Tuesday evening of this week the LaFica club opened their season of 1914-15 with a pretty dancing party at Christensen. The following ladies acted as patronesses for the evening: Mrs. P. Ryan, Mrs. W. A. Elvers, Mrs. P. Douglas, Mrs. W. F. Graham, Mrs. J. J. Hogan and Mrs. J. O'Hara. Dainty souvenirs were given to their friends during the grand march led by Mrs. W. A. Elvers assisted by the following members of the club: Miss Marie Chambers, Katherine Gaffney, Anna Duran, Mary Frances McCarthy, Deborah Griffin and Irene Fitzgerald.

WEDDINGS

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Tuesday when Miss Florence Kohn and George Nathan Black of Los Angeles were married by Rabbi Jonah B. Wise at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Kohn. This wedding unites two very prominent and wealthy families of the coast. Both Miss Kohn and Mr. Black are popular in their set and their wedding is of widespread interest.

Only about 50 guests were bidden to the wedding and breakfast which followed the ceremony, as the guests included only the relatives and the immediate friends but all the appointments of the affair were beautiful and the wedding will long be remembered by those present as one of the most elaborate and beautifully appointed ever given here.

The only attendant to the bride was her mother, Mrs. Charles Kohn, and an uncle of the bride, Isadore Jacobs, attended the groom. The bridal cortege took their place in the drawing room beneath a fairyland of flowers and greenery for the reading of the service. Columns were arranged, with streamers of asparagus fern and white tulle with a connecting arm overhead of greens and the tulle ribbon. On all sides were masses of flowers in pink roses and the lavender orchids.

The bride was beautifully gowned in cream white charmeuse draped with white tulle, which was caught with white blossoms and trimmed with exquisite old point de venise lace, an heirloom in the family. Her veil was a simple one of tulle and it fell to the hem of her long court train in lovely soft folds. It was fashioned in a becoming cap and held in place with a coronet of pearls, a rope of which she wore around her neck. These pearls are a rare possession of Miss Kohn, an inheritance from her father's sister. They are a collection of some 50 years and are of unequalled luster.

The bride's bouquet was of the butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley with a shower of the latter flowers combined with the tulle ribbon.

Mrs. Kohn wore an orchid shaded charmeuse gown, a handsome imported model. She wore beautiful ornaments of diamonds.

The guests were seated in the dining room at a handsomely appointed table set in pink with clusters of the service, and fern intermingled with pink tulle. The hall was decked with the pink chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

On the wide veranda, canvas inclosed, countless palms lent an atmosphere of a tropical garden.

Mrs. Simon Selling, an aunt of the bride, was styled in a modish gown of white and black charmeuse combined and draped in shades of blue with touches of the rose point about the bodice.

Miss Eds Jacobs wore a becoming gown of brown velvet made on simple lines.

Miss Sarah Jacobs was gowned in an electric blue crepe de chine gown with lace elaborations.

Mrs. Joseph Greenberg of San Francisco, a cousin of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black moire combined with black chiffon and lace.

Mr. Black was active in ex-President Taft's first campaign and is also a personal friend of Mr. Taft. One of the many possessions among the many cablegrams and messages of congratulations received by the bride and groom is a letter received from Mr. Taft expressing his good wishes. The presents received were countless and beautiful beyond description.

Mr. and Mrs. Black left this afternoon for the east where they will travel extensively until November 1, when they will sail on the Imperator for an indefinite tour of the continent. Mrs. Kohn will join her daughter and son-in-law about the first of the year and travel with them. Mr. and Mrs. Black expect an their return from abroad, to live for a while in Los Angeles, but they will eventually make their home in Portland.

Mrs. George W. Goethals, wife of the engineer in charge of the construction of the Panama canal, whose cherished wish is to be the first woman to pass through the trans-isthmian waterway.

played the wedding march. Rev. E. B. Bollinger of the Highland Congregational church pronounced the ceremony ritual. A bounteous wedding dinner was served. Mr. Mollenhour is an employee of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. Mr. and Mrs. Mollenhour will be at home to their large circle of friends at 328 Shaver street after October 15.

Saturday afternoon the wedding of Miss Helen Dunham and Dumont Potter-Lamb was solemnized at the Unitarian church before a gathering of relatives and the immediate friends. Dr. Elliot read the ceremony at 8 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Lamb were unattended. The bride wore her traveling suit of blue with a chic black toque and she carried a lovely bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb left directly after the ceremony for a trip on the sound and they will be at home to their friends at their new home in Rose City Park after December 15.

Miss Dunham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dunham and Mr. Lamb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Lamb of Greenfield, Mass.

