BIG BLAST TO BE SET OFF THIS AFTERNOON

If you feel the earth shiver and shake this afternoon, do not imagine that an earthquake has struck the country. It will only be the explosion of a blast of seven and one half tons of dynamite at Kelly Butte. The explosion is expected to move about 40,000 yards of earth and rock, and will take place between 2 and 3 o'clock. Preparations have been in progress for some time. On December 31, 1911, a six ton blast was set off and moved 37,000 yards of rock which has sufficed to keep the prisoners busy until the present time. Superintendent Eatchel has taken every possible precaution to guard against accident and anticipates no bad results from the upheaval which will follow the firing of the blast.

CRAB TRUST FORMED TO BOOST THE PRICE OF CRUSTACEAN SKYWARD

Word Received Here of Plan Causes Local Dealer to Threaten Some "Busting"

And now comes the crab trust. The lowly denizen of the sea has been corralled, lassoed, thrown, bound and branded on its right fore claw with a big "T."

The "interests" have captured the crabs that the housewife who, in the same category with Sir Beef, and armored to meet the possible attacks of the federal prosecutors, the crab has entered upon a new era.

Like all good, devoted protectors of the trusts, the crab has allowed its new guardians to boost the price of him skyward. This will not be welcome news to the housewife who, if the tentacles of the "interests" get a firm hold on the consumer, will have to deal springily with the delectable sea food salad.

Word of the formation of the crab trust has come to Portland from shippers of Gray's Harbor and Willapa Harbor. A Portland dealer Louis Wachsmuth, has received notification from the shippers that a combination has been formed, and if any dealer here wants to buy crabs in the future he will have to pay a considerable advance in the price quoted last year.

But Mr. Wachsmuth declares that he will not pay the prices asked. Furthermore he announces that he will "bust the trust." He is now preparing to send his power boat, the Sea Dog, around from Newport to Willapa harbor to catch his own supply of crabs. That the crab will be merry, and that there will be a battle royal in quest of the dainty morsel in its native haunts is indicated by the plans that are being made by the crab fishers.

"I will no longer down to the crab trust," declared Mr. Wachsmuth. "I will fight them to a finish. It is my intention to pay the same price that I paid last year, and not one cent more. Crabs that last year cost $1.25 a dozen for the extra large are this year quoted by the new trust at $1.75.

The large variety are raised in price from $1 to $1.25. Smaller ones are quoted at 50 cents, an increase of about 20 cents on the dozen. I will not pay the prices I have to close up shop, and have notified the trust that I will have nothing to do with them at these figures. I have handled as high as 250 dozen crabs in this city in a single day in the past, but will not carry another fire in my boiling room if I have to pay such outrageous prices for the goods."

HARMONIOUS EFFORTS WILL SECURE CHANNEL

President of Postmasters' Association Heartily Indorses Ports Plan

M. F. Davis, president of the Presidential Postmasters' association of Oregon, indorses the combining of secure 40 feet of water on the Columbia river bar, in a letter written to Dr. Alfred Kinney, chairman of the Ports of Columbia committee.

"It concerns every citizen and every industry and will enhance the value of the natural resources of the great Columbia basin," he says.

"With the present harmony of purpose, if each will put his intent into action and the combined efforts of the people of the northwest are organized and centered upon a common plan, there can be no other result than success in securing the needed dredges in addition to the work on the north jetty."

"When the complete working plan is arranged I would have let loose upon executive, departmental and legislative officers at Washington, such a volume of letters, forceful, insistent and convincing that the government would be forced to recognize the need of immediate action."

"But this will take work, hard work, intelligently directed by some one in authority, and the combined efforts of willing citizens. Let us all direct our energies to secure a 40 foot channel at the mouth of the Columbia in 1914."
