

CHURCH DISSENTERS WILL HOLD SERVICES IN OLD STRUCTURE

Disgruntled Members to Disregard Plan of Worshipping in Grace Church Edifice.

The dissenting members of the First Methodist Episcopal church, who are opposed to changing the scenes of the religious activities from the Third and Taylor street church to the Grace church...

"We expect to go to the usual place at the usual time," said B. Lee Paget, leader of the dissenters or "radicals" as they have termed themselves.

The above declaration by Mr. Paget followed a meeting held in his office yesterday noon, just after an unsuccessful attempt had been made by the dissenters to have an injunction issued by Judge Cleaton against the First M. E. church, Grace church, the members of the conference and Rev. Benjamin Young...

A complete dissolution of the union between Grace church and Taylor street church under the name of the First M. E. church, that was effected in July, 1912, is the only solution of the rupture which has divided the church against itself.

"There is a program being put through that is entirely at variance with the wishes and sentiments of a large part of the membership, as was evidenced by the fact that officers of the church as an official board, refused by a vote of 23 to 7 to submit to the membership the matter of the removal of the church activities to Grace church."

In the event of the defeat of the purpose of the radicals, there are two situations that may develop: the withdrawal from the mother church of all the dissenters and their scattering either to other faiths or their union with other Methodist churches of the city, or the withdrawal of the dissenters and the organization of the body which will request a new charter and will organize a new church.

The latter plan is already being seriously considered by the dissenters, and it is believed that it would avoid further difficulties and would end them all in that manner.

Mr. Paget in discussing the possibilities of a new church said: "The situation is tremendously grave and undoubtedly means the actual loss of a Methodist Episcopal church to Portland and the withdrawal of members to local Methodism unless the present official program is changed."

"It is our contention that we now have two adequate church auditoriums sufficient for the present needs, and that is why we have opposed the building of the new church, which seems to be the seed of the trouble."

The building question is not the only one that is causing trouble, however, for the church people have not forgotten that Rev. Benjamin Young recently refused to grant the petition of a great number of church members...

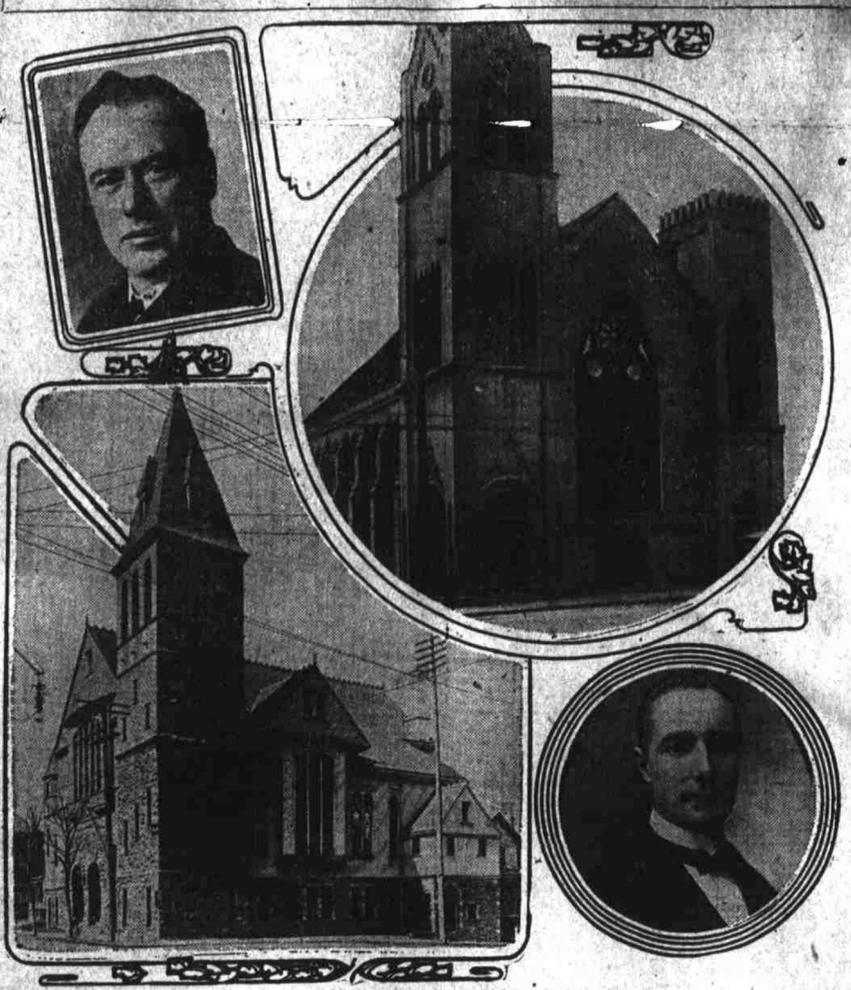

An official board, once created is self-perpetuating and the congregation can appeal, plead, threaten, cajole and legislate until kingdom come and the board does not have to pay the slightest bit of attention.

