

EVENTS IN SOCIETY

By Nona Lawler.

SNOBBERY has little to do with wealth or assured position. In the many different walks of life ranging from a bare escape from want to a plenty in worldly possessions you will meet innumerable snobs. Just as "pigs is pigs," snobs is snobs. A breed of objectionable brutes not creatures of any particular exalted station in life.

Little old America breeds some wonderfully good snobs for a thoroughly democratic country. This land of the free where a brassy front and sharp wit make up a generous half of the successes in life has seen since its discovery, the haven for the restless members of old world society. Maybe we need them, probably this unrest spells our progress. Snobbery has never obtained a smug and self-satisfied mind, but rather it is the cloak of a combative spirit. Their very affronting seems to them of a dispute in their right of their position.

Friends of mutual interests and means naturally band together. The first on the ground always have a prior claim to attention which gives them importance. How can they be blamed if they simply do not want the intimate companionship of a newcomer no matter how fit that one may be? Now if these newcomers have sense and self respect they will see this state of things and patiently endure their less-than-welcome until by reason of their personality and qualifications they have drawn around them their own friends. There are no snobs discovered under that system but wait until the climbers arrive. Then real snobs are introduced and all the members of a justly indignant set of happy and self-sufficient friends who barred the door are dubbed snobs, by these leading lights in the art of snobbery.

How many of us are snobs inasmuch as we simply do not care to follow up any chance acquaintances. That is after all a misnomer of the word we have a right to choose our friends if we will just have the brains to permit others of maybe a little more worldly possessions than us to do the same.

One of the best instances of snobbery I have ever known was told me by a business woman. She is a self-supporting girl absolutely dependent for her livelihood on her salary as a stenographer. She brought a waist to a washerwoman to be hand laundered. The good woman was clever at her work and proud of her success so she took the small order with some disdain.

"Will you deliver this to my hotel?" asked the girl. "No indeed," answered the washerwoman, rising to her full height, "you see my customers all drive up here in their automobiles and bring their work to me and come and get it the same way."

"We are not all so fortunate," answered the girl, exasperated at the other's important manner.

A sympathetic smile greeted this remark as she answered her customer.

"Indeed I know how it is, but you just stop by, on your way home and I will have it ready for you."

I would not wish to consign that good woman to a life time of washing, but I would not care to meet her if she were left a fortune. She would either be the unfortunate on the range of the social ladder beneath her with her grandeur.

Therkelsen, Miss Cleo Nickerson, Miss Louisa Hunsley, Miss May Hugnet, Miss Katherine O'Connell, Miss Kate Brasel, Miss Margaret Webber, Mrs. Lovell, San Francisco, Miss Dorothy Sharp, Mrs. Walter Gearin, Miss Jean Martin, Miss Irene Daily, Miss Dorothy Worcester, Mrs. O. J. Anderson, Miss V'ona Guthrie, Miss Hazel Ralston, Miss Ruth Ralston, Miss Charlotte Patten of Chattanooga, Tenn., Mrs. Earl Laoureux, Miss Henry, Indiana, Miss Mary Steiner, Miss Lila, Rutland, Miss Maude Hatcham, Miss Susanne Johnston, Dr. J. W. McCollum, Wyna Nicholas, Guy Smith, Otto Matern, George Stanley, Brooks Haworth, Arthur Moore, Winters, Cashot Therkelsen, William Edwin, Ralph Knight, Alexander Morrison, Walter Daily, Mr. McLeod, Jack Fric, Ray Frohman, Walter Gearin, Harry Stevenson, Herbert Brass, Joe Worcester, Warren Noble, Howard Charlton, Mr. Browster, Merritt Moore, John Scott, Earl Laoureux, Jack Laoureux, Dean Pallard, Latimer Whitney, M. Lang, Alfred Clark, Oscar Glessel, Fred Rodgers.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Elliot King have received a cablegram announcing the wedding Thursday October 2, at Inley, near Oxford, England, of Mrs. King's brother, Dr. Fred A. Kiehle, to Miss Clara Cross. Dr. and Mrs. Kiehle are both formerly of Minneapolis, where they met a number of years ago. For the past five years Mrs. Cross has been teaching in Japan. Dr. Kiehle is the son of Dr. David L. Kiehle of this city. They will tour the continent for a few months before their return home about Christmas time.