On Thursday, October 2, John McKenna and Miss Edna Maud McGreevy were united in marriage at the Third Presbyterian manse. Rev. A. L. Hutchison, pastor, officiating. Both parties are residents of Portland.

Wednesday afternoon in the parlor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, Roy Clifford Gates and Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson were married by the Rev. James Hardy Bennett.

Wednesday evening in the parlor of Union Avenue Methodist church, Maynard Cole and Miss Ida Trullilli were united in marriage by the Rev. James Hardy Bennett.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. L. Lee, 609 Dehum avenue, the wedding of Mrs. Nance Black Keadley to Dr. Chester C. Moore took place Monday, September 28. Rev. Henry Marton officiating. Only the immediate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. Dr. and Mrs. Moore left immediately for a month's trip east.

Invitations for the wedding of Miss Mary Monks and Frank E. Healy have been received. Miss Monks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Monks. She is a beautiful girl with a sweet personality that has won her hosts of friends. Her popularity is more than evinced in the countless pre-nuptial affairs that are filling the few remaining days before the wedding, October 14. The ceremony will take place at St. Patrick's church at 11 o'clock. Rev. Father Murphy officiating, and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Monks, from 11 until 3 o'clock.

Mrs. J. C. Costello (Margaret Monks) will be her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Theresa Jennings of Spokane and Miss Anne Healy will be the bridesmaids. Little Mildred Seufert will be the flower girl.

afternoon for the pleasure of her sister with an Orpheum party and luncheon at the Hotel Portland. Her guests included: Miss Monks, Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. T. J. Seufert, Mrs. T. J. Seufert Jr., Miss Anne Healy, Miss Edna Johnston, Miss Viola Baranotcher, Miss Katherine Kern, Miss Josephine Healy, Miss Tess Jennings, Miss Helen Calbreath, Miss May Healy, Miss Evelene Calbreath and Miss Agnes Cororan.

The H. Y. Ho Hea, formerly Wolvenes, will discontinue their Friday evening walks on account of the coming inclement weather and enjoyable Sunday afternoon walks will be substituted. The initial Sunday walk today will follow through the picturesque Macleay park, meeting at Twenty-third and Washington streets at 2:30 p. m. They will follow Cornell road to Macleay park, terminating at the historic forestry building, where many giants of Oregon's forests are shown. A cordial invitation is extended to all H. Y. Ho Hea, eastwarders and their friends. Telephone Miss A. Ison, A-5212, or Mrs. E. L. Gale, Main 3994, for information.

The Five Nights club, a social organization that last winter gave a series of five successful dances, held its annual meeting Friday night and elected officers for the coming year. G. M. Freed is president, H. P. Greene, treasurer and E. S. West, secretary. Patronesses for the season are Mrs. C. A. Hood, Mrs. F. M. Beadle and Mrs. H. F. Hopkins.

The first party of the season will be given at the Women of Woodcraft hall on October 17, and will be followed for the next four months with dances at the same hall. Last year the club was under the direction of E. Frank Gilstrap and proved to be a popular event.

Cards are received for the opening party of the season to be given by the O. E. S. club, at Masonic Temple, October 13. The patronesses will be: Mrs. Mathison, vice-president; Thomas Coyle, and the committee: Miss Della Olson, Miss Margaret Howatson, Miss Monks, Miss Alma Harvey, Miss Funnell Fishburn, J. C. Wilson, J. A. Guarin, Mrs. W. W. Work, J. B. Hartman and Radford Shawcross.

Division No. 1, ladies' auxiliary A. O. U. W. will entertain their friends with cards and dancing next Monday evening, October 5, in the Woodmen of the World hall, 128 Eleventh street. An enjoyable evening is assured all.

The members and friends of Century Methodist church will give a reception to the pastor Rev. Delmar H. Trimble, and Mrs. Trimble on Monday evening in the church parlors. At the same time they will make merry over the prospect of the coming of the next annual conference, which Centenary is to entertain next fall. Being the first social event of the new conference year, there will be a large crowd present of friends of old centenary. A program will be rendered, refreshments served and an old-fashioned social time enjoyed. Everybody welcome.

The students of the local high schools and academies have plans under way to give their annual inter-school hop among the first dances of the season. Invitations will be ready to distribute within a few days.

St. Ann's charitable society will meet next Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. John Manning, 652 East 14th at north, at 2:30 p. m.

Division No. 1, Ladies Auxiliary A. O. U. W. will give a card party and dance tomorrow evening in W. O. W. hall, 128 11th street. The committee is working earnestly to make this a pleasant evening for all.

The Decem Girls are preparing a Halloween surprise in connection with their dancing party to be held Monday evening, October 26, at Merriack hall.