Dr. J. V. McDougall, superintendent of the Portland district, who is practically in charge here, in the absence of Bishop R. J. Cooke, said yesterday, "I recognize but one church—the First M. E. church—and any taking of heart in any fight that might be under way have not been appealed to and have taken no side."

Rev. Benjamin Young, pastor of the First church, refused to make any comments on the new turn of affairs. "I shall fill the pulpit today at Grace church both morning and evening, in compliance with the action of the quarterly conference in changing the headquarters of the church from the old site on Third and Taylor to the new Grace church site," was all he would say.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 18.—The body of an unidentified man with deep gash in the head and face badly bruised was taken from the bay here today. The police suspect murder with robbery as its motive.

SOCIETY WOMAN WILL UNDERTAKE CIVILIZING BLOODTHIRSTY MOROS

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer of New York and Newport to Finance and Direct Plan.

(By the International News Service.) New York, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The civilization of the savage Moros in the Philippines is the goal aimed at by Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, society leader of this city and Newport, and Miss Virginia C. Young, a seagoing nurse in the Protestant Episcopal church.

A few days before they reached Jolo a battle had been fought between American troops under General Pershing and the natives in which a number of Americans were killed and hundreds of Moros were slain.

The project of the two women divided interest with other developments today at the general convention of the Episcopal church. Of the latter, one of the most important was the defeat of the proposed canon to establish a court of appeals for final determination of heresy charges.

NEGROES TO OBSERVE EMANCIPATION JUBILEE

HEAVY REGISTRATION INDICATES CHANGING RECORD VOTE NOV. 4

Large Percentage Are Women—Furniture Plant Seeks Site at Milwaukie.

Milwaukie, Or., Oct. 18.—A record vote of 600, double that of any previous election, is expected for the election of November 4. At one of the two registry offices, which only opened Monday, 140 voters, a majority of them women, had registered up to Saturday afternoon.

At the adjourned council meeting which will be called by Mayor Elmer this week of opening the city hall on Taylor street will again be taken up. If the owners of the property needed for the street opening, the Bonnet heirs, do not accept the valuation placed upon the property by the assessors, condemnation proceedings, the first steps in which have already been taken, will be undertaken in the circuit court.

Plans to double the capacity of the local shipping line of the Oregon City Lumber and Shingle Co., are already under way, following the leasing by the company this week of two acres of waterfront property from A. A. Webster. The mill will be made modern and up to date in every particular.

Plans are now being prepared for doubling the capacity of the Hawley Pulp and Paper Co.'s local pulp mill, which will be carried out when the needed waterfront property is secured from Isaac Gratton.

A group of leading business men will meet Monday evening to decide upon the inducements to be offered a furniture plant, which is seeking a factory site. The company desires a bonus, while the Milwaukie men are only willing to grant money to the company in return for stock.

Preliminary work for the hard surfacing of Front street, for a distance of a mile from Island station, near the Foster road in Milwaukie, to the Scott tract at the north line of the city, has been proceeding rapidly during the past week.

Notice was recently posted in the postoffice by the recorder of the assessments of property abutting on the Foster road in Milwaukie for the improvement of that road from the east line of Main street to the southern boundary of the city.

Edward Peterson and family, of Woodburn, Or., moved to Milwaukie Saturday and are temporarily domiciled in the Auxier residence on Monroe street. Within about a month they will occupy the present home of Ed Patch on Harrison street, near First.

Herbert Williams has been confined to his Oak Grove home for four days. His illness was at first thought to be appendicitis.

Mrs. M. D. Reid and family, who reside near the county road in E. Milwaukie, moved to Portland Saturday to a handsome new residence which will be built in Milwaukie by A. P. Wilson, a Portland man, on an acre in the Henneman tract, on Henneman street, near Washington, which he purchased Thursday for $2500.

In addition to the above the following realty transactions of the week are reported: Edward Peterson bought from Ed Patch for $2500 seven-tenths of an acre, improved with a five-room house on Harrison street, near First.

Herbert Williams bought from C. C. Crawford Saturday lots 18, 19 and 20, in block 9, in Oak Grove Park; five acres in tract 4, block 1, in Maywood were purchased by Jennings Dodge from Dr. Hugh Logan of The Dalles.

Smith on his death bed, has identified Berg as the man who attempted to rob him at Home Valley, six miles from here, and who shot him in the head after beating him up and trying to drown him in the slough. The bloodhound test was made to further strengthen the case against Berg, who protests his innocence.

Smith had some $500 in a money bag around his leg, and would not reveal its hiding place when Berg held him up in the woods. Berg then shot him in the back of the head, and physicians say he will die.

DEMURRE MAY BE FILED IN VIEW OF THE WELFARE COMMISSION

Action May be Based on the Ground That Unreasonableness of Order Is Not Shown

A demurrer to the suit of Frank C. Stettler to enjoin the Industrial Welfare commission from putting into effect its regulations of wages and working hours for women will probably be interposed tomorrow by District Attorney Evans.

