Woman Fined.—Mrs. Josephine Brophy, living in the Mount Scott district, was fined $100 Wednesday afternoon in the municipal court for calling Mrs. J. R. Casey a "pussy cat" and a few other uncomplimentary names. For two hours, the Mount Scott squabble occupied the attention of the court, in an endeavor to adjust the neighborhood tangle occasioned by the fight between the two women who are neighbors. Mrs. Turner, 5743 Fifty-fourth avenue, southeast, testified that she heard Mrs. Brophy talk to the "butterfly" in a derogatory way about Mrs. Casey. In the end, Judge Stevenson said he was convinced Mrs. Brophy had said things not used by peaceable neighbors, therefore a judgment of guilty was recorded and sentence imposed.

Supervisor to Inspect.—Despite the request of Road Supervisor Small that an expert bridge engineer be employed by the county to inspect the Sandy river bridge the county commissioners yesterday ordered that he make the inspection in person. This bridge, which is near the Portland Automobile club house, has been complained about, as it is considered in poor condition. It is planned to make necessary repairs to the bridge at once.

Suit Over Scrap Iron.—The Standard Clay company yesterday received a verdict for $117.43 against M. D. Hodges in Circuit Judge Davis' court. The company claimed that Hodges and M. Earle & Son bought scrap iron for which they paid only in part. As Hodges was the real purchaser he was held responsible. He alleged that only part of the scrap iron bought was delivered.

Administrator Appointed.—In the absence of Circuit Judge Cleason of the probate department of the circuit court, Judge Gatena yesterday appointed A. H. Morgan administrator of the estate of his wife, Madge Gertrude Morgan, who died September 23. Mrs. Morgan left real estate valued at $11,000. Two young sons are the remaining heirs.

Grocery Incorporated.—Articles of incorporation of the Rose City Grocery, a retail store at 1533 Sandy road, have been filed with County Clerk Coffey. The incorporators are Mary E. Spencer, Laura B. Helm and George J. Helm. The company is capitalized at $3000.

Complains Against Husband.—According to the complaint of Mima Kelleher against John J. Kelleher, in which she asks for a divorce, she was compelled to have her husband arrested for beating their son unmercifully, and he was found guilty and fined. She also charged that he beat her over the back with a strap. After the arrest she says he deserted her. She asks for the custody of three children, five to a lot, in McKinley park and $10 a month alimony. They were married August 12, 1897.

Woman Is Fined $5.—Mrs. J. L. Stone, 734 Rosevelt street, was before the municipal court this morning for not keeping her dog muzzled. She said the dog dashed out of the house when the door was opened, ran into the street and into the arms of the dog catcher. Mrs. Stone explained the dog belonged to her husband, but the court held that she was the legal custodian of the animal during the husband's absence. She was fined $5.

Loss for $200 Damages.—Alleging that the Northwestern Electric company has proceeded to erect its power line over the Victoria dock property on the east side without permission, the Irving Real Estate company, owner of the property, has started suit to recover $500 damages and to enjoin the electric company from proceeding with its plans.

The Story of a Million

Tomorrow, Saturday, October 4, our prescription file numbers will have reached the One Million mark. This means that for nearly half a century, during which time we have faithfully pursued our calling as apothecaries, we have dispensed to the public of Portland and the surrounding community this number of physicians' original prescriptions (we do not include prescriptions refilled), and that during all this time no serious error has ever occurred in carrying out this responsible task. We believe this record, as to numbers and service, is not duplicated by any store on the Pacific Coast, or, indeed, west of Chicago.

Mr. Clarke and Mr. Woodward, the owners of this business, have been associated in conducting it for over thirty years, and are still actively engaged in serving the public and attending to every detail of their business, no matter how trivial, securing to their patrons every convenience and improvement which their calling may suggest.

We confess to a natural and proper feeling of pride in our record, not of boasting, but the consciousness of faithful service well rewarded by the confidence and patronage of the people whom we serve. Our new store, occupying the entire building, in its new location, beautifully lighted and equipped, and comprising, as it does, ten selling floors, stands today as an evidence of what hard work and intelligent effort can accomplish—America's Largest Retail Drug Store.

In commemoration of this occasion, we shall tomorrow (Saturday) present to every patron having one or more prescriptions filled at our store, whether original, refill or family recipe, a beautiful souvenir, attesting our feeling of gratitude to the public for patronage heretofore extended. These souvenirs, handsomely framed pictures, selected from our Art Section, will be displayed during the remainder of the week in our Alder street windows. Owing to the necessary limitations, we will be unable to present more than one souvenir to each patron of our Prescription Department, and as there are a variety of subjects, we would earnestly request that a selection be made in person.
