B. W. Fowles, Laura Ganong, Holt Canong, and A. L. Rae Robbins.

Mrs. William L. Jones, the charming Los Angeles club woman and society leader who with her daughter, Miss Alice Jones, have been much feted visitors in the city this summer, the guests of Mrs. Jones' sister, Mrs. Edwin Caswell, left with Mrs. Caswell and her daughter, Miss Louise Caswell, Tuesday, when Miss Jones will enter Bernard college and Caswell will enter Miss Wheeler's school in Providence, R. I. Mrs. Jones and her sister will travel about visiting the various Eastern cities for several months before returning to their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman have sent out cards for an elaborate dancing party for the evening of September 23, to be given at the Waverly Country club.

At the golden wedding anniversary Wednesday, September 17, from 4 to 10 p. m., of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Cline, there was a goodly company of old friends and the palatial residence of Colonel and Mrs. Lewis Montgomery, East Twentieth and Salmon streets, where the anniversary was celebrated, was beautifully decorated with palms, yellow chrysanthemums, golden glow and golden rod. In addition the happy couple were recipients of beautiful bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

Albert Feldenhelm, Mr. and Mrs. R. Northrup, A. T. Lewis, Judge and Mrs. Barrett, Dr. and Mrs. Humphrey, Miss Grace Forbes and others were among those present. The Methodist ministers of Portland, who were there in a body, presented through Dr. Delmar H. Trimble, a purse of good one dollar pieces for each year of their wedded life, while business men and other friends, through ex-Governor Geer, presented another purse, much larger. Golden tokens crowded a large table in the center of which was a yellow pile containing $250.

Messages of congratulation were received from Governor West, Bishops Moore, of Indianapolis, and Hughes, of San Francisco, and there were other messages from the clergy, editors and others from Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco and various parts of the country.

Dr. Trimble, Peter H. D'Arcy, Rev. George Hartung, ex-Governor Geer, W. M. Barrett and Dr. Benjamin Young gave brief talks on the joyous fact of the happy couple having reached the fiftieth milestone of wedded life. The photograph of Rev. William C. Shepard, the Baptist minister who married the couple in Watson, Minn., occupied the center of a wreath of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. This photograph was furnished by the sister of the minister, long since dead, and a brother Vincent R. Shepard, who also sent a substantial golden token for the occasion.

Social selections on the violin were rendered by Mrs. Wommelsdorf and Romaine Elliott, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ford of Oregon City. Ice cream, cake, and coffee were served by Mrs. Elwood Wiley, Mrs. George King, Mrs. Bernard Turner and the Misses Larsen, Ford, Humphrey, Johnson and Grace Forbes. Mrs. Trimble and Mrs. Owen Summers served with Mrs. Benjamin Young and Mrs. Barrett, of Hillsboro, at the samovar. Rev. Dr. Waters rendered an original poem written for the occasion and of rare fitness. The reading of the poem, which elicited prolonged applause and much favorable comment, was followed by a second poem by Rev. Alfred Kummer, of Oakland, Cal., formerly pastor of the Taylor Street Methodist church. It was written especially for the occasion and was read by Rev. S. A. Starr.

In the receiving line were Colonel and Mrs. Montgomery, Dr. and Mrs. Cline and daughters, Mrs. W. J. Farley, Dallas Mrs. Thomas W. Johnson, Mrs. Carl A. Miller and Miss Agnes Cline, of Portland.

BARRACKS NEWS

One of the most charming affairs at the post for a long time was a 5 o'clock tea given on Friday afternoon by Mrs. George Tiffany. Flowers were used profusely throughout the different rooms, the color scheme and contrasts being very pretty. Pink and white carnations decorated the front room while the drawing room was decorated with carnations and greens. Yellow chrysanthemums were used in the library and pink roses were faintly arranged on the tea table in the dining room. The room was trimmed with white asters. Those receiving with Mrs. Tiffany were Mrs. George S. Young, Mrs. Wilson Chase, Mrs. Adrian Fleming, Mrs. Walter Boswell and Miss Polly Young. The punch was served by Miss Brambila assisted by Mrs. R. J. Phinney. At the tea table Mrs. Bennett poured the tea and Mrs. George S. Young the chocolate. The ice cream was served by Mrs. John Page.

The music was furnished by the stringed orchestra of the Twenty-first band.
