

MULTNOMAH-W. S. C. GAME WILL START AT 2 P. M. SATURDAY

Two Teams Evenly Matched in Weight, but Club's Players Are More Experienced.

JOHNNY BENDER WOULD LIKE TO TROUCE "M"

Locals Will Practice All Week for Second Big Battle of Season Here.

The Multnomah club football team will meet Johnny Bender's Washington State college huskies next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Multnomah field.

Coach Bender is anxious to beat the Winged-M players in order to get a little revenge for the beating handed the Seattle All-Stars last season.

The two teams are about evenly matched as far as weight is concerned, but the club players have had more experience than Bender's proteges, who lost a hard 3 to 0 battle to the University of Idaho team Friday afternoon by a field goal.

Multnomah is expecting a hard tussle and will likely practice every evening during the week, except Friday. A large number of the players were on the field yesterday afternoon getting their wind into shape.

Speed is one thing the club players are trying to develop. In the first game of the season the club players were very slow, but improved a little in the second contest.

Many new formations will be tried in the practice during the week and if they work out in good style they will be used against the Pullman team.

Multnomah has an excellent bunch of substitutes and in case of any injuries the team will not be weakened. The addition of McRae and Francis, two former Willamette players, to the squad has put a little new life into the club's play.

The line-up of the club team will not be decided before Thursday night. Manager Stott expects to give every player of the squad an equal chance of getting in the first line-up.

George Carlson will likely start the game at center, because he is better acquainted with the signals than "Chub" Cherry, Rupert and Philbrook may start the game in the guard positions, although Bill Bailey may crowd one of the players out of the first line-up job.

O'Rourke and Conville are fixtures in the tackle positions. Ludian will start the game at an end and either Cobb or Flier will open on the other end.

Rhodes will play quarterback and Keck will start the game at fullback. The half back positions are in doubt.

Magee, McRae, Francis, Muckelstone, Knapp, Patterson and Striebig are the men who are working out in the halfback positions.

Washington State college is relying on its heavy center line to make holes but it may be given a surprise in attempting to crowd through the club line, which is equally as big.

Troy, one of Bender's mainstays on the left end, fractured his shoulder blade in the Idaho game and will likely be out of Saturday's contest.

The Washington State college center and flankers are shown above. From left to right the players are "Palouse" Langdon, right guard; "Shorfy" Harter, center, and Joe Harter, left guard. The Winged "M" players below, from left to right are Edward Bailey, right guard; George Carlson, center, and "Red" Rupert, left guard.

OLD RIVALS TO CLASH ON SCHOLASTIC FIELD WEDNESDAY AT 2:30

Biggest Tussle of Season Is Expected at Washington-Lincoln Football Contest.

PREVIOUS TO 1912 ALL GAMES WERE CLOSE ONES

Coaches Earl and Borleske Are Putting on the Finishing Touches.

Former Washington Lincoln Scores.

The annual gridiron struggle between the Lincoln and Washington high school football eleven will be staged Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on Multnomah field.

Both teams have stronger line-ups than in 1911, and the coaches have been working hard in getting the players in the proper shape for a grueling contest.

Lincoln is hopeful of getting revenge for the 21 to 6 defeat handed out by Washington last season.

The Lincoln-Washington game has been the feature contest of the scholastic games since the 1907 season.

Plowden Stott coached Washington, then called the East Portland high school, in 1907, and his team lost to Lincoln, 11 to 6.

The next side team was defeated again in 1908 by the score of 6 to 0. Washington won in 1909 and took both games of the 1910 season.

In 1911, Lincoln defeated Washington, 6 to 5, by kicking a goal after a touchdown.

Last year the east side players walked all over Borleske's eleven.

Coach Earl is drilling his players hard on some new formations, which he did not use in the game against the Hill Cadets.

Coach Borleske's players have been strengthened by the return of Fullback Condit.

The Lincoln players, who were extremely over-confident before the Jefferson game are now working their hardest as they realize they will have a fight to the finish when they meet Coach Earl's players.

A number of former interscholastic basketball league players are playing with the teams in the basketball league.

YOUNG BASKETBALL PLAYERS WILL MAKE UP M. A. A. C. TEAM

Morris, Fischer, Allen and Dent Plan to Retire From Strenuous Game.

Basketball prospects at the Multnomah club for the 1913-1914 season are much brighter than they have been for the past several years.

