A MESSAGE PARAMOUNT

nburg-American line, now in tland in the interest of his great man can carry more weight. Sickel speaks from the viewnt of an expert. His corporaembodies the last word in silence in navigation in every problem falls.

vater transportation, it has the modern and most authentic loosin . The enormous tonnage able proof that Mr. Sickel's comks with the full weight of ty on every issue of mari-

Portlanders can accept Mr. Sick-Ps statement as to deep water to Portland as inexorable law. They in accept his statement as to hig hips as unchangeable fact. Both atements intimately and deeply oncern this city and this people.

On the point of deep water on the bar and up the river to Portand, there can be but one mind. With a total of only fifteen miles of al places between Portland and early 90 miles of shoals to ob-t. Hamburg, the headquarters great steamship line which ckel represents, is 93 miles rom the ocean, and its channel was deepened the entire distance in order itime transportation. It is a sidly message. It is the wise usel of a well wisher. It is the speed of a man whose great correction is trying to build up Port-

The port of Portland must put every resource into action on the

The government and the people o the Columbia entrance.

WINTER UNEMPLOYMENT

NE of the large urban prob-lems is winter unemployment. It confronts most cities, Port-land among them. Jobs for are non-existant in the winter ime, with the result that men walk he streets, lounge in the saloons or dle at home, if they have a home, ating up summer wages or going ing the winter months, men wn out of employment in the nd in various other activities flock Portland. Many of them come seking work; some of them come dodge work,

Last winter unemployed men were ounded up and taken into municipal urt on charges of vagrancy. Some them went to the rockpile; most them were ordered out of town er threat of sentence to the rockle, and their reply was that they d not know where to find work. ve claiming that they came from country begged coins on the A number of boys served erms imposed by the municipal adge because they had no homes, ney and no work.

Many cities are attempting a so-tion of the problem. Duluth is nong them, and the Survey says hat city is squarely meeting the proposition that it is a public duty secure employment for men invol-itarily idle. Duluth has been per-cting her system since 1910, and ne of the features are said to be erior to any system in operation England, Germany or Switzer-

Duluth is the central point for sen who find susmmer employment on the lakes and docks and with ruction gangs. Work with pri-take it or not, but if he does not, and has no adequate reason the fact may be construed against him. The men are paid wages, not the summer schedule, but enough to tide them over the winter months. They are not treated as the recipients of charity; they are told that the city wants the work done and is willing to give work to men who cannot find better employment.

In drilling and tactical work and the off school, 204 intend to go to college. Many girls also are saving their money for that purpose. Others, who are not going to college and whose earnings were high, are entirely self-supporting; others have they never belonged. The new army the work done and is willing to give work to men who cannot find better employment.

Fach labores before he begins in drilling and tactical work and the off school, 204 intend to go to college. Many girls also are saving their money for that purpose. Others will be to give the men as chance to remove their discredits, and whose earnings were high, are entirely self-supporting; others have to contribute to the family exchange and honor system. It is evidence that prison reform ideas are available even in a military organization, the statistics show an inclination on oyment, and it is understood wages are simply to assist him executing this scheme. Thus the sual laborer is eliminated for the thefit of the man who honestly rants a regular job.

Duluth's public work stops during the summer; it begins again with the hardships of winter. Portland and many other cities maintain free employment bureaus, but none go as far with the problem as does Duluth.

CTOBER days. Tardily they come unheralded by the dawn. Quickly, they blend into the shadows of the evening and fade into the darkness of the night.
October days. How gentle, how beautiful, how harmonious, how fruitful they are, how colorful in their dress of orange, red, brown, yellow, green and gold of gathered harvest at the wedding of soft sunshine and lengthening shadow.

October days. How pensive of spirit, how fugitive of mood they are in the death-like lack of sound over the field of stubble, in the hush that preludes the song of winter.

