R. B. Wolcott, Alexander G. Riddell, D. H. Rand and Frank A. Freeman.

Tuesday morning the wedding of Miss Mary Monks and Frank S. Healy was solemnized at St. Patrick's church by Rev. Father Murphy, pastor of the church. The ceremony was read at 11 o'clock and a nuptial mass followed. Rev. Fathers Gibney and Sturtevant assisted on the altar. The latter is a veteran priest of the city, now past four score years. He officiated at the christening of the bride, at which time he was considered an old man.

The church with its high altars of white was most effectively decorated in autumn leaves and groups of palms arranged about the sanctuary. Mrs. Joseph Donnerberg (Miss Ruth Maginnis) played the wedding march assisted by Miss Eveline Calbreath on the violin. The bridal party took their places with Miss Anne Healy, a sister of the groom, and Miss Theresa Jennings of Spokane, bridesmaids, leading. They wore beautifully gowned in pink crepe de chine combined with a brocade and elaborated with handsome lace trimmings. They wore becoming hats in the shade of pink as their gowns and carried great arms full of the light pink Killarney buds and maiden hair fern.

Mrs. J. C. Costello (Margaret Monks) was the maid of honor. She made a distinguished figure in her gown of pink crepe de chine and chiffon with a tulle drape of pink chiffon embroidered in gold brocade pattern. She wore a picture hat of pink to match and carried a shower bouquet of the same pink rose buds as the bridesmaids.

Little Mildred Seufert, a cousin of the groom, preceded the bride and she was a dainty little picture in her frock of pink crepe de chine and white lace, carrying her basket of Cecil Brunner roses.

The bride came in on the arm of her father, James Monks. She was a strikingly pretty bride, her blonde beauty combined with the white of her wedding gown, being most effective. Her gown was ivory white, charmesse made simply with a drape of brocade in panner effect and trimmings of rose point lace. Her long tulle veil was caught with lilacs of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilacs of the valley. Mr. Healy and his brother, William Healy, who was his best man, met her at the altar rail.

During the mass a charming musical program was rendered by Miss Eveline Calbreath, violinist; Mrs. A. F. Petzel, contralto; Victor Cullin, baritone, and Miss Mona Lawler, soprano. Mrs. Joseph Donnerberg, organist. Miss Helen Calbreath accompanied on the organ.

Over 200 guests thronged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monks at the reception following the ceremony from 12 to 1 o'clock. Here again the autumn leaves of vine, maple and Virginia creeper were used to decorate the reception rooms and the dining table was beautifully set with pink rose buds and asparagus ferns. Presiding at the table were Mrs. T. A. Jennings and Miss Clara Wiley. Miss Helen Calbreath, Miss Effie Johnson, Miss Agnes Corcoran, Miss Eveline Calbreath and Miss Helen Calbreath assisted in serving.

Miss Harensteker cut the ring and Miss Helen Calbreath caught the bride's bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Monks and the ushers at the church received with the bridal party. The ushers included Joseph M. Healy, Albert McMillan, J. C. Costello, and Robert Seufert.

Mrs. Monks was attired in a handsome gown of black satin trimmed with black silk mantle lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Healy will be at home at their new residence in Laurelhurst after November 1.

A number of Delta Gamma alumnae left Friday for Eugene, where Alpha Delta chapter of the Delta Gamma was installed Friday evening.

The charter was granted, just before the college year opened, to Lambda Rho, a local sorority, which has been in existence for about four years. About 30 girls are to be initiated.

As Delta Gamma's, the former Lambda Rho will be members of one of the oldest and strongest national sororities. It was organized at 172 at the school which later became the University of Mississippi, and now has about 25 chapters. One at Oregon forms the last link in the chain of chapters in the coast universities.

Among the Portland women who attended the installation were Mrs. Ben Day, Miss Alta Hayward, Miss Pearl Cady, Miss Agnes Beach, Miss Agnes Murdoch, Miss Edith Cleary, Miss Louise Boyd, Mrs. R. A. Litter and Miss Louise Braca.

Miss Gladys Orter of the Seattle chapter assisted in installing the new chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nash of Minneapolis left Friday morning for their home via the Canadian Pacific after a three weeks' visit in Portland with Mrs. Nash's sister, Mrs. Frank W. Swanton. Their visit has been the occasion of many charming affairs. Sunday the party of eight automobiles including 26 guests had dinner at Chanticleer and country home of Mrs. Wm. S. Kinney and Mrs. Alfred Earl Kinney have come to Portland to live for the winter and are domiciled in apartments at the Parkhurst on Twentieth and Northrup streets.

Madame Schumann-Heink, who will sing at the Heilig Theatre the evening of Friday, October 24, speaks of the Steinway:

"Steinway pianos are living beings, with hearts and souls. Not only do they inspire the world by their glorious tone, but they share the artist's pleasure and sorrows. How often did I find solace and renewed courage in troubled hours in the heavenly harmonies of my Steinway piano. May it flourish and prosper, an everlasting joy to all feeling mankind."

The Steinway is universally acknowledged as the standard by which all Pianos are judged. We sell Steinways on convenient payment terms.
