The same old story.

"Here we have the same old story."

By one who is interested in the opening of Oak street. "Property, when reulred by the public for public purposes, uddenly becomes very valuable—in this see it increases as much as $3 1-3 per int in one year—but when the same roperty is called upon to contribute a share of taxes for the purposes of overnment, it has not increased a dolir in value, is worth no more than hen the assessor was around last year
"It may be well to call attention to a fact that if the Klosterman lots are ore valuable now than last year, it because of the opening of Oak street gift up to them. In other words, their icreased value is due to the expension
are of a large sum of money in a

SEARCH FOR MISSING BOY IS UNAVAILING

Robert W. Dill.

Young Robert W. Dill, who disap-peared from his home $05 Jefferson street, Saturday last, is still missing. Search by the local authorities and the boy's relatives has thus far proved unavailing. Robert is 11 years old and has been a pupil of the fourth grade at the Ladd school. He left his home Saturday morning to go swimming at the Y. M. C. A. and has not been heard Investigations at the Ladd school indicate that the boy is in the company of an older pupil of the school. Mrs. Dill believes that her son, if a runaway, would make toward Spokane, whence the family came to Portland.

The boy is said to be a good student and of a homeloving disposition.
His relatives are at a loss to understand why he should leave home un-less influenced by someone older than himself.
The missing lad's description follows:

The woman was considerably excited when the bill collector explained his business. The court held that Mc-Pherson had trespassed upon the attorney's office, but did not impose a fine.

DIDN'T KNOW MATE HAD TWO CORK LEGS

Miss Eva Zelmer did not know P. D. Chamberiain had lost both legs when she married him. This is one of the reasons given by the young woman for readily consenting to appear as a witness against the man, who is charged with bigamy. In addition to the Portland wife he has a wife and child in Portland, Maine.

It appears Chamberlain told Miss Zelmar he had one cork leg, but did not say anything about the other. When she learned that both legs were cork, the first quarrel occurred. However, this, matter was passed over, until Sun-

FOUR JOYRIDERS SHOW NO CONSIDERATION FOR VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT

Four, joyriders on the Linnton road ran away from the over turned auto of W. R. Sawyer and V. J. Flebiger yesterday evening, leaving the two injured men to get along the best way possible. Sawyer and Flebiger were going west, while the joyriders were Portland-bound. The latter did not give any road, thereby forcing the Sawyer auto into the ditch. The machine turned turtle, pinning the two men underneath. There were two men and two women in the other automobile.
