

WRS. FISKE "APPEARS" AT PEOPLE'S THEATRE

ORCHESTRA'S RAISED WITHIN SPECIFIED TIME
Guy W. Talbot Highly Pleased With Generous Response From Public.
The just dollar necessary to assure the maintenance of the Portland Symphony orchestra for this season has been subscribed and the full $3000 fund completed. In fact, the fund is $30 over the amount called for, and Chairman Guy W. Talbot of the Ad club campaign committee said more money could have been raised had it been needed. "I am highly pleased with the response which met our efforts," said Mr. Talbot today. "We completed the fund from the point where Mr. Wheelwright and his friends left off, in just 10 days."

"I am sorry, however, that more people did not come in, but was particularly anxious to secure donations of small sums from citizens in all walks of life. One thing that pleases me particularly is the fact that the completion of the fund means that the children of our schools will be given opportunity to hear really excellent music, and it will cost them nothing, as the management of the orchestra has promised free concerts for the young people of the city." "The generous manner in which the men and women of Portland subscribed is vivid proof of the fact that good music is really appreciated and desired in Portland."

Public Dock Workmen Get Eight Hour Day
(Steam Bureau of The Journal).
Salem, Or., Oct. 20.—Following demands made by State Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff, the North Coast contracting company, which has the subcontract for the excavation on the public dock being constructed in Portland, has agreed to observe an eight-hour day beginning today. The company has been working its men 10 hours on the ground that an emergency exists. Commissioner Hoff stated today that he investigated and found there was no emergency as contemplated under the eight-hour law. He said the company was paying its men 35 cents an hour for eight hours and 50 cents for the extra two hours making an average of 30 cents an hour. The regular wages paid men employed at such labor on an eight-hour day basis was 30 cents an hour. He declared this was an evasion of the law. The company agreed with the commission that the regular wages be paid men employed at such labor on an eight-hour basis for eight hours.

Examination Shows Concussion of Brain
William E. Green suffered a slight concussion of the brain as a result of an accident near Brownsville Wednesday of last week. This was ascertained yesterday when Dr. H. M. Patton gave him a thorough examination. Mr. Green returned late Saturday night from Grants Pass and went to his home from the street in the city of Grants Pass, Oregon, without assistance. His physician advised him, however, to remain quiet and in bed for several days, so that complications may be prevented. While Mr. Green does not remember what happened after the buggy in which he was riding overturned, the physician in reaching the railroad and boarding the train. As a result of the nervous shock, his gray hair has turned considerably whiter, so his daughter said today.

Rogue River Claims One More Victim
Grants Pass, Or., Oct. 20.—Harold Schilling, 11-year-old son of William Schilling, merchant, was drowned in the Rogue river while fishing just before noon today. He was washed from his feet in a rapid into the deep pool at the white rocks and his body has not yet been recovered. Cecil Wittorff, aged 14, attempted to rescue his companion, getting him nearly to shore before Wittorff was nearly drowned but was resuscitated. The Schilling family recently came here from Long Beach, Cal.

Judge McGinn Opens Court in New Room
Circuit Judge McGinn this morning attended the funeral of John Gray and did not appear at the courthouse as he had nothing scheduled for the morning. This afternoon when he appeared to open court he found a bare room where he had held court. During his absence and without his knowledge the moving of his court to the new rooms at the northeast corner of the fifth floor was accomplished. Cloth decorations have been fitted into the depressions of the ceiling. Men have solved the problem of poor acoustics as an ordinary sound in the new room carries to any part of the room. The reverberations which formerly made the court a noisy place, difficult to understand have been entirely eliminated. The scheme may be tried in other courtrooms. The decorations are handsome in white and brown and harmonize with the other decorations.

FINLEY IS WATCHING DUCK HUNTERS' CLUBS
State Game Warden William L. Finley was on Sauvie island all day yesterday watching duck hunters, and he found, or rather heard, a number of instances of violating the new federal migratory game bird act, in regard to shooting within the hour after sunrise. Under the "sunrise" table, shooters on the premises of several of the prominent Sauvie island clubs were out in some instances 40 minutes too early. The shooting hour yesterday was 6:33. The names of the clubs where this shooting took place were secured and they will be watched next week, in case the violation is repeated. Finley will hale the gunners into federal court.

YEGGMEN BLOW SAFE BUT REWARD IS SMALL
Yeggmenn blew the safe in the Oregon Electric Railway station at Tigard, some time before daylight today, but secured only about $2 for their trouble, according to reports received at the office of Superintendent A. J. Davidson this morning. The robbery was not discovered until the agent unlocked his office. A number of tickets also were stolen, but the extent of this loss has not been checked up.

