SULZER OUSTED, GLYNN BECOMES N. Y. EXECUTIVE

Impeachment Court Votes to Remove Sulzer From Office but Republicans Prevent His Being Barred From Holding Office of Trust Again.

PROOFS OF GUILT WERE CLEAR AND DECISIVE

Sulzer Promises to Renew His Fight Against Tammany as Soon as He Recovers From Strain of Trial; Proposes to Run for Governor Again.

How Sulzer Impeachment Court

Article 1.—That Sulzer filed with the secretary of state a false statement of his campaign contributions. Guilty.

Article 2.—That in statement to the secretary of state Sulzer committed perjury. Guilty.

Article 3.—That Sulzer bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the legislative committee which investigated his campaign receipts and expenditures. Not guilty.

Article 4.—That Sulzer suppressed evidence before the investigating committee by threatening witnesses. Guilty.

Article 5.—That Sulzer persuaded Broker F. L. Colwell from responding to a subpoena from the investigating committee. Not guilty.

Article 6.—That Sulzer committed bribery in speculating with contributions to his campaign fund. Not guilty.

Article 7.—That Sulzer threatened to use his office and influence to control public officials. Not guilty.

Article 8.—That Sulzer used his official authority and influence corruptly to affect the prices of stocks on the New York exchange because of his personal interests in them. Not guilty.

Removed from the governor's office and disqualified from holding office in future.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was removed from the governorship of New York state today. Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn succeeded him.

Secretary of State May swore Glynn into office a few minutes before 1 p. m. He evidently considered the time inopportune for an inaugural address, and assumed his new post practically without comment.

Governor Glynn issued a very short formal statement late this afternoon, in which he said that he felt only sadness at succeeding Sulzer, and pledged himself to an honest, progressive administration.

Sulzer, too, was tactful. He told one of his lawyers, Samuel Thomas, that he had only just begun to fight. Later, he added to a few personal friends, that under the circumstances, he welcomed the verdict of removal, since the filing of articles of impeachment against him had ruined his usefulness as governor.

Will Run Again. But he issued no formal statement. He might do so later, it was said. He gave the impression mainly, however, that he will be a candidate for governor at the next election—as the Democratic candidate if the party will have him; independently if it will not.

Sulzer has suffered severely under the strain of the impeachment trial. His nerves were much shattered today, and he had completed plans to go to the Adirondack mountains Sunday night, for a short rest. He will be in New York, however, by the first of the following week.

Sulzer Was a Martyr. No one who heard the evidence against him could regard the deposed executive as a martyr. The proofs of his guilt were clear and decisive. His lawyers did not attempt seriously to overthrow them. Sulzer, however, refused to accept the verdict as meaning anything except the enmity of Tammany. His plans contemplate a desperate fight to destroy the "tiger's" power in New York city and state. He insisted that he would not have been impeached if he had bowed to "Boss" Murphy. The first break, he said, came when he refused to appoint Murphy's business associate, James C. Caffery, to office.

Cullen Opposed Removal. In the ballot on the question of removal, Chief Justice Cullen of the court of appeals and Senator Wende were excused from voting. Except Cullen, all the appeals justices favored removal.

RABIES-CRAZED CANINE FRIGHTENS PEOPLE IN PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT

Authorities Keep Close Watch for Other Dogs That May Have Been Bitten.

Rabies-crazed, the eight hour depositions of a mad dog on poultry, livestock and other dogs at Portsmouth Tuesday have thrown the Peninsula into a state of excitement, fearful that other dogs may have been bitten and later develop rabies.

Police and health officers of the district are on the alert to prevent, if possible, a recurrence of such canine ravages. This, in addition to a statement made by Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the state board of health, that there is an epidemic of rabies in Dutchess county has caused great consternation in St. Johns and other portions of the Peninsula.

SMOKE OF POISON OAK BLINDS FIRE FIGHTERS

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 17.—Five serious forest fires continued today in the territory between Carmichael's mill and Zayante, eight miles back of Los Gatos, in the Santa Cruz mountains. It was predicted by the fire fighters that it will take a week, even in the most favorable circumstances, to stamp out the fires.