The Portland Art Class resumes its work for the season Wednesday morning, October 9, at 10 o'clock, at the museum. Venetian art, Correggio and the school of Leonardo will be the subject for study. Six lectures, one illustrated by lantern slides, and the others by pictures on exhibition will be given. The lecturers will be Mrs. R. W. Wilbur, Miss Webster, Miss Crocker, Mr. Torrey and Miss Rowland. The October program will be as follows:

October 8—Lecture, Venice, Mrs. R. W. Wilbur.

October 15—Lecture, composition, Miss Webster.

October 22—Paduan School, Andrea Mantegna (1431-1467); L. Erasmiani Francesco, Mrs. F. H. Behrendt; 2. Assumption, Crucifixion, the Dead Christ, Mrs. H. F. Henry; 3. Triumph of Caesar, Mrs. R. C. French; 4. Madonnas, Mrs. John Coleman; 5. St. George, Parnassus, Triumph of Wisdom, Mrs. Donald Spencer.

October 29—The Vivarini (1440 through 1602), Mrs. R. M. Cross, the School of the Bellini at Venice; 1. Jacopo Bellini (1390-1470), Miss Elizabeth Creadick; 2. Gentile Bellini, Mrs. Dell Stuart.

The Art Class will receive a limited number of lecture members for the year 1913-14, through Mrs. R. J. Marsh, secretary.

Miss Gertrude Talbot will be the motif for an elaborate affair of October 16 when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot will preside at a large tea at her King street home.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Hammond entertained Saturday evening with six tables of auction bridge. Card honors fell to Mrs. Joseph Webber and Mrs. E. D. Whitney. William Cobb and Warren Keeler, the guests, including Mrs. and Mrs. William H. Marsoran, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis Head, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fox, Mrs. Julia Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. William Cobb, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Webber.

After the card games Mr. Cobb played several delightful piano selections. The home was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and dahlias in the same hues.

The first annual ball will be given Wednesday evening, October 8, at Hotel Multnomah by the Portland Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. The patrons and patronesses will be: Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Heitkemper; Dr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Smith; Judge and Mrs. J. F. Kavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Sinnott and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brady. The committee in charge of arrangements have spared no effort to make this the most enjoyable affair that has ever been provided for by the assembly. The committee consists of Frederick P. Rood, chairman; Joseph W. Phelan, H. Paul Duebar, Henry F. Kavelage, P. J. Hanley.

Mrs. J. P. Ford and her daughter, Miss Genevieve Matson, entertained Wednesday afternoon for the pleasure of Miss Louise Gleason, bride-elect. The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Ernest Meyers. The afternoon was enjoyably passed at sewing and reading games. At which latter Miss Gladys Howard won the prize. A handsome guest prize was given Miss Gleason, as well as a handkerchief shower. The shower came as a great surprise and was joyfully presented. Miss Gleason's summer parasol was brought to her and she was asked to raise it to show to the guests. The dainty gifts were tied to the parasol with little yellow ribbons, and hilariously showered the honor guest. The decorations were of autumn leaves and white and yellow dahlias. The guests included: Mrs. James Gleason, Miss Phyllis Fields, Miss Bette Barrett, Miss Helen Hill, Miss Edna Minsinger, Mrs. William Patterson, Miss Laura Korrell, Miss Madeline Stone, Mrs. Bruce Stewart, Miss Edna Binwanger, Miss Harriet Kern, Miss Mary Kern, Miss Edna Patterson, Miss Gladys Howard, Mrs. J. Stanley Clemence, Miss Marjorie Read, Miss Leonie Henry, the Misses Arvilla and Naomi Beckwith.

Mrs. Robert McIntosh Townsend, a charming hostess of last week.

Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of the members of the University club are enjoying the privileges of a ladies' dinner at the fullest extent. Afternoon teas and luncheons in the handsome new edifices are quite the thing in the smart set. One of the first hostesses who entertained at the club was Miss Marjorie Hoffman, who gave a luncheon Friday for the charming bride-to-be, Miss Cully Cook. Those who circled the board were Miss Cook, Miss Corneilia Cook, Miss Barbara MacKenzie, Miss Mildred Honeyman, Miss Grace Honeyman, Miss Katherine Hart and Isabella Gould.

Miss Mildred Honeyman whose portrait is reproduced in the society page surprised a bevy of girls of the younger set who gathered Saturday at the home of Miss Barbara MacKenzie for tea, with the announcement of her engagement to Charles E. Hindman, a prominent young attorney of the firm of Platt & Platt. Mr. Hindman is the son of Mrs. C. C. Hindman of Dubois, Pa. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and since his residence in Portland has made hosts of friends in the younger set.