This mode of procedure was decided upon yesterday at a conference attended by Attorney General Crawford, District Attorney Evans, Attorney Dan J. Maloney, special counsel for the welfare commission, Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, Amadee M. Smith and Miss Caroline Gleason, of the commission, and Deputy District Attorney Arthur A. Murphy.

The demurrer will be based on the contention that the complaint in the suit does not show that the order is an unreasonable exercise of police powers, that it does not show that the order is not necessary to protect the health and general welfare of the women of the state, that the business of the plaintiff would be confiscated or in any manner injured by the enforcement of the order, that the legislature has delegated legislative power in passing the act, that the plaintiff is being deprived of property or liberty without due process of law or is denied the equal protection of the law.

The suit is before Circuit Judge Cleaton, who has stated that in view of the fact that the action affects public policy and is of the utmost importance to the state he will put aside all other business to hear it at once, that it may go to the supreme court without delay. Should the demurrer be filed tomorrow it is probable that the supreme court will have it brought up for consideration in the near future as it will probably be appealed whichever way it is decided in the circuit court.

WILL READ PAPER ON EDUCATION OF DEAF

An interesting feature of the coming annual session of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' association, which opens Wednesday, will be a paper on "The Modern Education of the Deaf," to be read by Mrs. C. A. Ward, president of the Oregon Association for the Education of the Deaf.

The association of which Mrs. Ward is head is composed of the parents of deaf children who are students at the school for the deaf connected with Buckman school. At present there are 25 children attending the classes. Two of these children will take their places in February in the city high schools with children in possession of the full faculties.

Favor Appropriation. That the University of Oregon should have the $175,000 appropriated by the legislature at the last session at the earliest possible moment, was the unanimous opinion of those present at a meeting of the Men's club of the University Park Congregational church, held Wednesday in the church. A vote was taken on the question and resulted in unanimous recommendation of the appropriation.

Would Still Rooster's Voice. A little rooster, one with a shrill voice and plenty of lung power, is complained against by W. E. Newsom of 126 Twentieth street. The complaint was made to the police yesterday afternoon and Newsom says the rooster crows too loudly and early in the morning. The rooster belongs to a neighbor of Newsom.

JEWELRY STORE'S NEW HOME IS AMONG THE FINEST IN THE CITY

A. & C. Feldenheimer Opened for the Inspection of the Public.

There was opened yesterday afternoon, to public inspection only, declared to be one of the most elegantly appointed jewelry establishments on the Pacific Coast, the new home of A. & C. Feldenheimer, which is located in the Platt block at Park and Washington streets.

The showroom is a really attractive and is a tribute to the art and industry of every piece of jewelry that is shown, including diamonds and other appliances, with many in this city. The J. C. English company manufactured and installed the lighting fixtures, which are of the most beautiful and practical design.

The present home of the company is the fifth one it has occupied since its establishment in 1868, when a small store was set up at Front, near Alder street. In 1876 the company moved to First and Morrison, and in 1895, to Third and Washington streets, where the Land & Titton bank is now located.

Each time the store has been enlarged and beautified, until the present quarters were fitted up and which are the realization of the dreams the two brothers have had for years.

Magnificently appointed in every detail, and with a color and decorative scheme appropriate to the shining rows of plate glass cases laden with sparkling jewelry and silver plate, the interior is a bewildering kaleidoscope of fascinating effects, accentuated by the massive banks of floral pieces presented by the hosts of friends of the firm.

TWO MEN ARE HELD FOR FEDERAL OFFICERS

For breaking into and taking five trunks held in bankruptcy at 332 Second street, J. P. Walker and George Spencer were arrested last evening and are held for the federal officers. The trunks were the property of the Western Trunk & Leather company, which has been in the hands of the receiver the last four weeks.

Walker was arrested Thursday evening by Patrolman Dalrymple as he was taking a trunk to a second-hand store on Third street. Walker explained the purchase of the trunk from a Greek and was allowed to go, as the explanation appeared reasonable. H. W. Sitton, trustee of the bankrupt stock. A report was made to the police, which resulted in the arrest of Walker and Spencer.

OUR splendid orchestra under the direction of Herr Waldemar Lind, furnishes daily a most delightful musical entertainment for our guests and their friends.

In the grill during afternoon tea hours; in the dining room during the dinner hours, and in the grill during the evening and after the theatre.

Ladies unattended by escorts find at The Portland a service courteous, with an entire absence of any form of entertainment save the most refined and an environment of culture and good breeding.

A table d'hote dinner of rare deliciousness is served every evening at a moderate tariff—$1 weekly days, $1.25 Sundays.

We are gratified that so many of the leading women of Portland and the city schools have responded to our invitation to be shown through The Portland's kitchens. Mr. Kaufmann or Mr. Clarke will be glad at any time to show individuals or parties through all departments relating to the cuisine.