The Haines home, on the Bear Creek road, has been destroyed, according to reports received here, but the Moody home was saved. The Murphy and Powell ranches also have been destroyed. Burning poison oak is hampering the fire fighters. The poison fumes in the smoke nearly blinded six fire fighters who were forced to go to Saratoga for treatment. Scores of others are suffering from swollen faces.

BLAKES MAY MAKE UP AND DROP MACKAY SUIT

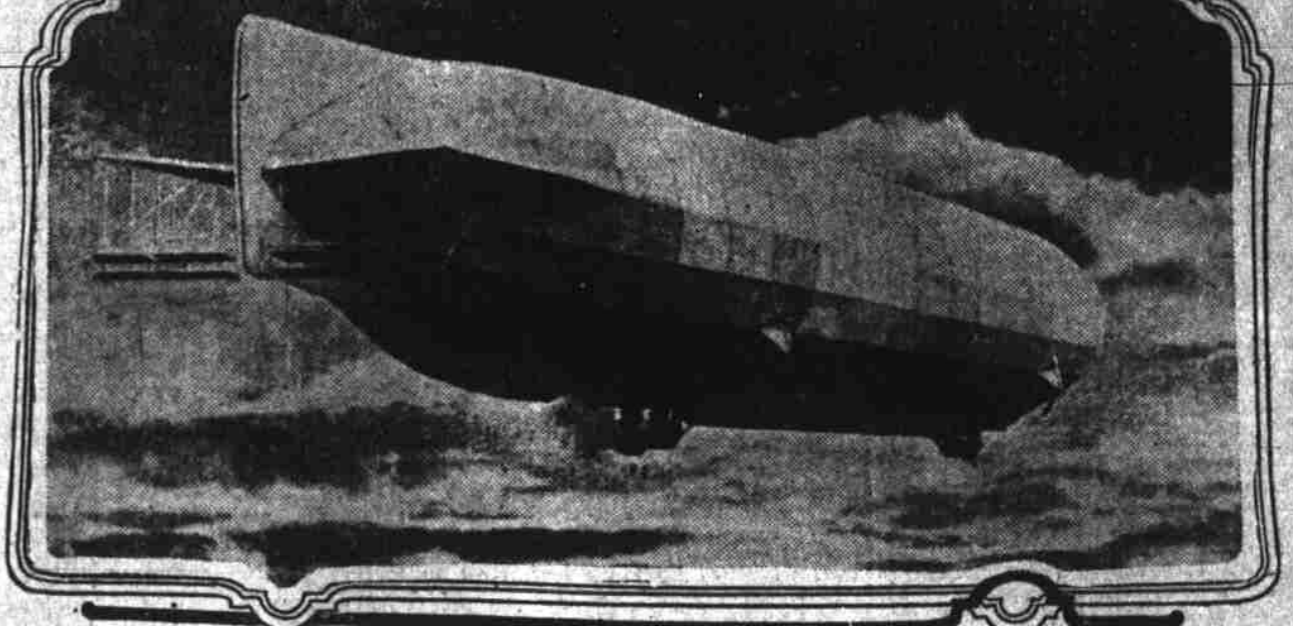

New York, Oct. 17.—Postponement today of Mrs. Joseph A. Blake's suit for alimony pending separation from her husband, Dr. Blake, the famous surgeon, gave rise to reports that a reconciliation between the Blakes was likely, and that the wife would drop her $1,000,000 suit against Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, in which the latter is charged with alienating the doctor's affections.

NORTHWEST LUMBER FOR GERMAN AIR-FIGHTERS

Aberdeen, Wash., Oct. 17.—Clear and closely inspected spruce of this section may be used by the German government in the building of army aeroplanes. Two government inspectors of Germany who were here 10 days ago purchased a carload of spruce plank 8 by 3 and it was shipped to New York. The price paid for it was the highest ever paid for any lumber on Gray's harbor. The lumber had to be absolutely perfect before acceptance.