October days. The chorus has stopped. The soloist is carrying the air on and upward until it is lost in spirit. The mute tongue answers the questioning of the soul. The silence of healing and restoration

October days. The singing, the loosing, the winning, the mating, the care are over. The tilling and the harvesting is done. The running of the sap has ceased. Life is at a poise. The tide has reached its flood. The grip of the twig is loosening. The leaf is floating in the air. The seed is falling into its tomb to rest until its resurrection morn The mother of all sleeps and dreams. October days. From forest, wood and stream sweet incense is wafted. It is the essence of life, ripened perfected life. Spring is birth, summer is growth, October days are maturity, the in-termerso in the endless musical drama of birth, life and death.

RELIGION AND ROADS

no relation between religion and good roads, disregarding the suggestion in lighter vein

Reflection, however, leads to the realization that there is a strong lerestimate the message to them is a subject of serious thought in ruary and June graduating classes, in this international expert on the religious world and many are. Of the boys now in school 235 as ways and means to restore it to than light chores at home for which health. It is a they who are endeavoring to find

In a measure the weakness of the country church is due to overchurching and to weak preachers, the Fifty-two girls receive a strong ones being attracted to the cities where better salaries are to be obtained and larger congregations to be ministered to.

With better roads the farmer could go a long distance to church in the same length of time that it only room and board.

now takes him to go a short disnow takes him to go a short distance. This would have the effect of reducing the number of churches of manual labor. Seventy-six car-surviving ones.

With better roads the farmer

With better roads rural communi-ties would be in more charitable mood and more inclined to church union still further solving the prob-lem of overchurching in country as well as city.

When you come to think about it there appears a strong relation be-tween religion and good roads.

MILITARY PRISONS

men are put in prison for their own and society's good, that the prison

Many people these days advocate prison reform, because they realize that prisons have been breeding crime instead of curing it. The new idea has found lodgment in the war tal of $14.269. There were 54 hove obey all of the many rules of mili- more than half of each class intendtary discipline he was liable to imprisonment with other soldiers who had done criminal acts. If a private overstayed his furlough and another private broke into an offianother private broke into an officer's house, there was one prison for both. Now the army regulations will put the breakers of purely ntilitary rules into separate sections was true. The manual training the maximum line is space.

The observation of an exchange is that the automobile driver who depends on luck to bring him in drilling and tactical work and the of school, 264 intend to go to Each laborer before he begins able even in a military organization, working is required to submit a where everything is supposed to run by rule and caste.

realization that there is a strong connection between religion and a total for the school of $44,091.98.

This sum does not include that lane. Bowle David Crockett.

in a county and strengthening the of manual labor. Seventy-six car-surviving ones. were janitors, 42 worked in the harvest fields, 22 worked in garages and would get more for his products and consequently would be better able to give financial support towards the maintenance of better preachers.

would get more for his products and vest fields, 22 worked in garages and ran auto liveries and trucks, 4 kept time for construction gangs, 7 packed fruit, 17 delivered packages, worked in logging camps, 5 ran donkey engines, 3 worked in nurseries, 7 in surveying crews, 2 in bakeries, 1 at plumbing, 6 cleared land, 10 worked in factories, 3 in orchards, 4 in dairies, 13 in lumber mills, 14 in theatres, 2 in ware-houses, 6 at electrical construction, houses, 6 at electrical construction, 1 played in a band, 13 worked at carpentry, 23 in offices, 14 at hop picking, 12 at sawing and putting in wood, 6 collecting, 3 raising poultry, 6 in machine shops, 5 in printing acre, or less than one ninth the PRISON reform and more human treatment of prisoners is a movement founded on intelligence, rather than on sentiment. Intelligence is saying that rooms of newspapers, 4 blacksmithrooms of newspapers, 4 blacksmithing, 2 with telephone company, 1 in that made the increased value, and ministry, 2 architectural drafting, 2 if so, why should there be so great manual. The two classes that were graduidea has found lodgment in the war tal of $14,269. There were 54 boys department, resulting in an order after the classes and 109 girls. The boys earned an average of $212 and person other than a hired-chauffeur, minors of opposite sex, brothers and iconcerns is not available in the military rules into separate sections of the prisons and allow them to continue their military training.

The minor offenders will be organized in companies with regular being cut away. The work is one in winter, and the workmen men who have no other occumination.

Thus Duluth is able to offer the called yagrant a job, He may moved. Half the day will be apent.

