RAIN FOR OPENING OF KLICKITAT COUNTY FAIR

Goldendale, Wash., Oct 15.—The opening of the fifth annual Elichitat county fair was marred by a heavy downpour of rain, followed by a driziling rain and threatening weather. Very few country people are in town. The rain ceased in the forenoon and a race program of running events was held, together with the special events advertised in the association program and premium list.

With no more rain the fair managers state that the track will be in shape for the harness races. The agricultural pavilion and stock barns are filled and more exhibits are coming.

FIFTEEN MORE SAVED FROM VOLTURNO THAN WAS BELIEVED BEFORE

vivors on Board, Reducing the Lost to 118.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Oct. 18.—Owing to a damaged shaft, the steamship Kroonland, with Captain Francis Inch of the Volturno, six of his officers and $3 other survivors from the burned liner, will not dock here until 7 o'clock this evening, it was stated at the company's offices

Wireless messages confirmed sarlier reports that the Dutch tank ship New York took part, with the 10 other craft which responded to the Volturno's wireless S. O. S. calls, in the work of saving the doomed vessel's crew and passengers, and helped the other tank liner, the Narragansett, in stilling the see while the work of rescue was in progress, by spraying the waves with oil. The New York, it was learned, took 15 women and three children from the Volturno and was on its way with them today to Rotterdam. This would reduce the total number of lost in the disaster to 11s.

the total number of lost in the dinaster to 11%.

Relief contributions here were coming in slowly. Jacob Schiff donated $55000 for immediate use.

Informed by wireless of Second Officer Lloyd's statement that the Carmania made no attempt to send a boat to the Volturno, Captain Inch sent a contradiction from the Kroonland today.

Captain Barr, he said, lowered a boat as soon as he reached the scene of the disaster, but the terrific sen made it impossible for the little craft to reach he the burning vessel. Captain Barr, in he had found any trace of poison. Mra. Eaton, Oagood said, stated she knew nothing but declared she did know there was something wrong with the admiral's brain.

Twelve of the Volturno's survivors, landed by the Rappahannock at Halifax, were on their way here today on another ship.

Band Meets Oil Tanker.

London, Oct. 16.—The tank liner Narragansett, which sprayed oil on the waves about the burning steamship Volturno last Thursday night and Friday morning, quieting the sea to such an extent that lifeboats succeeded in reaching the distressed craft and taking off its crew and passengers, arrived at Tilbury dock today with its share of the survivors. A tug, with a brass band, met the big tanker at the mouth of the Thames and escorted it to its berth, the band playing "Hall the Conquering Hero."

46 Survivors at Philadelphia. Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—The German tramp steamship Seydlits with 48 survivors from the liner Volturno, docked here this afternoon. The immigration authorities took immediate charge of the Volturno's passengers.

INOUIRED MRS. EATON

Her Daughter June That Question.

(United Press Leased Wirs.)
Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 16.—The trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, opened here today, Assistant District Attorney Ratzman in his opening statement promised to prove that Mrs. Eaton administered poison to her husband.

man in his opening statement promised to prove that Mrs. Eaton administered poison to her husband.

Prosecutor Kataman asserted that Mrs. Eaton's jealousy and the influence of her daughter, Mrs. June Keyes, were the calses of the murder. He charged that she had accused Admiral Eaton of poisoning their adopted haby boy and later charged him with trying to poison Mrs. Keyes and herself.

Kataman declared that Mrs. Keyes clashed continually with the admiral. He promised to prove that when Mrs. Keyes returned to Plymouth after separating from her husband, Mrs. Eaton said: "June do you mind if I put your husband or the admiral out of the way?"

Kataman described Admiral Eaton's last days, asserting that from the time he went to bed until his death, Mrs. Eaton would not permit anyone else to attend him. He said Professor Whitney found 15 grains of arsunic in his stomach.

HUNDREDS OF WILSONS WILL ATTEND WEDDING

Washington, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president returned to Washington today from New Hampshire, where she spent the summer with other members of the family, and started preparations for the wedding November 35 of Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis B. Sayre.

Indications today were that the list of guests would be curtailed, as several hundred relatives of the Wilsons intend to attend the ceremony. Fewer lavish gifts from foreign potentates, and Washington society have been received than at any other White House wedding because of President Wilson's desire for simplicity. Diplematic members are planning to send lomatic members are plan flowers and simple gifts.

An histhe time of the 1914 festival. An his-torical pageant representing Oregon's history from the earliest beginnings to the present time will be the principal

While not absolutely fixed, it is probable that Wednesday. Thursday and Friday will be the days of the week devoted to the festival. Coming in the middle of the week, it is urged that Monday and Tuesday can be devoted to preparation and that Saturday can be a general day of departure.

No little objection was made by the hotel managers of the elty to the second week of June, inasmuch as the meeting of the Masonio grand lodge of Oregon is scheduled for the same week. The Rose Festival officials feel that this is an advantage rather than a hardship, however, and were not influenced by the arguments of the local hotelmen.

Open House Planned.

It is proposed to have all the fraternal orders hold open house the week of the festival, that the occasion may attract as many members of the various orders as possible.

The historical pageant planned will be in the form of an electrical parade of decorated floats, each float to deplet some event in Oregon history. The floats will be chronologically arranged in the parade, beginning in the early ploneer days and coming down to the present. One feature will be a section of the parade wholly devoted to showing the effect of the Panama canal on Oragon.

Oregon.

An industrial parade is also propose with floats representing the industries and mechanical arts of the state. Each and mechanical arts of the state. Each county of Oregon will be asked to participate, and the Festival association will construct the floats at its own papier mache factory at a nomical cost to the counties. It is proposed that each county have some display typical of its resources and industries.

A fine toothed comb campaign of the city is now being planned to solicit subscriptions to the festival cause. Solicitors working in prescribed sones will call on every business house or firm in the city for the purpose of placing the Rose Festival before Portland mer-
