Mrs. Sterling of Philadelphia

Mrs. Ernest A. Sterling of Philadelphia, who with her husband is the house guest of Mrs. Ralph C. Walker, was the motif for a charming afternoon at cards yesterday when Mrs. Walker entertained at her home in Irvington with four tables at bridge, followed by an informal tea. Card honors fell to Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. Samuel Lockwood with Mrs. George Parrish winning the consolation prize. The rooms were attractively arranged, autumn leaves and lavender chrysanturon leaves and lavender chrysan-smums being used in the drawing om and yellow chrysanthemums in sun parlor. In the dining room, Killarney buds with maiden hair irn were effectively arranged. Many affairs have been given for Mr and Mrs. Sterling and a number of af-fairs have had to be cancelled on ac-count of their unexpected departure this evening when they will leave for home via the south. Moores-Moreland.

A wedding of more than passing in-terest to scores of Portland people was solumnised last evening in Salem, when Miss Lucen Moreiand became the bride of Chester Moores in the presence of about 100 relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father, J. C. Moreland, clerk of the supreme court.

The bride was escorted to the improvised floral altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. The maid of honor was Miss Althea Moores, a cousin of the bridegroom, and the best man was Merrill Moores. The bride wore g lovely gown of ivory tinted charmeuse with garniture of lace and carried a shower bouquet. The house was handsomely decorated with cut flowers, trailing vines and potted ferns and paims. Following the ceremony congratulations and good wishes were offered and a supper was served. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Moores came to Portland en route to California, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside at 218 Hast Fifteenth street, north. Mr. Moores is associated with his brother, Merrill Moores, in the automobile business in this city.

Mr. Moores is a graduate of the University of Oregon and is a prominent fraternity man. The bride is accounted one of the most charming girls in Salem and the numbers among her friends many Portland people. The marriage is the culmination of a courtship extending over several years.

Indications Are That. Apathy Will Cut Normal Poll in

Despite the fact that the women of Oregon struggled 40 years to gain the privilege of suffrage, now that they have it, it is apparently scorned by many, according to reports from registration districts. These show that the smail registration of women to date threatens to cut in two what should be a normal poli. Although November 4 will be the first date on which Oregon women will have an opportunity to vote on state measures, only one out of every 10 has registered.

The last day of registration is next Monday, October 20, with the books closed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It has been expected that the women of the state would show an intense interest in the referendum measures which will come up November 4. Wives of laboring men, it was anticipated, would desire to vote on the workingmen's compensation act, and it was also thought
