

EVENTS IN SOCIETY

By Nona Lawler.
ENGAGEMENTS and weddings have been the order of the week in society. The season has opened with countless interesting events. Fall weddings are bidding fair to outnumber the conventional "June" weddings, which have held popular favor for so many years. Affairs of especial interest have been the wedding of Miss Mary Nichols, Mrs. Tyler Woodward, Mrs. Charles E. Fields and Mrs. Ralph C. Walker; the wedding of Miss Louise Gleason to Walter Greetner, Miss Mary Monica to Frank H. Baar, Miss Lueen Woodland to Chester H. Moore, and the engagement announcements of Miss Louise to James Welsh and Dr. Gustave Baar to Miss Gretchen Schmettering of Silesia, Silesia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Platter Henry of San Diego are the guests of Mr. Henry's sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Jacobs, for a week or ten days. Mr. and Mrs. Henry, whose wedding was an event of October 9 in San Diego, arrived last Thursday evening from the south. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Henry. Mrs. Jacobs will preside at a few informal affairs for Mrs. Henry during her stay here this week.

One of the events of unusual interest was the luncheon Tuesday in the ladies' room at the University club, given by Miss Frances Wilson for Mrs. Antoine Labbe's sister, Mrs. Robert Hyde of Tacoma, who arrived the first of last week to pass about three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Labbe. The table was centered with Richmond buds, and the following guests circled the board: Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Hawley Hoffman, Mrs. Kirkham Smith, Mrs. Victor A. Johnson, Mrs. Kenneth Beebe, Mrs. Labbe, Mrs. Hyde and the hostess.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Taylor Woodward entertained with an elaborate tea at the Norfonia hotel when she received several hundred guests. The luncheon room of the hotel was beautifully decked with autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums and tea was served in the charming tea room adjoining, where decorations were pink, in harmony with the French finish of the room. A cluster of pink rose buds centered the tea tables and the same flowers were arranged in baskets about the room. Mrs. P. J. Mann, Mrs. Reuben Waska and Mrs. Francis Sealy were assisted about the rooms. Those who assisted about the rooms were: Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Mrs. P. L. Willis, Mrs. Otto Breyman, Mrs. Vincent Cook, Mrs. James H. Page, Mrs. C. Lewis Meade, Mrs. Walter Preston and Mrs. E. L. Thompson.

Mrs. C. Whitney Mordes entertained Friday with a prettily appointed luncheon for the pleasure of Miss Ruth Church and Miss Lucile Parker, two popular brides-to-be. A center of white roses with bows of pink tulle made up the attractive decorations of the room. The additional guests were: Carl Wernicke, Miss Genevieve Church, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Fay Nichols and Miss Eliza Parker.

Miss Frances Brady announced her engagement to Arthur Maxwell Mears Thursday afternoon when she entertained 13 of her most intimate friends at luncheon at her beautiful Irvington home. The announcement is of unusual interest as both Miss Brady and Mr. Mears are among the most prominent people of the younger set. Miss Brady is one of the noted beauties among the Portland society girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Brady and sister of William and James Brady. Mr. Mears is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Mears and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Henry E. Jones, an old and prominent Portland family. He is a Cornell man and a member of the leading clubs of the city.

The date has not been set, but the wedding will be an event of this winter. The luncheon table was attractively set with Madame Aaron Ward roses and Miss Brady's guests included Miss Harriet Kern, Miss Katherine Graham, Miss Irene Daly, Miss Katherine Whitmer, Mrs. Walter Geary (Dehlla Hahn), Mrs. Wilson Clark, Miss Sarah Patrick, Miss Gretchen Klosterman, Miss Haldrup Humason, Miss Helen McCusker and Mrs. Mark Hayes.

Miss Fay Nichols was a charming hostess Monday afternoon when she received a number of the younger set at an informal tea for the pleasure of Miss Ruth Church, fiancée of Kenneth Robertson, and Miss Lucile Parker who is to be wed Eugene Moreneau. About 35 guests called during the afternoon. Autumn leaves and garden flowers formed the attractive decorations of the room, and on the tea table a lovely grouping of bright hued fruit formed the center. Presiding at the banquet were Miss Elizabeth Parker and Mrs. Preston Smith. The tea was cut by Miss Nan Robertson and Miss Genevieve Church. Assisting in serving were Miss Irene Robertson, Miss Margaret Bates, and Miss Alice Dabney. Those who assisted the hostess about the receiving rooms were Miss Vida Nichols, Mrs. Wilson Clark, Miss Eliza Parker and Miss Mildred Nichol.

A round of interesting events has marked the advent in Portland of Miss Katherine Enoch of New York who arrived Thursday to pay an extended visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sawyer. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Sawyer gave a theatre party in her honor. Presiding at the banquet were Mrs. Preston Smith, Miss Ruth Church, Miss Genevieve Church, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Lucile Parker and Miss Mary Melburn.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer presided at an informal dinner for her pleasure. In compliment of Miss Parker of Washington, D. C. who is visiting friends at Vancouver Barracks, Miss Violet Erskine entertained Thursday at a charmingly appointed luncheon. Those who enjoyed her hospitality were Miss Parker, Miss Dorothy Huber, Miss Barbara Mackenzie, Miss Polly Young of the army post, Miss Evelyn Carey, Miss Louise Burns, Miss Jan Morrison.

The Portland Heights club will entertain on Friday evening, October 24, for members of the club and their invited guests over the age of 19 years. The patronesses are Mrs. D. J. Malarkoy, Mrs. J. Henry Labbe, Mrs. George Lawrence and Mrs. Coe A. McKenna. Floor committee: C. Henri Labbe, F. P. Hallinan and B. Statter.

