Ernest H. Meyer, Charles R. McCormick & Co's representative in this city, with offices in the Yeon building, stated this morning that last night he received a telegram from the San Francisco offices of the company informing him of the predicament of the Merced, and this morning another telegram came stating that the company's steamer Yosemite, in command of Captain C. E. Johnson, had been sent to render any assistance that might be possible in saving the vessel. Mr. Meyer stated that the Merced was coming north in ballast from San Francisco and was to load lumber here and at points on the Columbia river for California, as she has been doing since placed in opera-