Among some of the new players are "Spud" Darling, Burdick, Rossmann, Worsham, Edwards, Evers and Toway.

There are plenty of players for the forward and center positions on the team this season.

There is a scarcity of guards this season, Captain Fugh and Virlock being the only ones who will try for the guard positions.

Four veterans of last season's team, Ed Morris, Harry Fischer, Bert Allen and Vivian Dent, will retire this season.

Only three members of last season's team will try for places this year.

Manager Harry Fischer is trying to arrange games with all the conference college teams during the season.

It is likely that a second team, averaging between 140 and 150 pounds, will be lined up to play matches against the high school and independent fives.

'BE GENTLEMEN FIRST, GRIDIRONERS AFTER, IS CAMPBELL'S PLEA

President of University of Oregon's Football What Ideals Are.

H. BEZDEK HAS EAGER FANS IN AIR OVER

Piercing Voice Issues Walls Carrying, Pungent Expressions to Me

University of Oregon, 18.—Just seven days away from one of the big games of the year the Oregon team is really unknown.

Even the varsity rooters don't know what Bezdek has behind the walls of Kincaid field.

Of course, everyone has the team picked but the fact remains that there are two fullbacks, two centers, and two quarterbacks, sitting at the training table.

Bezdek has been alternating with Bryant in the fullback position. Although Freshman Bigbee has not been handling the first team it is a significant fact that Bezdek has him on the training table.

President F. L. Campbell of the university was a guest at the training table this week and spoke on "Football, Its Place in the University."

He told the men that to play good clean ball and to remember that they were always gentlemen first and football players after that.

The importance of psychology in football was impressed on the men and the president brought several incidents forward to prove his statement that games are won because men "read the mind" of the opposing players.

The "reperfoire" of the football team so far, according to Mentor Bezdek, is just two plays.

He says this is enough. Most of the students agree with him, that it is enough for the Bremerton sailors but believe the "reperfoire" will have to be considerably increased before Idaho is tackled next Saturday.

Whether Bezdek has a team that does not understand the fine points of the game, whether he is just pessimistic or whether his standard is too far over the football men, the "fortunate" students and townspeople that get to see the team once a week on Friday evening, when no scrimmage is indulged in, can not decide.

One thing is certain, when the men have a scarcity of football brains or Bezdek has missed his calling, he should have been a slave driver.

His piercing voice comes out of the bleachers, urging the men on. "Let's go," "Hurry, hurry," "That's too slow" are constantly heard.

Bezdek never uses profanity but he is a past master in sarcasm.

ACADEMY TEAM WINNER OVER CADETS ELEVEN

Score Is 13 to 0 But Hurlbert's Charges Play Loose Football.

Playing more loosely than it did against the Columbia Union eleven in the Portland Academy team defeated the Hill Military Cadets Friday afternoon, 13 to 0.

The Academy team did not seem to have the fight and life that it displayed when it defeated the Columbia team in a 13 to 0 victory in the backfield players would work the ball within striking distance of the goal, when the linemen would fail to hold or make holes.

The cadet team with several new players in the lineup put up a different style of attack against the P. A. team and at times showed better team work than the winners.

Sam Graham's defensive work was a big feature of the contest. Forbes also did good work in breaking up the P. A. plays.

SOCCER OUTLOOK FOR SEASON IS NOT BRIGHT

P. Chappell Brown Not Able to Spend as Much Time as in Past.

The outlook for the reorganization of the Portland Soccer league for the coming season is anything but bright.

P. Chappell Brown, who has earned the title of "the father of soccer" in Portland, has called two meetings for the purpose of getting the teams together again but no team representatives have responded to the invitations.

Brown, on account of his tour to New Zealand in the near future, has been unable to devote as much time to the game this season as he would like.

The game will be continued in the high and grammar schools and it is likely that the Oregon Soccer league will be organized again.

Teams from Lents, S. P. & S., and O-W, R. & N. are expected to be in this league again this season.

Another team may also be formed in order to have two games played each Sunday.

AMATEUR MITT, MAT GAME TO OPEN FRIDAY

Vancouver Meets Spokane in First Dual Meet of the Season.

The Pacific Northwest Association inter-club boxing season will be opened next Friday night, when representatives of the Vancouver, B. C. and Spokane, Wash. clubs clash at Spokane.

The boxing and wrestling champions of both clubs have agreed to the weights and opponents have been selected.