Miss Honeyman is the daughter of Thomas Honeyman, a grandnephew of Mrs. Thomas Honeyman and a niece of Mrs. David C. Lewis, David T. Honeyman and James Honeyman. She and her sister, Miss Grace Honeyman, attended school in New York at Miss Bennett's and later traveled abroad before their debut here last October, at a large ball at the Multnomah hotel. As yet the plans for the wedding are indefinite, but it will probably take place in the spring. Miss Honeyman is a most popular and attractive girl and the coming months will doubtless be filled with affairs in her honor.

Complimenting Mrs. James Canby, wife of Major Canby of Vancouver Barracks, who left Wednesday for their future home in Washington, D. C., Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd entertained with a charmingly appointed luncheon Monday afternoon at her home on West Park street. The afternoon was passed at bridge; at which card honors fell to Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. E. C. Shevlin and Miss Ella Hirsch. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Ladd's hospitality were Mrs. Shevlin, Mrs. Morton E. Lister, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Miss Hirsch, Mrs. Robert Howard, Mrs. Adrian F. Fleming, Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mrs. William C. Alford, Mrs. J. D. Younger, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell.

Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Wolverton were dinner hosts Friday evening, when they celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding at their beautiful home on Portland Heights. Pink carnations and fern made an attractive center for the table. Delightful painted cards marked the places of the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Egebert, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wakefield, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. John Archer Bell.

An event of much interest last evening was the stag dinner given at the University club by 15 men of the younger set for the pleasure of Maurice Crumpacker and Henry Wessenger, whose weddings will be events of the near future. Mr. Crumpacker will be married on Wednesday and Mr. Wessenger will be married some time in November.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster were dinner hosts Tuesday night, at their charming home near the Waverly golf links celebrating the anniversary of their and Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell's wedding. The additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Almscott, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wood, Jr. and Mrs. Landon Mason, Miss Maisie MacMaster and J. G. Edwards.

For the pleasure of Miss Genevieve Thompson, who has left for her trip around the world and the Misses Helen and Addie Murphy of Helena, Mont., who are distinguished guests in the city, staying at the Portland, Mrs. Joseph K. Clarke entertained with a luncheon Tuesday at the Alexandra Court. The table was artistically arranged with a center of pink roses and Maiden hair ferns. The guests included: Miss Thompson, the Misses Murphy, Mrs. Charles T. Whitney, Mrs. Toad, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. A. E. Rockey, Miss Isabella Gould, and Mrs. Harold Sawyer.

Mrs. Clarence Nichols and her niece Miss Helen Bates, left Tuesday night for the east, from where they will sail for an extended trip abroad. They expect to be gone about six months.

A delightful affair of Wednesday was the informal luncheon at the Waverly Country club given by Miss Cully Cook for their four bridesmaids as well as to have attended at her wedding when she planned a large church wedding. Owing to the illness of her father Miss Cook changed her plans and will have a small wedding at the home, her sister, Miss Corneilia Cook being her only attendant. The guests at luncheon were Miss Mildred Honeyman, Miss Barbara MacKenzie, Miss Marjorie Hoffman, Miss Katherine Hart and Miss Corneilia Cook.

An interesting visitor to the younger set will be Miss Katharine Ecob, who is expected to arrive early next week to be the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sawyer, will arrive here about October 12 from New York, where they passed the summer in the country out of New York city, and will be domiciled at the Alexandra Court until after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Sinnott returned home the latter part of last week from Seattle, where they have been the guests for the last three weeks of Mr. and Mrs. Orion O. Denny. They enjoyed a 14 days' cruise aboard the Denny's yacht Helios, taking a delightful trip around the sound waters and up Hood's canal.

An interesting event of next week will be the tea Thursday afternoon given by Miss Frances Evelyn Fuller and Miss Margaret Einschert Webber from 3 to 5, at the home of Miss Webber, 874 East Twenty-first street north. Miss Webber and Miss Fuller will also be joint hostesses on the evening of October 8, when they will entertain with an informal dancing party at the home of Miss Webber.

Another delightful dancing party to be given for the young people will take place October 10, when Miss Catherine Top—Miss Cully Cook, fiancée of Maurice Crumpacker, whose wedding will take place Wednesday. Bottom—Miss Mildred Honeyman, whose engagement was announced last week.

