strate Rag Dances at Auto Club; Leave for Home.

There is a rule of the Automobile club ouse forbidding dancing on Sunday. y unanimous consent the rule was roken yesterday evening when the rtola girls of San Francisco arrived at the picturesque resort on the Sandy river. For the entertainment of the city's guests a throng of Portlanders accompanied them in a preliminary our of the city and a swift run to the club and dinner, but the belies of the Bay City took matters largely into their own hands and furnished entertainment for the evening. First came a demonstration of the "Portola prance" which the Portlanders voted the best yet. Then came the re-viving of such steps as the fish glide, the angleworm, the bunny hug, the grizzly bear, the tango and last, but not least, San Francisco's own particular contribution to rag time steps-the turkey trot. Ban On Bagging Lifted. Mayor Albee had intimated that his ban on ragging might be lifted for the pleasure of the Portola girls. He had predicted dire results for any over-conscientious officer who might inter-fere with San Francisco affervescence during the stay of the young women in Portland. But it remained for the Por-tola girls themselves to wait until the city's boundaries were several miles away before demure docility under Portland rules and regulations was forrotten. The young women voted the day even more perfect, with its sunshine, clear air and landscape brilliant with autumn air and landscape brillant with autumn tinted leaves, than one of golden Cali-fornia's best. They enjoyed the auto-mobile drive about the city and through the beautiful country between Portland and the club. At the dinner addresses were made by W. J. Clemens, president of the Auto club; Frank M. Cummings, manager of the Portola girls' excursion; Frank E. Watkins, Robert Krohn, chairnan of the Royal Rosarians' committee on arrangements, and W. P. Strandborg and Miss Krause of the Portola girls. Portlanders present at the dinner last night were as follows:
