

POSSIBILITY OF WAR FORESEEN BY SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN IN TALK

Tells Cavalry Officers United States Surrounded by Unfriendly Powers.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Oct. 15.—At the cavalry officers' dinner, Army and Navy club, Washington, D. C., October 8, Senator George E. Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, spoke as follows:

"While I do not believe in a large standing army, I believe in maintaining such an army of infantry, cavalry and artillery as will enable us to retain the respect of the other powers of the earth and to insist upon our rights, wherever they are threatened to be invaded. It ought at all times to be maintained in the highest state of efficiency, both as to officers and men, and further than that, the National Guard of the several states, it has always seemed to me, ought to be placed in closer touch with the regular army, so as to be an efficient and forceful reserve in case of trouble."

SENATOR'S VIEW NECESSARY

"There never was a time in the history of our country when an efficient army organization was more necessary than now. Leaving out of the question for the moment conditions which prevail in Mexico, and which—though I hope not—may eventually lead to intervention on the part of the United States, it is an open secret that the Central and South American republics do not feel kindly toward the United States; not that they are so inimical as to create war, but the treatment of Colombia in reference to the Panama canal, in spite of all treaty obligations, the patronizing attitude that the United States has assumed under the now practically abandoned Monroe doctrine, and other considerations too numerous to mention, have made these republics feel rather unkindly than otherwise toward our government. Therefore it may be safely said that we have no very warm partisans to the south of us in case of difficulties with any other foreign power."

POWERS NOT FRIENDLY

"In the Orient Japan has felt aggrieved, first at the school question in California, five years ago, and now at the legislation with reference to alien land-holding in that state. On the other hand, Great Britain has been chagrined under the policy adopted by congress of passing coastwise vessels through the Panama canal without the payment of tolls, and in more than one way has shown her displeasure. The commercial interests in the orient and on the Atlantic side may be important enough to the powers interested to prevent an open breach between the powers, but it is plain to be seen that the United States today stands practically surrounded by powers that do not entertain the most friendly spirit."

Under these circumstances, what is the duty of the United States?

"She cannot regulate her internal affairs to suit the suggestions of any foreign power; she has a right and it is her duty to adopt such internal policies as she pleases, and she must be at all times in a position to maintain such policies as seem to be necessary for the best interests of the people of the whole country. In order to do this she must be prepared both on land and sea, for history proves that in no other way can any people maintain their rights."

MULTNOMAH CLUB TO PAY NEARLY $40,000

McInnis & Reed, contractors of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, will receive $36,000 from the club as the result of the ten suits of the September by Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell of Oregon City. In addition the court allowed $1250 attorney's fees, $175 filing fees, $250 stenographer fees, and six per cent interest on the main judgment from May 5, 1912. Interest on the fees began on the date of the decree.

On cross-complaints filed against McInnis & Reed by sub-contractors, Judge Campbell allowed $18,545 claims, $595 attorney's fees, and $15.20 filing costs. McInnis & Reed and the sub-contractors must pay the other $250 stenographer fees. The interest on the judgments against McInnis & Reed is the same as that against the club.

GRAIN AND FEED LOST IN CHEHALIS FIRE

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 15.—Twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of grain and feed was burned when the mill and warehouse of the Chehalis Produce company here were destroyed by fire.

Insurance on the plant amounts to $15,500. I. P. Collison of Aberdeen is the principal owner. Origin of the fire is unknown. Entire Chehalis warehouse district was threatened. During the fire County Engineer Ward's office was entered and a $300 transit was stolen. Attempt was also made to rob the White & Gabel store.

Centralia Road Work

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 15.—County Engineer John Ward is preparing plans and specifications for widening the county road from the south city limits of Centralia to the Southwest Washington fairgrounds preparatory to hard surfacing the highway next year. The road has been surveyed and the estimated cost is 15 cents a yard, but the contract cannot be let until the work is approved by the state highway commission.

DUMB FRIEND MOURNS "UNCLE JIMMY"

"Uncle Jimmy" Lehman.

Pendleton, Or., Oct. 15.—Wandering up and down the streets of Pendleton, "Coalie," an old hound, keeps up a constant search for his dead master, "Uncle Jimmy" Lehman, pioneer prospector and one of the best-bloved men in Umatilla county. The dog was following the wagon in which the old man died Saturday afternoon, and followed mournfully along when the body was brought to Pendleton. Many times a day he visits the place which his master frequented when on trips to this city. The old man and his dog were faithful companions.

"Uncle Jimmy" Lehman was past 82 years of age when he died, and since 1889 he has been a resident of Umatilla county. He came west with the goldseekers of 1849, and after prospecting in California for several years went to Caribou, B. C. In the '60s he came to Eastern Oregon, still in quest of the yellow metal. Many weary days he spent in search of his dead master, "Uncle Jimmy" Lehman, the Lost Cabin mine in Southern Oregon and other equally noted Eldorados. It was in 1882, while piloting some prospectors over the mountains from Grant county to Southwestern Oregon, that he stumbled on Crater lake, and he always claimed the distinction of being the first white man to set eyes upon that natural wonder.

In 1871 he and Dr. Teel discovered the hot springs in the southern part of Umatilla county which now bear his name. He owned and operated them until a few years ago, when he sold them, retaining only a cabin and the privilege of using the springs for life. Lehman's funeral was held here today. Interment was in the local cemetery.

LIVESTOCK WILL GET HALF RATES TO SHOW

Railroads Announce Big Reduction for Portland Event From Eastern Points.

Shipments of livestock from eastern points to the Pacific International Livestock exposition at North Portland, December 8 to December 13, are to be handled at half the usual freight rates. This concession has been made by 29 railroads represented in the transcontinental freight bureau and will be effective November 1.

Copies of a bulletin giving official notice of the reduced rate for this occasion have just been received by Portland railroad men. It is considered most unusual for such rates to be put into effect for transcontinental shipments, though for such local events as state fairs most roads make the concession.

AUTOMOBILE INJURES THREE NEAR HILLSBORO

Forest Grove, Or., Oct. 15.—Hit from behind by a speeding automobile, the buggy in which Herman Hergert, Howard Sage and Henry Hergert were riding from Hillsboro to Cornelius was demolished and the boys were more or less seriously injured.

Herman Hergert's collarbone was broken; his brother's back was badly wrenched and young Sage's Portland boy, sustained a broken arm. It is estimated that the automobile was going 40 miles an hour, and the boys say, was traveling without head or tail lights. John Volker reported later that he also had been run down by the same machine. The boys were taken to the Hergert home at Blooming, where Dr. Kaufman attended them.

CENTRALIA W. C. T. U. PLANS GOOD WORK

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 15.—At a meeting of the W. C. T. U. in Centralia it was voted to build a women's inn for the benefit of working women of the city as well as women temporarily out of funds and in need of employment. Mrs. A. E. Lyness, Mrs. R. A. Wilson and Mrs. Dora Harrison were appointed a committee to work out the details of the plan. It is probable that an additional floor will be added to the W. C. T. U. temple.

STRONG MAN TO DRAW THREE LOADED TRUCKS

"Texas" Also to Drive Nail With Fist and Twist Horse-shoes With Hands.

Watch for "Texas," the strong man, next Saturday, at noon, "Texas" will be seen on the streets of Portland in marvelous feats of strength. Among other unusual things he will tie a rope about his neck, and standing erect and "unharnessed" in a big automobile, he will pull three loaded trucks about the down town section of the city.

The strong man will, while performing his feat, play a tattoo on a long steel bar, balanced on his shoulder. He will use steel drumsticks. At various prominent street corners "Texas" will stop long enough to drive a big nail into a telephone pole with a stroke of his powerful arm. And if his performance does not seem spectacular enough to satisfy the crowds, he will twist a horseshoe into fantastic shapes with his bare hands.

