

PORTLAND, OREGON, SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 4, 1918

GASOLINE GUS FIGURES AS A HERO

DOLLY DIMPLE JUMPS OVER THE MOON

"Still I can't jump," says Dolly Dimple,
"For all that jumping looks so simple."

Away they go - a flying leap
That clears the moon in a splendid sweep.

When up there rears a funny cove,
"Can't jump?" it cries. "I'll show you how."

And land to the strains of Hi Diddle Diddle
Performed by a cat on a rusty fiddle.

"Climb on my back, and mighty soon
I'll jump you higher than the moon!"

"I thank you," says Dolly, "we jumped, in fact,
But it's rather too much of a circus act."