HIS LAWYERS, BLAMES

Tremendous Influence Brought to Bear on Legislature; Expect Speedy Verdict.

(Usited Fress Leased Wire.)
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Convinced that his defense was unskillfully conducted, Governor William Sulzer has practically broken with his lawyers in the impeachment case against him, it was understood today.

The governor was incensed, in particular, by what he considers the virtual admission from Attorney D. Cady Herrick, of the defense, that he is unfit for the governorship, coupled with the contention that unfitness is not ground for impeachment.

Sulzer considered, too, that his counsel made a fatal mistake in refusing to allow him to make a statement in his own behalf, from the witness stand. If convicted, it was said, he would blame his attorneys.

Pressure in Legislature.

Tremendous pressure was being brought on the members of the court today, both for and against the governor. All were deluged with telegrams and special delivery letters and by personal calls from individual constituents and by delegations of them.

So uncomfortable had this pressure become that it was believed every possible effort would be made to hasten a verdict even if a night session were necessary. Pressure in Legislature.

verdict even if a night session were necessary.

It appeared improbable indeed, that the verdict would be returned before to-morrow, but that he would be able to get a pretty definite idea concerning the number of his supporters was indicated, inasmuch as a vote was scheduled late today on the governor's contention that the court lacked power to try him for acts preceding his induction into office.

Conviction Is Predicted,

Sulzer's friends hoped to muster enough votes to prevent the two thirds majority necessary to remove him, but persons who have followed the trial closely predicted that he would have only 11-and he needed 40 to escape conviction.

held in Taylor street church.

Rev. C. E. Cline precipitated the discussion in a 10 minute talk in which he declared that weekly publications of the church reflect a growing unrest throughout Methodism because of the top-heaviness of the episcopacy.

"We have too many oisheps," declared Dr. Cline, "and we pay them too much money. There are two or three bishops with no conferences to hold, and a number with only one to preside over, yet we are paying all of our bishops annual salaries of $6000, while the great throbbing heart of Methodism—the thousands of circuit-riding and small station preachers—are receiving annual stipends which scarcely support them. Our people are confronted with a deficit of $250,000 in the bishops salary fund and increasing demands for more money are coming in from all of the boards of the church with the result that there is a restlessness abroad among the membership of the church.

Bishop Williams of Michigan predicted today the adoption of the "faith and order commission" authorized at the Cincinnati convention in 1910, which is expected to provide a working plan for a reunion of Christendom.

The report was secret, but it was un-derstood to show that no branch of the Christian church refused cooperation.

Committees were expected to report resolutions in a few days providing constitutional amendments requiring health certificates from prospective brides and bridegrooms, and amending the divorce canons.