"Texas" is not a freak. His legs are not crooked, neither does he wear tight. He is simply a marvel of physical development. He will let a committee of men try to bend a steel bar, and after they have failed, he will do the trick in less time than it takes to tell it. He has a chest expansion of over 11 inches, and can stretch his muscular neck nearly a foot.

"Texas" started out as the "Iron Jawed Youth." He has traveled in almost every part of the world. "Texas" says he can cure physical ailments, and declares that after a few minutes' treatment he can rout any ordinary pain.

CURFEW MAY NOT RING TONIGHT, BUT LATER ON

Newberg, Or., Oct. 15.—Designed to keep youngsters off the public streets after dark, an ordinance was introduced at the last meeting of the city council. The ordinance is intended to keep minors off the streets of the city after 8 o'clock at night between November 1 and April 1, and after 9 o'clock at other times of the year, unless they are accompanied by parents or recognized guardians, or have written permits.

HONESTY OF NEWSBOY PREVENTS HIS KEEPING MONEY GOT BY MISTAKE

A 12-year-old boy, Kenneth Hunter of Albina, saved a man $499 a few days ago by his honesty. The boy carries The Journal and the man bought one from him, slipping two pennies, as he thought, into the boy's hand. The pennies were dropped into the lad's pocket without thought. A few moments later he happened to look at his coins and found one to be a $5 gold piece.

At top speed he ran after the man, and after a four block chase caught up with him as he was about to enter a restaurant. The man found the boy was right, and from his pocket he drew another penny and gave it to the boy, pocketing the gold piece which had been returned.

In addition to carrying papers the boy attends one of the best schools.

HUGH M'LAIN LOBBYING FOR MARSHFIELD BILL

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Oct. 15.—Hugh M'Lain arrived here from Marshfield a few days ago to urge the passage of the House of the Chamberlain bill, already introduced in the senate. This bill gives authority to fill in the slough which is held to be detrimental to the growth of Marshfield. Practically everybody concerned is anxious to have it filled in. Mr. M'Lain says several very few property owners who really believe that it should be dredged out and made navigable for small craft. At present it is very low tide except for a few rivulets running through it. Chairman Adamson of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce is willing to report the bill as soon as the house is ready to take up any general legislation.

ROMAN MEAL GEMS

If you want something really delicious for breakfast, get a package of Roman Meal at your grocer's and try Roman Meal Gems. These can be made either with sour milk or baking soda, and have a tantalizing nutty flavor and richness that you can get with no other cereal. Roman Meal was invented by a physician who, in treating his patients for constipation, discovered a means of deodorizing flax. Roman Meal is a combination of wheat, rye and deodorized flax coarsely ground. Thus you have the first cereal food containing deodorized flax, which makes Roman Meal different from any other food. The flax, after deodorizing, has a rich nutty flavor which cannot be secured in any other cereal.

Roman Meal can be used in a variety of ways, including gems, muffins, brown bread, fruit rocks, cookies, or as a breakfast mush. It is an ideal food for children, containing all the proteins and carbohydrates which are so necessary to the growing child. A 5 lb. package of Roman Meal can be had at your grocer's for 25c. He also has Roman Meal Bread baked by the Log Cabin Baking Co., which he sells at 5c a loaf. Try it.

deal to the circuit court from the recent action of the board of equalization in denying the cancellation of a $60,000 assessment on money, notes and accounts against the company, was served on the members of the board of equalization this morning.

The company contends that accounts and notes receivable in Oregon are payable in California at the main office of the company and are held there, and that the office does not handle them after they are received.

The board of equalization denied numerous other like petitions involving several hundred thousand dollars of assessments. These would probably be affected by any decision of the appeal. The question has not been raised before this year. Wood, Montague & Hunt are attorneys for the company.
