Today's Produce Trade. Egg market firm. Chicken prices stationary. Butter market steady. Potatoes very quiet. Onions prices down. Better apple demand. Veal continue weak. Excellent call for hogs. Ham and bacon lower. Wheat best is lower.

There is a better feeling all through the apple trade in the Portland market. The trade is rather tired of grapes. Demand for winter fruit, therefore is turning its attention more to the later stuff. Better quality of apples now coming forward, but the cheaper varieties and grades are in greatest abundance.

Interest in the spitzenberg apple is awakening. Chicago and the eastern markets are looking to large for supplies and some sales have been made. The Northwestern Fruit exchange reports a sale of a carload of extra fancy spitzenbergs at $1 a box, and there are indications that before the day's business is concluded several more cars will be sold to New York and other eastern points.