Word has been received announcing the engagement of Dr. Gustave Baar to Miss Gretchen Schmettering of Silesia, Silesia. Miss Schmettering is the daughter of Dr. Schmettering, first lawyer on the bench at the capital of Silesia. She is an attractive young woman, with many charming gifts. Dr. Baar will leave this spring for Europe to pass the summer in Carlsbad. His wedding will be an event of the early summer, and he will return here in September with his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Lombard presided at a beautifully appointed dinner dance Monday evening at the Waverly Country club in honor of Mr. Lombard's birthday. The 52 guests were seated at one long table in the spacious dining room of the club, which was set with Venetian bowie linen with blue American beauty buds. Greens and palms about the rooms made an attractive setting for the many handsome gowns worn in the corner of the banquet punch was served during the dancing. The mantle in the drawing room was also banked with the scarlet rosebuds and palms were set about in effective clusters. Those who enjoyed the Lombards' hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Grell, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Owen, Dr. and Mrs. George Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Lund, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Major and Mrs. Adrian Fleming of the Army post; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Bertha M. Gertrude Talbot, Miss Bertha Tongue, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilder, Clarence Sewall, Thales Lithicum, Jordan Zan and Kurt Koehner.

Announcements have been received of the wedding in St. Paul, Minn., of Miss Lorena Prudhomme to Lewis Yarn Woodward, which took place Thursday, October 9. Miss Prudhomme is the daughter of Mrs. J. B. Prudhomme. She is an attractive girl with many friends here, where she has made her home for a number of years. St. Paul, however, her home city and Mrs. Prudhomme and her daughter left here for an extended visit there with relatives in early part of spring.

Mrs. Ernest A. Sterling of Philadelphia, who with her husband is the house guest of Mrs. Ralph C. Walker, was the guest of a charming afternoon at cards Wednesday when Mrs. Walker entertained at her home in Irvington with four tables at bridge, followed by an informal tea. Card honors fell to Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. Samuel Lockwood with Mrs. George Pursh winning the consolation prize. The rooms were attractively arranged, autumn leaves and lavender chrysanthemums being used in the drawing room and yellow chrysanthemums in the main parlor. In the dining room, pink Killarney buds with maiden hair fern were effectively arranged.

Many affairs have been given for Mr. and Mrs. Sterling and a number of affairs have had to be cancelled on account of their unexpected departure Thursday evening when they left for home via the south. Mrs. Sterling is a charming and attractive woman and has made many friends here during her brief visit.

Mrs. Walker was assisted in receiving yesterday by Mrs. Frank Richert and Mrs. Alva D. Walker. In the dining room Miss Beth Ludlum and Miss Henrietta Hoppper assisted in serving. About 30 guests called for the following card game. A feature of the tea hour was the singing by Mrs. Elfrida Heller Weinstein and Mrs. Herman Bohlman of a number of Mrs. Walker's original compositions. They were songs of unusual beauty with the charming individuality of the composer. Mrs. Weinstein sang "The Arab Love Song" and "Life's Wooing" and Mrs. Bohlman's numbers were "You," "In Reflection" and "Competition."

Among the recent affairs given for Mr. and Mrs. Sterling was the card lively covers in their honor, and it was followed by a bride's party of three stars presided.

Mr. J. D. Farrell was an informal dinner host last Friday evening when he entertained in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiler (Elizabeth Glass). Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Coe A. McKenna (Lillian O'Brien).

Miss Mary Barlow and Jasper Wilkins, whose marriage will take place October 25, were the honorees at an evening party last Saturday when Mr. Wilkins' sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Moore, entertained at cards and music. Highest honors were held by Mrs. Doris Heller and G. J. Anderson. Mr. Wilkins will take his bride on an extended wedding trip to the orient and Honolulu.

One of the smart affairs of the week was the Shrine ball Thursday evening. The patronesses were Mrs. D. O. Tomassini, Mrs. Harvey Beckwith, Mrs. George W. Stapleton, Mrs. William E. A woman of more than passing interest to scores of Portland people was entertained Wednesday evening in Salem when Miss Lueen Woodland became bride of Chester Moore in the presence of about 100 relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father, J. C. Woodland, clerk of the supreme court.

The bride was escorted to the improvised floral altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. The maid of honor was Miss Alva Moore, a cousin of the bridegroom, and the best man was Merrill Moore. The bride wore a lovely gown of deep blue, trimmed with white satin, and carried a shower bouquet. The bride was handsomely decorated with cut flowers, trailing vines and nosegays of palms. Following the ceremony congratulations and good wishes were offered and a supper was served. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Moore came to Portland en route to California, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside at 718 East Fifteenth street.

Mr. Moore is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity. He is one of the most charming and able young men in the city. His bride, Miss Woodland, is one of the most charming and able young women in the city. Their marriage is the result of a long and happy courtship.

An interesting engagement was announced Tuesday afternoon when Charles E. Fields and his daughter, Miss Willis Fields, received their many friends for the pleasure of two most charming young people, Miss Fields (Alice Wehring) and Mrs. Fred Ellis Gullek, nee Blumser, at the same time announcing Miss Fields' engagement to James Welsh of Spokane. Many intimate friends of Miss Fields knew of the engagement but the formal announcement with the wedding date for November 25, came as a great surprise. Miss Fields, whose picture is reproduced on this page, is an attractive brunette with an interesting personality. (Continued on Following Page.)