Therkelsen and her brother, Cashot Therkelsen will entertain at the Northons hotel.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell entertained at their handsome home on Hawthorne avenue with an informal dinner.

The Misses Dorothy and Mildred Moulton entertained with a delightful dancing party Monday night at their home on Johnson street for the pleasure of their cousin, Miss Elizabeth Moulton, of Washington, D. C. who with her mother, Mrs. W. L. Moulton, is visiting here en route to their future home in Sacramento, Cal. There were about 75 guests who enjoyed the hospitality of the Misses Moulton. Mrs. C. E. Moulton and Mrs. W. L. Moulton received with the young hostesses and guest of honor.

The rooms were beautifully decked with autumn leaves and clusters of red dahlias and scarlet sage. Those present were as follows: Miss Elizabeth Moulton, Miss Charles Black, Miss Gretchen Klosterman, Miss Kathleen Furnish, Miss Frances Fuller, Miss Ruth Marvin, Miss Frances Brady, Miss Edna Minsinger, Miss Catherine

Ladies

The Best
Wedding and Visiting
Card Engraving Office
in the U. S.
Will Be Opened About
October Fifteenth
on Third Floor Morgan Bldg.
by
W. G. Smith & Co
(Established 1889)

Ladies—See Fink

FOR YOUR NEXT
TAILOR MADE SUIT
B. FINK

Another delightful dancing party to be given for the young people will take place October 10, when Miss Catherine

LENNON'S GLOVES

"Style and Service Hand in Hand"

The Lennon name in a Glove or on a clasp means SATISFACTION—that we guarantee! Bigger Glove assortments, smarter styles, better values.

"Crest" Gloves for Women $1.50
Pique Kid, Mochas and Capes

The better Glove at this popular price! Made especially $1.50 for us, according to our specifications. Newest Fall shades, $1.50

Morrison St., Opp. P. O. Lennon's "We serve you hand and foot."

C. F. Berg, Mgr.

What We Save On Moving Day

You save now. The saving you make is even greater than our saving on carting and handling!

Removal Sale

interest is intense—the shopping brisk—Savings phenomenal

See Window Display and supply your Holiday needs

Cut glass—Rock Crystal, Sterling Silver Novelties, Leather Goods and Allied Lines at enormous reductions.

Established 1868
A. & C. Feldenheimer
283-285 Washington St., Between Fourth and Fifth Streets.

Mrs. Marie Haller, Mrs. Ernest Meyers and little Evelyn Meyers.

A quiet home wedding took place Monday evening when Miss Margaret Catlin was married to William Morton at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Elmer. Dr. J. R. Wilson of the Portland academy performed the ceremony, and the bridal couple were unattended. Miss Catlin is the daughter of Mrs. John Catlin and the late Judge Catlin, one of the pioneer first families of the city. She is a sister of Mrs. Walter A. Goss, Mrs. W. W. Elmer, Miss Blanche Catlin and Seth Catlin. Mr. Morton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Albert Morton. Only the immediate relatives were present at the services.

Many charming affairs are being tendered for the pleasure of Miss Louise Gleason, bride-elect. Friday afternoon Mrs. William H. Patterson (Louise Williams) gave an informal sewing bee, asking in about 20 girls to pass the afternoon informally with her. Next week the Misses Harriet and Mary Kern will entertain informally Monday, Mrs. Walter Yerlan (Blanche Schott) will give an informal afternoon party Tuesday, and in the evening Walter Gleason will give a dinner at the Waverly for his sister and her fiancé, Walter A.

Gretter, and the wedding party; and Wednesday Miss Madeline Stone will preside at a bridge party in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Reilly gave bridge party of seven tables Friday evening in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. There were seven tables at cards arranged and highest honors went to Mrs. Adolph Dekum, Mr. Allan Ellsworth, C. D. Brun and R. J. Wolcott.

Mrs. O'Reilly has planned a series of afternoon parties which she will give at intervals throughout the year.

The Knights Templar club will give its first "at home" at the Mason Temple early this month, to be followed by two in November and one each December, January, February and April. The season to close with a grand ball and banquet in April or the early part of May.

The Knights Templar club has given a series of dancing and card parties each winter for the past two years of very delightful character. It has earned a reputation for good fellowship, most unusual to organizations of this character. The patronesses of the first party are all prominent socially. They include Mrs. Charles S. Runyon, Mr.

(Continued on Following Page.)