenheimer standard of quality and superiority.

See Windows for This Week's Bargains

Established 1868.

A. & C. Feldenheimer

283-285 Washington St. Bet. 4th and 5th.

WEDDING

Invitations - Announcements
Engraved Visiting Cards
Hurd's and Crane's Fine Stationery
At Home and Reception Cards
Monogram Stationery
W. G. Smith & Co.
Society Card Engravers
Third Floor, Washington Building
Fourth and Washington

McCall's Patterns
Dent's Gloves

Fall and Winter Waists

Stunning styles and best variety of materials, all specially priced for quick selling. Only the best styles are shown here.

$3.00 Lingerie Waists, high or low neck—special, $1.98
$4.50 Marquise or Voile Waists, high or low necks, special, $3.83
$4.00 Silk Waists, low neck, like cut, special, $2.50
$5.00 Silk Waists, high neck, long sleeve, special, $4.25

We also show a great variety of finer Waists at $6.98, $7.50, $9.50 and up.

F. P. YOUNG CO.

328 Morrison Street, Portland Hotel Building.