The statistics and an inclination the st

the suggestion in lighter vein that bad roads are conducive to ir-made Texas free.

The Mexican character has improved little since that time. Santa Anna was no more cruel than is Huerta. The massacre of Goliad was the forerunner of the assassination of Madero, But in 1836 Santa Anna was opposed by Americans commanded by Sam Houston: That fact secounts for Texas today.

WHY THE DISCREPANCY

T IS said that its owners demand $1000 an acre for Swan Island, present asking price; in 1903 at $23 an acre or 1-44th the present asking should become, as nearly as posiron moulding, 1 stone grinding.

a discrepancy between the asking sible, a man factory instead of a Others did various other work, mostprice and tax price, especially when the law ordains that property shall the law ordains that property shall minors of opposite sex, brothers and sisters excepted, cannot go automo-bile riding in Kansas City between

LIFE'S MAXIMUN

By Dr. Frank Cran

Copyright, 1918, by Frank Crans, How can I get the most out of life? How can I keep from having that onse of dissatisfaction from coming to ed with me of nights?

How can I have, for my visitor at the close of day, that feeling of content, that the gone twenty-four hours were worth while?

Tell me that. Tell me a cure for my disgust of self, for that ash-tasts of self-consciousness, for that irritation in reflection, for that perpetual turning to tomorrow in order to drown the bitterness of today, as a fool turns to his cups to forget his life-weariness. Well, this hint may help: The secret of permanent pleasure lies in cultivating ever higher forms of pleasure. The savage cats raw flesh, the divilized man wants it cooked, the more civilized man likes it well cooked.

The value of culture is the refinement of wants.

arial of the sci-

From the Detroit News Tribune.
Commissioner Glilispie's announced inclination to close the theatres on sunday is a straw upon the stream, a sign of the time. It touches a problem of the Sinday itself. And the problem of the World. The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world. The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In this world, The law tiself has not besunded to man's real business. In the world will be supposed to read and the supposed to read the world and Michigan stream until our saloma, problem of the supposed to read the supposed to read of the supposed to read of the supposed to read the supposed to read more than the police court Monday morning. As a day of reat, Sunday has all but vanished.

The nation used to comfort itself and your of the sunday its the sunday man practice realized to the sunday its the sunday is and practice realization to its presence has.

But to use that explanation to the presence has.

But to use that explanation to the presence has.

But to use that explanation to the presence has.

But to use that explanation to the presence has.

But to use that explanation to the presence has.

But to use that expla

From the Detroit News Tribune.

Commissioner Gillespie's announced into the old motives for a quiet day in seven—the Sunday. All over Europe the times. It touches a problem of the Sunday itself. And the problem of the Sunday itself. And the problem of the Sunday its knit m with the problem.

Why is Europe so tired of her wide-the Sunday? Receives it.

ig it. It's time to stop, and to think, and to

IN EARLIER DAYS

WILLIAM J. GUERN L. ST. Common Company and Continuent Journal of the C Christian church, and during week days worked at carpentry and house-painting to keep my family in groceries and shoe leather. Among the pioneer Christian ministers that I remember best were Grandpa McBride and his son, Dr. James McBride, A. B. Elder, Glenn O. Burnett, whose son, Elder Peter R. Burnett, now lives at McMinnville; John and Alfred Powell who preached in Linn county; Dr. John N. Perkins, who preached in Linn and Benton counties; Elder John Rigden, who had preached with Thomas and Alexander Campbell, the founders of the Christian church.

den, who had preached with Thomas and Alexander Campbell, the founders of the Christian church.

"We didn't conduct the elaborate re-vivals then they do now-a-days, but we preached Christ, and converted men to live better on this earth, in preparation, for the life to pome."

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—Foremost in importance among the events of the week with be the dynamiting of the Gambos dike at Panama. The destruction of this dike will-permit Gatun lake to flood Gulebra cut, thereby practically connecting the Atlantic and Pacific occans and marking the completion of the real work of digging the great canal across the isthmus.

A new turn may be given to the impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer when the Albany county grand jury assembles on Monday. It is reported that plans have been made to submit evidence looking to the indictment of the governor by the grand jury.