The program will be: Fritz Ellington, S. A. C. versus Paul Peterson, V. A. C. at 125 pounds; Harry Hood, S. A. C. versus Sidney Wood, V. A. C. at 130 pounds; Stanley Jones, S. A. C. versus George Olson, V. A. C. at 145 pounds; Roy Orton, S. A. C. versus Harry Atherton, V. A. C. at 145 pounds; Leslie Francis, S. A. C. versus Sam Schneider, V. A. C. at 115 pounds.

LOUIS MILLS MAKING GOOD AT LEFT GUARD ON HARVARD ELEVEN

Portland Boy Bids Fair to Emulate Hamilton Corbett on Eastern Football Field.

Louis Mills, son of A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank, is making good as a member of the Harvard university football squad.

Young Mills is being played at left guard by Coach Houghton.

He was given his first chance to show his worth, when Russell Cowen, who was picked to play that position at the start of the season, was injured in the Maine game.

Since that time Mills has been holding down that position in scrimmage practice and looks like a fixture.

An eastern paper recently said the following about the Portland boy: "During Cowen's layoff on account of injuries, Louis Mills has forged ahead fast as a varsity guard, and it is a question whether Cowen can win back the place. It will be a merry fight between the two."

Mills did well in his first game and in making good use of all that the coaches tell him.

Mills' position in the line is next to captain Storor and it is almost a cinch that he will be the regular guard for the season.

MISSOURI FULLBACK TO JOIN MULTNOMAH

James E. Pixlee, Weighing 190 Pounds, Should Bolster Up Team.

James E. Pixlee, former fullback of the University of Missouri college, will join the Multnomah club gridiron squad within the next ten days.

He has secured a position here, through a cousin, and will start for the coast immediately.

Pixlee's college career started at the Missouri university during the season of 1909. He stepped into the shoes of Captain Hackney, who was forced out of the game on account of injuries, and held that position for four seasons, being graduated last year.

He has been one of the most consistent grounders gainers of the Missouri eleven and will be a valuable addition to the winged "M" squad.

Pixlee tips the scales at 190 pounds and is about 5 feet 9 inches tall.

FOUR BEAVER GUNNERS RIDE IN "600" SOCIETY

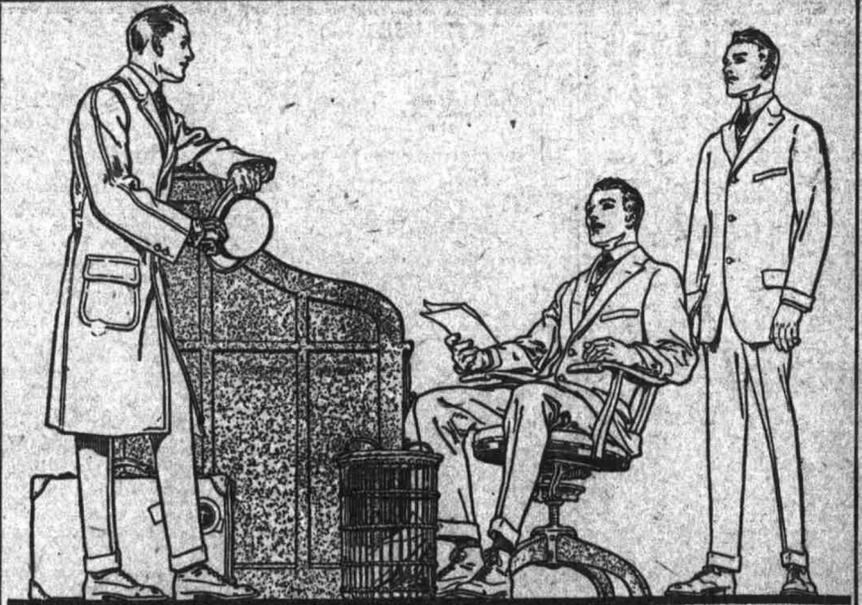

West, Krause, Hagerman and James Shining Lights of Champions.

Four Portland twirlers, El West, Harry Krause, Rip Hagerman and Bill James, are in the 600 per cent class in the pitching records of the 1913 season.

Hagerman jumped into the 600 class by defeating the Angels yesterday afternoon. El West leads the Beaver heavies with the percentage of .621.

Harry Krause, who has a record of eight straight victories, is giving West a close run for the honors.

The complete records of the games won and lost by the Portland twirlers are: PITCHERS—Won Lost P. C.