NO LEAVE GRANTED TO TROOPS ON ATLANTIC
Newport, R. I., Oct. 20.—A "no leave" order was received at Fort Adams and other army posts in Rhode Island today. This was accepted as meaning that troops were to be kept in readiness to leave for the Mexican border, should conditions there worsen.

CITY TAKING ACTION FOR UNITED FRONT IN ATTACKS ON DISEASE

Closer Cooperation Between City, County and State Health Officers Sought.
Before the budget estimate of the city health bureau for 1914 is finally adopted an attempt will be made to hold a conference between State Health Officer White, Dairy and Food Commissioner Minkie, the county officials, the members of the budget committee, and Health Officer Marcellus with a view to seeking closer cooperation in disease prevention. This action was decided upon by the budget committee meeting this morning.

State Health Officer White was criticized by Dr. Marcellus, as were the county officials. Dr. Marcellus stated that when a typhoid epidemic threatened recently as a result of the usage of water at Whitewood Court on the Linnerton road, outside of the city limits, his department had tests made of the water and did everything possible to stamp out the disease, but the county officials who really should have had charge did nothing until he had called to their attention a number of times.

The committee already has clipped more than $45,000 from the large estimate prepared for the health bureau, and this morning more than $5000 was pruned and the committee has yet a number of items to go over. Of the items taken up this morning many were for supplies and material, others were for salaries.

The largest single amount asked for was $4000 to pay hospital bills of those having contagious diseases and emergency cases. On account of the emergency hospital bills for the health bureau, it is ready for use, the committee allowed only $2500. Three automobiles to be used by milk and sanitary inspectors have been asked for but only two were allowed.

The committee this afternoon expects to finish the estimates of the health bureau so that the budget can be put into tentative shape for final revision. It is probable that the committee will clip several thousands of dollars more before finished.

ASK THAT BIBLE BE READ IN THE SCHOOLS
Members of the Reformed Presbyterian church yesterday morning adopted resolutions urging the school board to consider the recent action barring the Bible from the schools.

Among the reasons assigned why the Bible should be retained is that it is not a sectarian book and the reading of it without comment is not sectarian instruction. The action of other states in demanding that the Bible be read was pointed out.

The value of the Bible as an educational factor was also pointed out, it being claimed that the influence is for the better and in no way could it be reading without comment be objectionable. The resolutions were signed by Rev. Frank D. Fraser, Edward McBurney and Elizabeth Knight in behalf of the congregation.

PORTLAND JAPANESE TO CELEBRATE NATAL DAY OF THE EMPEROR

To celebrate the 44th birthday of Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, M. Ito, local Japanese consul, has planned a high reception and dance at the Multnomah Friday evening, October 31, and is sending approximately 500 invitations directed to the prominent citizens of Portland.

Included among those who will receive invitations are the judges of the United States courts, federal, state, county and city officials, and the officers and members of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial club. The invitations also request the presence of their ladies.

"Due to the fact that it was the United States which brought Japan into touch with the wonderful west, I deem it proper that I should celebrate the emperor's birthday by the attendance of citizens of this country at a reception as my guests," said Mr. Ito. "America has since the opening of Japan to the world been very kind to us, and has assisted Japan out of hard situations. In Japan the whole people, from the old to the young children even, in the most remote districts, feel a sense of gratitude toward the United States for the good works this nation has performed. We realize how truly friendly America has been and the reception I am planning is simply a concrete evidence of the gratitude which Japan owes the United States."

Emperor Yoshihito was born in 1879 and is said to be the most democratic ruler the country has known for some time. A seeker of simplicity he apparently makes it a practice to disregard or transcend the traditional barrier that has in various past separated the court from the people since the first emperor ascended the throne.

Many little stories showing these characteristics are told concerning him, ranging from his daily practice of assisting the poor to his own custom of going to a time when he, traveling in disguise, happened to bump into a Japanese coolie while riding a bicycle, and was found by his attendants apologizing to the angry laborer.

BRYAN KEEPS SILENT ABOUT WILSON LETTER

Criticism of Former Ambassador to Mexico Unanswered by Officials.

(United Press Special Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan will make no reply to criticisms recently voiced in Spokane by former Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson of the administration's attitude toward Mexico. Secretary Bryan intimated that Wilson was discredited, and that no official notice would be taken of any of the former ambassador's "revelations."

The president and Bryan condemned this afternoon over the Mexican situation. Wilson at Spokane yesterday made public his letter to Bryan tendering his resignation and explaining his course in Mexico. In it he criticized Bryan's foreign policy as a "spirit of hazardous adventure" and claimed he (Wilson) was actuated only by unselfish motives in his attitude toward Huerta and Madero.
